Notifications by the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

No. G. 8139—G. M. 12-06-68, DATED 27TH JUNE 1907.

ORDER.—With a view to equalise, as far as possible, the pay and prospects of officers admitted to the Mysore Civil Service by competition and of those admitted by special selection, His Highness the Maharaja has been pleased to amend the Rules issued under Government Order No. 8964—Fl., dated the 28th June 1906, which as amended will stand as follows:—

I. The following officers shall constitute the Mysore Civil Service:—

Assistant Commissioners of the new A and B Schedules, including all officers of that grade working in the Revenue, Excise, Police, Survey, Judicial and Account Departments and in the General and Revenue Secretariat; Deputy Commissioners; District Judges; Deputy Secretary*; and General and Revenue Secretary.

* This appointment will not be filled up as long as the separate appointment of Muzrai Secretary is maintained.

II. All future admissions to the Mysore Civil Service shall be only in one of two ways, viz.:—

(1) into the A Schedule, by success at a competitive examination of candidates approved by His Highness the Maharaja; and

(2) into the B Schedule, by special selection made by His Highness the Maharaja,—

(a) from members of the lower ranks of the Mysore public service, who have rendered meritorious service and have shown themselves fit in every way for holding higher appointments, and who have also qualified themselves by passing the prescribed examinations,

(b) or on family or other considerations of fitness.

III. A competitive examination for admission to the Civil Service shall be held in the year 1908, and once every two years thereafter; provided that in consideration of the fact that no such examinations were held during the five years previous to 1906 two additional examinations shall be held one in 1907 and the other in 1909. The subjects for examination, the dates on which and the manner in which it is to be held, and the proportion of marks red for passing, shall be duly notified at least three months before the examination. Both in point of severity of the tests applied, and range of subjects, the competitive examination shall be similar to that adopted for the Provincial Civil Service in British India.

IV. Candidates for the competitive examination must not be over twenty-five years of age on the date of examination, and must have graduated in Arts in an Indian or other University: provided that, if a candidate is not a native of or domiciled in Mysore, he must be a graduate of either the Madras or the Bombay University.

V. Candidates who fulfil these conditions, and who are desirous of competing, shall send in their names, with evidence of age and qualifications, and information as to their place of birth, caste, family, occupation and social status, and also with certificates of character and conduct, to the General and Revenue Secretary to Government, not later than a date to be fixed. From these candidates selection will be made by His Highness the Maharaja, and the names of those selected shall be notified in the official Gazette. Within a month of such notification, the selected candidates shall present themselves before a Medical Board at a place and on a date to be notified by Government. It shall be an instruction to this Board to reject all candidates not possessed of a good physique and constitution, and not especially fitted for the active duties of an executive officer. The candidates passed by the Board shall then be eligible for the examination.

VI. Two candidates shall be selected from the top of the list of candidates who have passed a satisfactory examination, and admitted on probation to the grade of Assistant Commissioner, 5th class, Schedule A.

VII. Persons admitted into the Mysore Civil Service by competition as above will draw pay at Rs. 200 a month during the period of probation, which shall be for a term of two years. During that period they shall pass—

1stly, an examination in equitation;

2ndly, a departmental service examination according to rules in force for the time being;

3rdly, such of them as have not taken Kanarese as their optional language in the B.A. Degree Examination, the prescribed standard in that language.

A probationer failing to pass by the end of the two years of probation will be allowed a further year's grace. Failing to pass in the third year, his name will be removed from the list of Assistant Commissioners.

VIII. On becoming fully qualified as above, a Probationary Assistant Commissioner will be confirmed as an Assistant Commissioner of the 5th class on Rs. 250, in Schedule A, and afterwards rise according to the scale given below in that Schedule:—

To Assistant Commissioner, 4th class, on Rs. 300.	After one year's approved service in the 5th class in addition to the period of probation.
To Assistant Commissioner, 3rd class, on Rs. 350.	After three years' approved service in the 4th class.
To Assistant Commissioner, 2nd class, on Rs. 400.	After three years' approved service in the 3rd class.
To Assistant Commissioner, 1st class, on Rs. 450.	After three years' approved service in the 2nd class.

IX. (1) The grade of Assistant Commissioners of Schedule B shall be recruited, soon after the results of each Civil Service Examination are known, by the special selection of the requisite number of persons, according to vacancies, in the manner described in the second clause of Rule II; provided that ordinarily no person shall be selected on family or other considerations, unless he has passed the B. A. Degree of an Indian or other University.

(2) Nothing in clause (1) of this Rule is intended to prevent temporary promotions to the grade of Assistant Commissioner of Schedule B from subordinate grades, in order to fill existing vacancies; but an officer so promoted shall not, merely by reason of such promotion, be entitled to confirmation when permanent appointments are made under clause (1).

X. Persons admitted into the Mysore Civil Service on family or other considerations of fitness will be appointed on probation to the grade of Assistant Commissioner, 5th class, Schedule B, on a pay of Rs. 200 a month, the period of probation in their case being three years. In other respects the provisions of Rules VII and VIII shall be applicable to such Probationers.

XI. Persons admitted to Schedule B from the subordinate grades of the public service shall not be required to pass through a probationary stage, but shall be appointed as Assistant Commissioners of the 5th class on Rs. 250, and they shall rise from one class to the next higher after three years' approved service; provided that when an officer thus appointed has been already drawing a pay of Rs. 250, the time during which he has been drawing that pay shall count towards the period of three years required for promotion to the 4th class;

provided also that when a Munsiff is appointed as an Assistant Commissioner with a view to his being posted as Subordinate Judge, he shall be appointed an Assistant Commissioner of the 2nd class on Rs. 400.

XII. An Assistant Commissioner of either Schedule who has put in at least two years in the first class of his grade, shall, if found fit, and if vacancies exist, be eligible for promotion to the grade of Senior Assistant Commissioner, carrying a pay of Rs. 500 rising by annual increments of Rs. 50 to Rs. 600. There shall be eight places in all in the last-mentioned grade.

XIII. Every officer recruited by competition or by special selection under the rules shall, unless he has already received such training, be trained for not less than six months in the Survey Department and not less than six months in the Accounts Department; and every officer recruited by competition shall also be trained in the Judicial Department as a Munsiff or a Sub-Judge for not less than one year in the aggregate.

Appointments of Under and Assistant Secretaries in the General and Revenue Secretariat, Divisional and Treasury Officers in the Revenue Department, Subordinate Judges, Police Superintendents, Excise Divisional Officers, Assistant Superintendents of Survey, Assistant Comptrollers and other appointments of equal rank in the said Departments, shall be filled by officers qualified by aptitude and training from the grade of Assistant Commissioners without distinction of Schedules. Such officers will draw the pay proper to the class in which they happen to be, from time to time, plus any special or local allowance attached to the appointment which they fill.

Notifications by the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

GENERAL AND REVENUE.

No. G. 8139—G. M. 12-06-68, DATED 27TH JUNE 1907.

ORDER.—With a view to equalise, as far as possible, the pay and prospects of officers admitted to the Mysore Civil Service by competition and of those admitted by special selection, His Highness the Maharaja has been pleased to amend the Rules issued under Government Order No. 8964—Fl., dated the 28th June 1906, which as amended will stand as follows:—

I. The following officers shall constitute the Mysore Civil Service:—

Assistant Commissioners of the new A and B Schedules, including all officers of that grade working in the Revenue, Excise, Police, Survey, Judicial and Account Departments and in the General and Revenue Secretariat; Deputy Commissioners; District Judges; Deputy Secretary*; and General and Revenue Secretary.

* This appointment will not be filled up as long as the separate appointment of Muzrai Secretary is maintained.

II. All future admissions to the Mysore Civil Service shall be only in one of two ways, viz.:—

(1) into the A Schedule, by success at a competitive examination of candidates approved by His Highness the Maharaja; and

(2) into the B Schedule, by special selection made by His Highness the Maharaja,—

(a) from members of the lower ranks of the Mysore public service, who have rendered meritorious service and have shown themselves fit in every way for holding higher appointments, and who have also qualified themselves by passing the prescribed examinations,

(b) or on family or other considerations of fitness.

III. A competitive examination for admission to the Civil Service shall be held in the year 1908, and once every two years thereafter; provided that in consideration of the fact that no such examinations were held during the five years previous to 1906 two additional examinations shall be held one in 1907 and the other in 1909. The subjects for examination, the dates on which and the manner in which it is to be held, and the proportion of marks required for passing, shall be duly notified at least three months before the examination. Both in point of severity of the tests applied, and range of subjects, the competitive examination shall be similar to that adopted for the Provincial Civil Service in British India.

IV. Candidates for the competitive examination must not be over twenty-five years of age on the date of examination, and must have graduated in Arts in an Indian or other University: provided that, if a candidate is not a native of or domiciled in Mysore, he must be a graduate of either the Madras or the Bombay University.

V. Candidates who fulfil these conditions, and who are desirous of competing, shall send in their names, with evidence of age and qualifications, and information as to their place of birth, caste, family, occupation and social status, and also with certificates of character and conduct, to the General and Revenue Secretary to Government, not later than a date to be fixed. From these candidates selection will be made by His Highness the Maharaja, and the names of those selected shall be notified in the official Gazette. Within a month of such notification, the selected candidates shall present themselves before a Medical Board at a place and on a date to be notified by Government. It shall be an instruction to this Board to reject all candidates not possessed of a good physique and constitution, and not especially fitted for the active duties of an executive officer. The candidates passed by the Board shall then be eligible for the examination.

VI. Two candidates shall be selected from the top of the list of candidates who have passed a satisfactory examination, and admitted on probation to the grade of Assistant Commissioner, 5th class, Schedule A.

VII. Persons admitted into the Mysore Civil Service by competition as above will draw pay at Rs. 200 a month during the period of probation, which shall be for a term of two years. During that period they shall pass—

1stly, an examination in equitation;

2ndly, a departmental service examination according to rules in force for the time being;

3rdly, such of them as have not taken Kanarese as their optional language in the B. A. Degree Examination, the prescribed standard in that language.

A probationer failing to pass by the end of the two years of probation will be allowed a further year's grace. Failing to pass in the third year, his name will be removed from the list of Assistant Commissioners.

VIII. On becoming fully qualified as above, a Probationary Assistant Commissioner will be confirmed as an Assistant Commissioner of the 5th class on Rs. 250, in Schedule A, and afterwards rise according to the scale given below in that Schedule:—

To Assistant Commissioner, 4th class, on Rs. 300.	After one year's approved service in the 5th class in addition to the period of probation.
To Assistant Commissioner, 3rd class, on Rs. 350.	After three years' approved service in the 4th class.
To Assistant Commissioner, 2nd class, on Rs. 400.	After three years' approved service in the 3rd class.
To Assistant Commissioner, 1st class, on Rs. 450.	After three years' approved service in the 2nd class.

IX. (1) The grade of Assistant Commissioners of Schedule B shall be recruited, soon after the results of each Civil Service Examination are known, by the special selection of the requisite number of persons, according to vacancies, in the manner described in the second clause of Rule II; provided that ordinarily no person shall be selected on family or other considerations, unless he has passed the B. A. Degree of an Indian or other University.

(2) Nothing in clause (1) of this Rule is intended to prevent temporary promotions to the grade of Assistant Commissioner of Schedule B from subordinate grades, in order to fill existing vacancies; but an officer so promoted shall not, merely by reason of such promotion, be entitled to confirmation when permanent appointments are made under clause (1).

X. Persons admitted into the Mysore Civil Service on family or other considerations of fitness will be appointed on probation to the grade of Assistant Commissioner, 5th class, Schedule B, on a pay of Rs. 200 a month, the period of probation in their case being three years. In other respects the provisions of Rules VII and VIII shall be applicable to such Probationers.

XI. Persons admitted to Schedule B from the subordinate grades of the public service shall not be required to pass through a probationary stage, but shall be appointed as Assistant Commissioners of the 5th class on Rs. 250, and they shall rise from one class to the next higher after three years' approved service; provided that when an officer thus appointed has been already drawing a pay of Rs. 250 the time during which he has been drawing that pay shall count towards the period of three years required for promotion to the 4th class;

provided also that when a Munsiff is appointed as an Assistant Commissioner with a view to his being posted as Subordinate Judge, he shall be appointed an Assistant Commissioner of the 2nd class on Rs. 400.

XII. An Assistant Commissioner of either Schedule who has put in at least two years in the first class of his grade, shall, if found fit, and if vacancies exist, be eligible for promotion to the grade of Senior Assistant Commissioner, carrying a pay of Rs. 500 rising by annual increments of Rs. 50 to Rs. 600. There shall be eight places in all in the last-mentioned grade.

XIII. Every officer recruited by competition or by special selection under the rules shall, unless he has already received such training, be trained for not less than six months in the Survey Department and not less than six months in the Accounts Department; and every officer recruited by competition shall also be trained in the Judicial Department as a Munsiff or a Sub-Judge for not less than one year in the aggregate.

Appointments of Under and Assistant Secretaries in the General and Revenue Secretariat, Divisional and Treasury Officers in the Revenue Department, Subordinate Judges, Police Superintendents, Excise Divisional Officers, Assistant Superintendents of Survey, Assistant Comptrollers and other appointments of equal rank in the said Departments, shall be filled by officers qualified by aptitude and training from the grade of Assistant Commissioners without distinction of Schedules. Such officers will draw the pay proper to the class in which they happen to be, from time to time, plus any special or local allowance attached to the appointment which they fill.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

TREASURY ACCOUNT.

ANNUAL RETURNS OF ESTABLISHMENTS FOR 1ST JULY 1907.

Circular No. T. A. 2093—43, dated 6th July 1907.

1. The Comptroller has the honor to request that the Public Officers named below will be so good as to furnish this office with their Annual Returns of fixed establishments for the 1st July 1907, prepared in accordance with the instructions laid down in pages 26, 27 and 28 (Chapter 5), Volume 1 of the Seventh Edition of the Civil Account Code, so as to reach this office not later than the 15th August 1906.

2. The returns should be prepared on no other than the prescribed printed form to be had from the Superintendent of Stationery, and will show accurately the establishment as it exists on 1st July; and in preparing it, the following instructions should be carefully attended to :—

(a) The name, designation and pay of every gazetted officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent appointment, whether on duty or absent on leave, or deputation, or under suspension, should be distinctly shown, with the exception of those exempted from keeping service books by Article 431 of the Mysore Service Regulations.

(b) The date of birth, year, month and day of the appointment and of appointment to present post, and of promotion to present pay of each person, as well as the number and date of the Government Orders creating the post, should be clearly entered in the appropriate columns of the statement, the exact date of birth by Christian era should be given as directed in Government Order No. Fl. 8225-67—S. A. 715-06, dated 2nd May 1907, and this office Circular No. 6402-70—A. C. 1036, dated 8—15th May 1907. This date can only be altered under the orders of the Local Government, except in the case of a clerical error. It should be noted that the column, "Promotion to present pay" is to be filled in, only when the pay is progressive and the incumbent of the appointment is drawing pay in excess of the minimum.

(c) The return should show accurately the sanctioned scale of permanent establishment, and so will include every post, whether filled up or not; and if a post be vacant, the word vacant should be set against it in the column of "Name of Incumbent."

(d) The names of gazetted officers should be entered first, and beneath them those of the clerks and servants in order of sections of the establishment: there should be a separate total for each section, besides the grand total.

(e) The columns of Minimum and Maximum pay of post should be filled up only when the pay is progressive, i. e., rises from a minimum to a maximum by annual increment; and if any annual increment is given with effect from 1st July, it should be included in the return, and compared with the certificate (in Form No. 8) required by Article 62, which would accompany the July bill.

(f) The name of any person acting in an appointment, as well as the acting allowance paid to him, should be shown in the column "Name of Incumbent" beneath the name of the absentee for whom he is officiating.

(g) If the acting incumbent holds his permanent appointment upon another establishment, the fact should be stated, and the entry should be supported by a certificate from the head of that other establishment.

(h) If any person on the establishment has attained the age of fifty-five years, the number and date of the orders of Government or other competent authority permitting his retention in the service, should be quoted in a note at foot of the return, and the period for which his retention has been authorized should also be mentioned. If no orders have been received, the number and date of the application for sanction to his retention should be noted.

(i) A detailed statement in Form 4 should be given at back of the original return Form 3, showing new names of non-gazetted officers which are not found in the return of the previous year; and when these new names include those of persons who have entered Government service for the first time, a reference should be given to the bill with which their age and health certificates were furnished; and if they include the names of persons transferred from another appointment, those appointments should be specified, as well as the date from which the transfers have effect. Columns are also provided in Form 4 for information required in regard to the names of non-gazetted officers which appeared in Form No. 3 of the previous year, but are now omitted, as also regarding non-gazetted officers who have been on leave other than privilege or casual, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension (Article 269 of the Mysore Service Regulations).

(j) Separate returns on the same printed forms should be prepared for each permanent establishment existing on 1st July paid from Local Funds, and not more than one establishment should be exhibited on a single page. When the pay of any establishment or of any individual officer is met partly from General Revenues and partly from Local or other funds, the whole pay should be shown in one statement, and the portion payable from each source specified in a foot-note.

3. When completed in accordance with the above instructions, the detailed statement should be carefully checked with the service books, save in the cases excepted in clause (a) as it will be the chief authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested. A certificate of this comparison should be endorsed on the return thus: "Compared with service books and found to agree."

4. This return should be accompanied by an abstract, which will link together the gross numbers shown in the budget estimate of each establishment and the nominal rolls in the book of establishment.

5. Slips of paper should not be attached at foot of the returns, but if space is found insufficient, application should be made to the Stationery Department for a sufficient supply of forms for insertion in book form. In cases where more than one sheet is required to be used, care should be taken to have the sheets stitched in book form before the entries are made therein.

TREASURY ACCOUNT.

ANNUAL RETURNS OF ESTABLISHMENTS FOR 1ST JULY 1907.

Circular No. T. A. 2093—43, dated 6th July 1907.

1. The Comptroller has the honor to request that the Public Officers named below will be so good as to furnish this office with their Annual Returns of fixed establishments for the 1st July 1907, prepared in accordance with the instructions laid down in pages 26, 27 and 28 (Chapter 5), Volume I of the Seventh Edition of the Civil Account Code, so as to reach this office not later than the 15*th August* 1907.

2. The returns should be prepared on no other than the prescribed printed form to be had from the Superintendent of Stationery, and will show accurately the establishment as it exists on 1st July; and in preparing it, the following instructions should be carefully attended to:—

(a) The name, designation and pay of every gazetted officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent appointment, whether on duty or absent on leave, or deputation, or under suspension, should be distinctly shown, with the exception of those exempted from keeping service books by Article 431 of the Mysore Service Regulations.

(b) The date of birth, year, month and day of the appointment and of appointment to present post, and of promotion to present pay of each person, as well as the number and date of the Government Order creating the post, should be clearly entered in the appropriate columns of the statement, the exact date of birth by Christian era should be given as directed in Government Order No. Fl. 8225-67—S. A. 715-06, dated 2nd May 1907, and this office Circular No. 6402-70—A. C. 1036 dated 8—15th May 1907. This date can only be altered under the orders of the Local Government, except in the case of a clerical error. It should be noted that the column, "Promotion to present pay" is to be filled in, only when the pay is progressive and the incumbent of the appointment is drawing pay in excess of the minimum.

(c) The return should show accurately the sanctioned scale of permanent establishment, and so will include every post, whether filled up or not; and if a post be vacant, the word vacant should be set against it in the column of "Name of Incumbent."

(d) The names of gazetted officers should be entered first, and beneath them those of the clerks and servants in order of sections of the establishment: there should be a separate total for each section, besides the grand total.

(e) The columns of Minimum and Maximum pay of post should be filled up only when the pay is progressive, i. e., rises from a minimum to a maximum by annual increment; and if any annual increment is given with effect from 1st July, it should be included in the return, and compared with the certificate (in Form No. 8) required by Article 62, which would accompany the July bill.

(f) The name of any person acting in an appointment, as well as the acting allowance paid to him, should be shown in the column "Name of Incumbent" beneath the name of the absentee for whom he is officiating.

(g) If the acting incumbent holds his permanent appointment upon another establishment, the fact should be stated, and the entry should be supported by a certificate from the head of that other establishment.

(h) If any person on the establishment has attained the age of fifty-five years, the number and date of the orders of Government or other competent authority permitting his retention in the service, should be quoted in a note at foot of the return, and the period for which his retention has been authorized should also be mentioned. If no orders have been received, the number and date of the application for sanction to his retention should be noted.

(i) A detailed statement in Form 4 should be given at back of the original return Form 3, showing new names of non-gazetted officers which are not found in the return of the previous year; and when these new names include those of persons who have entered Government service for the first time, a reference should be given to the bill with which their age and health certificates were furnished; and if they include the names of persons transferred from another appointment, those appointments should be specified, as well as the date from which the transfers have effect. Columns are also provided in Form 4 for information required in regard to the names of non-gazetted officers which appeared in Form No. 3 of the previous year, but are now omitted, as also regarding non-gazetted officers who have been on leave other than privilege or casual, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension (Article 269 of the Mysore Service Regulations).

(j) Separate returns on the same printed forms should be prepared for each permanent establishment existing on 1st July paid from Local Funds, and not more than one establishment should be exhibited on a single page. When the pay of any establishment or of any individual officer is met partly from General Revenues and partly from Local or other funds, the whole pay should be shown in one statement, and the portion payable from each source specified in a foot-note.

3. When completed in accordance with the above instructions, the detailed statement should be carefully checked with the service books, save in the cases excepted in clause (a), as it will be the chief authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested. A certificate of this comparison should be endorsed on the return thus: "Compared with service books and found to agree."

4. This return should be accompanied by an abstract, which will link together the gross numbers shown in the budget estimate of each establishment and the nominal rolls in the book of establishment.

5. Slips of paper should not be attached at foot of the returns, but if space is found insufficient, application should be made to the Stationery Department for a sufficient supply of forms for insertion in book form. In cases where more than one sheet is required to be used, care should be taken to have the sheets stitched in book-form before the entries are made therein.

NOTICE.

No. 1.—The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Application for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be addressed to the Secretary to the Government of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments. Postage is not charged for places within the Mysore Province. All subscriptions and advertisement charges are payable in advance.

No. 2.—It is hereby notified that, as Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts, and other private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders will be received by the undersigned except from outside the Province.

No. 3.—Much inconvenience is caused in this office by subscribers not giving their full and correct addresses, and writing illegibly on the money order coupons, which are unfit for record.

No. 4.—Communications on post-cards or on paper less than half a sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention.

No. 5.—An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatching of Gazette copies forwarded through post. No responsibility will be accepted when copies miscarry, or are not delivered to addressees, and such losses will not be replaced by duplicate copies.

No. 6.—Complaints regarding non-receipts of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

No. 7.—Copy is sometimes sent to the Press late on Wednesday evening for publication in the next day's Gazette. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. It is therefore notified that all matter intended for publication in Parts II, III and IV should reach this office not later than Tuesday evening, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

No. 8.—It is requested that Departments will refrain from sending to the Press any matter for publication as extremely urgent, later than 12 noon on Tuesdays, when such matter can without inconvenience be held over for the next week's Gazette.

No. 9.—Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting, causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. It is therefore requested that, when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

Legislative Measures and Rules thereunder.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 293—Med. (43-06)-7, dated 11*th July* 1907.

RULES UNDER THE MYSORE VACCINATION REGULATION OF 1906.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 2 (1) of the Mysore Vaccination Regulation of 1906, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to prescribe the following rules to regulate the vaccination of persons in local areas where vaccination has been declared to be compulsory during the period for which such declaration has effect therein :—

I. In these rules unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,

"Parent." (1) Parent means the father or mother of a legitimate child, and the mother of an illegitimate child.

"Guardian." (2) Guardian means any person to whom the care, nurture and custody of any child falls by law or by natural right or recognized usage, or who has accepted or assumed the care, nurture or custody of any child or to whom the care or custody of any child has been entrusted by any authority lawfully authorised in that behalf.

"Vaccinator." (3) Vaccinator means any medical man, or other duly qualified person authorized by the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government to vaccinate persons against small-pox.

"Medical man." (4) Medical man means a person holding a University or College degree or diploma in medicine or a certificate from a recognized medical school, of or above the grade of Hospital Assistant.

"Child." (5) Child means a boy or girl over six months and under twelve years of age.

"Adult." (6) Adult means any person of or above the age of twelve and under sixty.

"Unprotected person."

(7) Unprotected person is a person, child or adult, who has not been protected against small-pox by having had that disease or by having been successfully vaccinated or who has not been certified under Rule 11 of these rules, to be insusceptible to vaccination.

"Vaccination Depôt."

(8) Vaccination depôt means a place or building where public or gratuitous vaccination is performed by a vaccinator.

"Vaccination Circle."

(9) Vaccination Circle means one of the parts into which a local area where vaccination has been made compulsory has been divided for purposes of vaccination, and in which one or more vaccine depôts have been opened.

2. Every local area in which vaccination has been declared compulsory shall be a vaccination circle or shall, in the manner hereinafter provided, be divided into a number of such circles.

"Vaccination Depôts."
"Vaccinators."
"Superintendent of Vaccination."

3. Each circle shall have one or more vaccination depôts where vaccination shall be done gratuitously at certain fixed hours. One or more vaccinators shall be appointed in the manner hereinafter provided, for each circle, and one Superintendent of Vaccination shall be appointed, in the manner hereinafter provided, for each local area. Such Superintendent shall usually be the Medical Officer of Health of the locality or in the absence of such an officer, a duly qualified Medical Officer possessing the necessary special training.

"Private Vaccinators."

4. The appointment of private vaccinators shall vest with the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of Mysore, who will, after satisfying himself that a candidate is competent, give him a written license authorizing him to perform vaccination in a vaccination circle. This license may be suspended or cancelled at the discretion of the said Sanitary Commissioner.

"Unprotected person to be vaccinated."

5. When any unprotected person, adult or child has resided for a period of one month in any local area where vaccination has been declared compulsory by Government, he or she, if adult, shall go to a vaccine depôt, or if a child, be taken there by its parent or guardian to be vaccinated, or the person requiring vaccination or, if a child, its parent or guardian may procure his or its vaccination by a vaccinator privately. Provided that unless there is immediate danger of small-pox infection, the unprotected members of a household may, with the permission of the Superintendent of Vaccination, get themselves vaccinated in turns, individually or in batches, as the said Superintendent may decide, so that there may be as little interference as possible with the daily pursuits of life of the members of the household on account of their vaccination. But in no instance shall the interval of vaccination allowed on this account between the first individual or batch of individuals and the last individual or batch of individuals be more than two weeks.

Vaccinator to vaccinate persons or deliver certificates of postponement.

6. Such vaccinators shall vaccinate the person and deliver to him or her, or if a child, to its parent or guardian, a memorandum stating the date on which the vaccination has been performed and the date on and the hour at which the vaccinated person or child is to be inspected in order to ascertain the result of the operation; or, shall, if he find such person in a state of health unfit for vaccination, deliver to the person, or if a child, to its parent or guardian, a certificate under his hand to the effect that the person is in a state unfit for vaccination, and the period during which the person is likely to be so unfit.

Inspection after vaccination.

7. Every person vaccinated under the above section, or if a child, its parent or guardian, shall, on the date and hour of inspection stated in the memorandum, go, or take the child or cause it to be taken, to a vaccinator for inspection or get it inspected at his own house by a vaccinator; and such vaccinator shall then append to the memorandum a certificate stating that the person or child has been inspected, and the result of such inspection.

NOTE.—In the case of adult females observing the "gosha" or "purda" system, both vaccination and inspection shall be performed by a female vaccinator, if the parties so desire.

Procedure when vaccination is successful.

8. When it is ascertained at the time of inspecting a person or child under Rule 7 above, that the vaccination has been successful, a certificate shall be delivered by the vaccinator to the person, or if a child, to its parent or guardian to that effect, and such person or child shall be deemed to be protected.

Procedure when vaccination is unsuccessful.

9. When it is ascertained as aforesaid, that the vaccination has been unsuccessful, the person, or if a child, its parent or guardian shall, if the vaccinator so direct, cause the person or child, if in a satisfactory state of health, to be forthwith again vaccinated and subsequently inspected in the manner hereinbefore provided. If the person be not in a fit state of health, the vaccinator shall deliver a certificate as under Rule 6, stating the period during which the person is likely to be so unfit. Provided that, if it is a case of revaccination that has been unsuccessful, the person shall not be compelled to be vaccinated again. But the individual should be strictly advised to have the operation performed at least once more, say within a fortnight, as vaccination sometimes fails through having been imperfectly performed as well as through the individual being immune.

Procedure when person is unfit for vaccination.

10. A certificate granted under Rules 6 and 9 above, showing the unfitness of a person or child for vaccination, shall remain in force for the period stated therein and on the termination of that period, the person shall go, or if a child, its parent or guardian shall take it or cause it to be taken to a vaccinator to be vaccinated, or procure the vaccination at his house by a vaccinator.

Renewal of postponement certificates.

Provided that, if the person or child is still found to be in a state unfit for vaccination, the certificate granted under Rules 6 and 9 referred to above shall be renewed.

Certificates of insusceptibility of successful vaccination.

11. If a person or child is insusceptible of successful vaccination, which shall be inferred from vaccination on three occasions proving unsuccessful, the Superintendent of Vaccination shall deliver to the person or if it be a child, to the parent or guardian of such child, a certificate under his hand to that effect, and the person or child shall thenceforth not be required to be or caused to be vaccinated.

Certificates of vaccination by private vaccinators to be forwarded to the Superintendent.

12. Any person who procures a vaccination of himself or any other member of his household or child under his guardianship by a vaccinator other than those appointed as public vaccinators in the circle in which he lives, shall forward a certificate of such vaccination and its result signed by the vaccinator to the Superintendent of Vaccination within fifteen days from the date of such vaccination.

Certificates from a qualified Medical man and private vaccinators to be accepted.

13. The Superintendent of Vaccination shall accept certificates from a qualified Medical man or private vaccinator as to (1) successful vaccination, (2) unfitness of a person for vaccination and (3) the insusceptibility for vaccination.

Proviso.

Provided that the Superintendent may cancel any certificate given under these rules, if it be proved to his satisfaction that such certificate has been given improperly or obtained on behalf of any unprotected person or child, and thereupon such certificate shall no longer be valid. In case of any doubt as to these certificates the Superintendent shall personally examine the person vaccinated or certified to be unfit or insusceptible, provided always that in case the person is a 'gosha' or 'purda' female, the inspection shall be done by a female vaccinator as provided under Rule 7.

What lymph to be used.

14. Vaccination of persons should be performed with calf lymph, fresh or preserved, whichever is available.

Scientific care of lymph to be used.

15. All lymph used for vaccination shall be cultivated, collected, preserved, distributed and used with such scientific care as may from time to time be prescribed by the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government, and certified to be pure by an officer pronounced competent for that purpose by the said Sanitary Commissioner.

16. Any person desirous of getting himself, members of his household or children under his guardianship, vaccinated with any lymph other than those described in para 14 above, may procure the same at his own cost, and get himself, his household or children under his guardianship vaccinated with it, provided that the lymph so obtained is certified to be pure by an authority accepted as competent by the Sanitary Commissioner.

Use of other lymph.

17. A vaccinator shall take all possible precautions to perform the operation carefully and aceptically; and any vaccinator who by carelessness or neglect or by use of lymph which has not been certified as required in rules 15 and 16, injures the health of a person vaccinated, and any person who, not being duly authorized to vaccinate according to these rules, vaccinates persons with any lymph within the area in which these rules have been made applicable, shall be considered to have committed an offence under the Mysore Vaccination Regulation of 1906.

Carelessness in vaccination and vaccination by unauthorized persons considered offences.

18. No fee shall be charged by any vaccinator except by a private vaccinator for any of the duties imposed, under rules, on such vaccinator.

No fee to be charged except by a private vaccinator.

Proviso.—(1) Provided that it shall be lawful for a vaccinator to accept a fee for vaccinating a person or his household at his request, or if a child, at the request of its parent or guardian, elsewhere than in the depôt in which such vaccinator is working. (2) provided also that in the case of females observing "gosha" or "purda" system, no fee shall be charged for vaccinating them in their houses within the circle for which such vaccinator is appointed.

19. The Superintendent of Vaccination, in addition to other duties imposed on him by or under these rules, shall ascertain whether all unprotected persons above the age of six months within the area under his superintendence have been vaccinated; and if he has reason to believe that any person is bound by the provisions hereinbefore contained to procure vaccination of himself or child under his care and guardianship or to present himself or it for inspection and has omitted so to do, he shall personally go to the house of such person any time between 6 A.M. and 6 P.M., and there make enquiry and shall, if the fact is proved, forthwith deliver to such person or cause to be affixed to his house a notice requiring the person or child under his care or guardianship to be vaccinated or (as the case may be) to present or to be presented for inspection, at a time and place to be specified in such notice.

Duties of the Superintendent of Vaccination.

Notice to person or parent or guardian neglecting to comply with these rules.

20. When, in accordance with rule 19, the Superintendent of Vaccination goes to a house in his circle to make the necessary enquiries, it shall be the duty of the head of the household or in his or her absence, the eldest adult member present, to present, if so required, all or any member of his or her household before the Superintendent of Vaccination for his inspection and to state correctly their name, age, period of residence and other particulars that may be required by him.

Heads of household to present members of the household for inspection and to furnish correct information.

Provided that, in the case of females of and above 12 years of age, especially those observing the "gosha" or "purda" system, the inspection and enquiries shall, if so required by the parties, be made by any competent female on behalf of the Superintendent.

Proviso.

21. In cases where there is immediate danger of small-pox infection, the Superintendent of Vaccination may, by special notice served on the head of a household or affixed to the house, require any person living therein who is unprotected against the disease and does not possess the certificate of insusceptibility prescribed in rule 11, and is in consequence exposed to the risk of catching the infection and conveying it to others, to go, or in case of a child, to be taken to a vaccinator and get himself or it vaccinated forthwith. Any person so required shall get himself, or if a child in his care or guardianship, that child, vaccinated within 48 hours after the service of the notice as above mentioned.

Special provision in case of immediate danger of small-pox infection.

22. If the notice referred to in rules 19 and 21 has been served and is not complied with, the Superintendent of Vaccination shall report the matter to any Magistrate having local jurisdiction, and the Magistrate receiving such report shall summon the person and demand his explanation and shall, if such explanation be not satisfactory, make an order in writing directing such person to comply with the notice before a date specified in the order.

Order by Magistrate when notice is not complied with.

23. If on such date the order has not been obeyed, the Magistrate shall summon the person before him and unless just cause or excuse is shown, shall deal with the disobedience as an offence punishable under section 2 (3) of the Mysore Vaccination Regulation of 1906.

Procedure when order not obeyed.

24. When the above rules are made applicable to any local area where vaccination has been made compulsory by Government, the local authorities of such area may from time to time make bye-laws consistent with these rules for the proper enforcement of the Vaccination Regulation within the limits to which it applies. Such bye-laws shall be passed in the manner in which, under the law for the time being in force, the local authorities make bye-laws, and shall, when confirmed by Government and published in the Government Gazette, have the force of law;

Power to make bye-laws.

Provided that the Government may at any time rescind or modify any such bye-laws.

3. Though the Head of the Office is the authority who can sanction or withhold the periodical increments claimed by officials working under him, it has been noticed in several cases that such claims on behalf of officials working in taluks are being usually submitted to and decided by the Deputy Commissioners concerned. As Assistant Commissioners in charge of Sub-Divisions have now been empowered to exercise most of the powers of Deputy Commissioners and as the reference of applications for increments to taluk officials to Deputy Commissioners is calculated to cause delay and unnecessary increase of work, the Revenue Commissioner directs that Sub-Division Officers may, in future, dispose of claims for such increments to officials of taluks subordinate to them.

6. The sale of the property will not become absolute until the sale has been confirmed by the Deputy Commissioner.

1. Read and confirmed the proceedings of the meeting of the Board, held on the 14th February 1907.

2. Read list of works sanctioned by the President of the Board in accordance with para 2 of Government Proceedings No. 6307-17—L. B. 116-04-11, dated 24th January 1905.

Resolution.—Approved.

3. Read Government Proceedings No. 3455-65—Med. 297-05, dated 2nd November 1906, forwarding for an expression of opinion Senior Surgeon's letter suggesting the grant of mileage to the midwives, when they go out of head-quarters.

Resolution.—At present, every midwife is paid travelling allowance at 2 annas per mile, when she goes out of taluk head-quarters beyond a radius of five miles. Probably, the Senior Surgeon's proposal refers to the payment of mileage even for distances within five miles. Resolved that if the distance to be travelled be within five miles, travelling allowance at the rate of rupee one be given to and fro, provided she furnishes a certificate countersigned by the Hospital Assistant or Amildar to the effect that she did not receive any charges for conveyance, etc., from the parties concerned.

B. 365-06-2, dated 25th March last, enquiring whether a 4th class musafirkhana of the standard design will not be sufficient at Hiregebbe in the Hiriyur Taluk, in place of an estimate for Rs. 1,000 for a katcha building now submitted, and calling for the opinion of the Board.

Resolution.—A building on the model of a native kitchen for cooking purposes with two additional rooms will answer the present requirements and a 4th class musafirkhana according to the standard design which costs no less than Rs. 2,332 is not required for this road. Resolved that a revised estimate be prepared on the above lines and submitted to Government for sanction.

6. Read General and Revenue Secretary's docket No. 4746—L. F. 252-06, dated 7th December 1906, enquiring why the District Board may not open a road to the Somalapuram Railway Station and establish a toll-gate for its maintenance, if the goods traffic is as large as has been represented.

Resolved that the question be deferred for the next meeting till certain information called for from the Amildar about the number of carts that pass through the twelve villages referred to, is received.

7. Read General and Revenue Secretary's No. 6217-24—L. F. 196-06-1, dated 11th January 1907, calling for the opinion of the Board in the matter of the proposed enhancement of the rate of fine for impounded goats.

Resolved that Nagasamudra in the Molakalmuru Taluk and Maradihalli in the Hiriyur Taluk be formed into Unions, as they are big villages, and that necessary information be obtained from the Amildars concerned for submission to Government.

10. Read again Government Proceedings No. 6037-40—L. F. 291-06, dated 4th January 1907, calling for a report in the matter of the proposed abolition of sante at Kunikere, Hiriyur Taluk, which is stated to be not necessary.

Resolution.—As sante is not held at Kunikere, the coolies having shifted their camp, the same may be abolished.

11. Read General and Revenue Secretary's No. 10795—L. B. 402-06, dated 18th ultimo, calling for the resolution of the Board in the matter of the proposed supply of twenty-five chairs for the use of the members of the Board on the occasion of meetings.

13. Read Government Proceedings No. 7005-7—L. B. 13-06, dated 14th February 1907, sanctioning appropriation of amounts for the incomplete works of last year and also remarking that long lists of incomplete works and applications of the kind under disposal are indications of want of efficiency in the local executive.

Resolved that the same be communicated to all the Amildars in this district for information with a request that every endeavour should be made to complete the works now on hand before the close of the current official year.

14. Read Government Proceedings No. 10590-602—Med. 297-06, dated 13th May 1907, stating that it is under contemplation to appoint in villages Native Pandit or Hakim who has obtained a certificate of proficiency from the Head of the Indigenous Hospital at Mysore instead of the weekly visits by the Hospital Assistants, which has not been working satisfactorily.

Resolution.—The proposal commends itself to the Board and they accordingly resolve that the following places or villages, which are considered very unhealthy, be selected and that certified Native Pandits or Hakims trained in the Ayurvedic system of medicine be appointed in each of them at an early date :—

(1) Bharmasagar, (2) Naikanhatti, (3) Chitrahalli, (4) Dharmapur, (5) Bilichode, (6) Sokke, (7) Janakal, (8) Budihalu, (9) Anagi, (10) Hadadi, (11) Devarbelakere, (12) Siragere, (13) Devasamudra.

15. Read Chitaldrug Division Executive Engineer's No. 96, dated 7th February last, forwarding for countersignature an estimate for Rs. 220 for surveying and demarcating the road from Bhimasamudra to Vizapur, Chitaldrug Taluk.

Resolution.—The building in question is not required by the District Board.

17. Read Executive Engineer's No. 114, dated 27th March 1907, forwarding for counter-signature and return, an estimate for Rs. 1,644 for improving the bund of the Jagalur tank and applying for the grant of required funds for the work in question.

Resolution.—Approved.

18. Read Executive Engineer's No. 115, dated 27th March last, proposing that owing to the increased traffic passing on the Harihar-Harapanahalli road, the present mileage allotment of Rs. 50 is insufficient and that therefore the same be raised to Rs. 100 for the better up-keep of the road.

Resolution.—The cart traffic on this road has been very heavy for the past eight months owing to the transport of manganese ore from Duggahatti Gudda to Harihar Railway Station and this traffic is likely to continue for some time longer. The road has in consequence become cut up very much and is in need of special repairs. A large outlay is required to keep it in good order. This cannot be considered a legitimate charge on the ordinary receipts of District Funds. But there is no provision in the Local Board Regulation to levy any special tax for meeting such extraordinary charges. The Board therefore resolve that the Government be moved to make provision in the said Regulation authorising the District Board to levy tax temporarily on carts passing on any road with a view to meet such charges.

19. Read Executive Engineer's yadi No. 24, dated 27th March last, intimating with reference to this office query, that estimate for the construction of a building for the use of Public Works Department Sub-Division office at Holalkere has not yet been sanctioned.

Resolved that rent at the sanctioned rate be levied from the Public Works Department for the portion occupied as Sub-Division office.

20. Read Hosdurga Taluk Board Resolution No. 2, dated 23rd October 1906, re the question of repairing the following roads :—

(1) Hosdurga-Janakal road (2) Mathode-Hosdurga road.

Resolution.—No funds for the present.

21. Read Challakere Taluk Board Resolution dated 31st October 1906, stating that it is highly desirable to convert the present cart-track running from Naikanhatti to talak into a good Local Fund road.

Resolution.—The question may be considered when funds become available.

22. Read Government Proceedings No. 10466-72—L. B. 432-06, dated 9th May last, calling for a copy of the schedule of rates for each kind of work maintained by the District Board and corrected up to date.

Resolved that a copy of the schedule now revised be submitted to Government for information.

23. (a) Read and recorded Government Proceedings No. 8030-7—L. B. 289-06, dated 12th March 1907, directing the Presidents of District Boards to have projects ready with estimates prepared in time before they are selected and entered in the budgets.

24. Government Proceedings No. 9660-3—Ml., dated 20th April 1907, according sanction to the water-supply project of the Harihar town and intimating that till the finances of the Municipality improve, one-half of the annual maintenance charges, viz., Rs. 1,500, be borne by District Funds and the other half by Municipal Funds.

Resolution.—The Board is of opinion that this does not seem to be a legitimate charge on District Funds, as no portion of the revenue of the Municipality is credited to District Funds.

25. Read General and Revenue Secretary's No. 6233-48—L. F. 1906-06, dated 11th January 1907, and the Representative Assembly Subject No. 223 of 1906, regarding the applicability of Village Sanitation Rules to villages containing 50 houses.

It is therefore requested that, when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

Legislative Measures and Rules thereunder.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 293—Med. (43-06)-7, dated 11*th July* 1907.

RULES UNDER THE MYSORE VACCINATION REGULATION OF 1906.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 2 (1) of the Mysore Vaccination Regulation of 1906, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to prescribe the following rules to regulate the vaccination of persons in local areas where vaccination has been declared to be compulsory during the period for which such declaration has effect therein :—

I. In these rules unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,

"Parent." (1) Parent means the father or mother of a legitimate child, and the mother of an illegitimate child.

"Guardian." (2) Guardian means any person to whom the care, nurture and custody of any child falls by law or by natural right or recognized usage, or who has accepted or assumed the care, nurture or custody of any child or to whom the care or custody of any child has been entrusted by any authority lawfully authorised in that behalf.

"Vaccinator." (3) Vaccinator means any medical man, or other duly qualified person authorized by the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government to vaccinate persons against small-pox.

"Medical man." (4) Medical man means a person holding a University or College degree or diploma in medicine or a certificate from a recognized medical school, of or above the grade of Hospital Assistant.

"Child." (5) Child means a boy or girl over six months and under twelve years of age.

"Adult." (6) Adult means any person of or above the age of twelve and under sixty.

(7) Unprotected person is a person, child or adult, who has not been protected against small-pox by having had that disease or by having been successfully vaccinated or who has not been certified under Rule 11 of these rules, to be insusceptible to vaccination.

"Unprotected person."

(8) Vaccination depôt means a place or building where public or gratuitous vaccination is performed by a vaccinator.

"Vaccination Depôt."

(9) Vaccination Circle means one of the parts into which a local area where vaccination has been made compulsory has been divided for purposes of vaccination, and in which one or more vaccine depôts have been opened.

"Vaccination Circle."

2. Every local area in which vaccination has been declared compulsory shall be a vaccination circle or shall, in the manner hereinafter provided, be divided into a number of such circles.

3. Each circle shall have one or more vaccination depôts where vaccination shall be done gratuitously at certain fixed hours. One or more vaccinators shall be appointed in the manner hereinafter provided, for each circle, and one Superintendent of Vaccination shall be appointed, in the manner hereinafter provided, for each local area. Such Superintendent shall usually be the Medical Officer of Health of the locality or in the absence of such an officer, a duly qualified Medical Officer possessing the necessary special training.

"Vaccination Depôts."
"Vaccinators."
"Superintendent of Vaccination."

4. The appointment of private vaccinators shall vest with the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of Mysore, who will, after satisfying himself that a candidate is competent, give him a written license authorizing him to perform vaccination in a vaccination circle. This license may be suspended or cancelled at the discretion of the said Sanitary Commissioner.

"Private Vaccinators."

5. When any unprotected person, adult or child has resided for a period of one month in any local area where vaccination has been declared compulsory by Government, he or she, if adult, shall go to a vaccine depôt, or if a child, be taken there by its parent or guardian to be vaccinated, or the person requiring vaccination or, if a child, its parent or guardian may procure his or its vaccination by a vaccinator privately. Provided that unless there is immediate danger of small-pox infection, the unprotected members of a household may, with the permission of the Superintendent of Vaccination, get themselves vaccinated in turns, individually or in batches, as the said Superintendent may decide, so that there may be as little interference as possible with the daily pursuits of life of the members of the household on account of their vaccination. But in no instance shall the interval of vaccination allowed on this account between the first individual or batch of individuals and the last individual or batch of individuals be more than two weeks.

"Unprotected person to be vaccinated."

6. Such vaccinators shall vaccinate the person and deliver to him or her, or if a child, to its parent or guardian, a memorandum stating the date on which the vaccination has been performed and the date on and the hour at which the vaccinated person or child is to be inspected in order to ascertain the result of the operation; or, shall, if he find such person in a state of health unfit for vaccination, deliver to the person, or if a child, to its parent or guardian, a certificate under his hand to the effect that the person is in a state unfit for vaccination, and the period during which the person is likely to be so unfit.

Vaccinator to vaccinate persons or deliver certificates of postponement.

7. Every person vaccinated under the above section, or if a child, its parent or guardian, shall, on the date and hour of inspection stated in the memorandum, go, or take the child or cause it to be taken, to a vaccinator for inspection or get it inspected at his own house by a vaccinator; and such vaccinator shall then append to the memorandum a certificate stating that the person or child has been inspected, and the result of such inspection.

Inspection after vaccination.

NOTE.—In the case of adult females observing the "gosha" or "purda" system, both vaccination and inspection shall be performed by a female vaccinator, if the parties so desire.

Procedure when vaccination is successful.

8. When it is ascertained at the time of inspecting a person or child under Rule 7 above, that the vaccination has been successful, a certificate shall be delivered by the vaccinator to the person, or if a child, to its parent or guardian to that effect, and such person or child shall be deemed to be protected.

Procedure when vaccination is unsuccessful.

9. When it is ascertained as aforesaid, that the vaccination has been unsuccessful, the person, or if a child, its parent or guardian shall, if the vaccinator so direct, cause the person or child, if in a satisfactory state of health, to be forthwith again vaccinated and subsequently inspected in the manner hereinbefore provided. If the person be not in a fit state of health, the vaccinator shall deliver a certificate as under Rule 6, stating the period during which the person is likely to be so unfit. Provided that, if it is a case of revaccination that has been unsuccessful, the person shall not be compelled to be vaccinated again. But the individual should be strictly advised to have the operation performed at least once more, say within a fortnight, as vaccination sometimes fails through having been imperfectly performed as well as through the individual being immune.

Procedure when person is unfit for vaccination.

10. A certificate granted under Rules 6 and 9 above, showing the unfitness of a person or child for vaccination, shall remain in force for the period stated therein and on the termination of that period, the person shall go, or if a child, its parent or guardian shall take it or cause it to be taken to a vaccinator to be vaccinated, or procure the vaccination at his house by a vaccinator.

Renewal of postponement certificates.

Provided that, if the person or child is still found to be in a state unfit for vaccination, the certificate granted under Rules 6 and 9 referred to above shall be renewed.

Certificates of insusceptibility of successful vaccination.

11. If a person or child is insusceptible of successful vaccination, which shall be inferred from vaccination on three occasions proving unsuccessful, the Superintendent of Vaccination shall deliver to the person or if it be a child, to the parent or guardian of such child, a certificate under his hand to that effect, and the person or child shall thenceforth not be required to be or caused to be vaccinated.

Certificates of vaccination by private vaccinators to be forwarded to the Superintendent.

12. Any person who procures a vaccination of himself or any other member of his household or child under his guardianship by a vaccinator other than those appointed as public vaccinators in the circle in which he lives, shall forward a certificate of such vaccination and its result signed by the vaccinator to the Superintendent of Vaccination within fifteen days from the date of such vaccination.

Certificates from a qualified Medical man and private vaccinators to be accepted.

13. The Superintendent of Vaccination shall accept certificates from a qualified Medical man or private vaccinator as to (1) successful vaccination, (2) unfitness of a person for vaccination and (3) the insusceptibility for vaccination.

Proviso.

Provided that the Superintendent may cancel any certificate given under these rules, if it be proved to his satisfaction that such certificate has been given improperly or obtained on behalf of any unprotected person or child, and thereupon such certificate shall no longer be valid. In case of any doubt as to these certificates the Superintendent shall personally examine the person vaccinated or certified to be unfit or insusceptible, provided always that in case the person is a 'gosha' or 'purda' female, the inspection shall be done by a female vaccinator as provided under Rule 7.

What lymph to be used.

14. Vaccination of persons should be performed with calf lymph, fresh or preserved, whichever is available.

Scientific care of lymph to be used.

15. GOVT. OF H. H. THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE, GEN. AND REV. SECRETARIAT, Dated Bangalore, the 4th July 1907.

By Order,
C. S. BALASUNDARAM IYER, Offg. Secy. to Govt., Gen. & Rev. Depts.

No. G. 63-71—G. M. 348-06-2, DATED BANGALORE, 3RD JULY 1907.

ORDER.—Appended hereto is a copy of the revised rules (and its accompaniments) regarding the decipherment and publication of Indian inscriptions on stone and copper and the custody thereof, received with the First Assistant to the Hon'ble the Resident's Letter No. 4447, dated the 26th June 1907. These rules will be substituted for those communicated in Government Proceedings No. G. 4098-106—G. M. F. 286-2, dated the 12th January 1905.

2. All discoveries of inscriptions in the State should be reported to the Officer in charge of Archæological Researches in Mysore.

3. The Inspector-General of Education is requested to obtain a report from the Officer in charge of Archæological Researches as to what arrangements have been made for the publication of any new inscriptions which may have been discovered in the State, and forward it to Government at an early date.

C. S. BALASUNDARAM IYER,
Offg. Secy. to Govt., Gen. & Rev. Depts.

To—The Deputy Commissioners of Districts.
The Inspector-General of Education in Mysore, for information and communication to the Officer in charge of Archæological Researches.

Rules regarding the decipherment and publication of Indian inscriptions on stone and copper and regarding their custody.

I. The discovery of any inscription should at once be reported in the accompanying form to the Archæological Superintendent of the province in which it is found. Full particulars should be given as to the disposal of the inscription pending further instructions; and, if it is not the property of Government or cannot be placed in the custody of Government officers, report should be made as to what steps are being or can be taken to secure either the original or an impression of it. If possible, an impression of the inscription should be obtained according to the directions contained in the accompanying memorandum and forwarded along with the report.

II. The Archæological Superintendent on receiving news of any discovery should immediately report the find and its character to the Government Epigraphist, suggesting the best arrangement for its decipherment, whether by himself, by reference to a European scholar, or in any other way, and forwarding, if possible, preliminary copies.

III. It will be open to the Government Epigraphist on receiving the report referred to in rule II, to require that the decipherment of the inscription be made by such agency as he thinks fit; but in the absence of good reason to the contrary (which should be explained to the local Government), preference will be given to the Epigraphist of the province in which the inscription has been discovered.

IV. In the absence of special orders, all epigraphical matter will be published in the Epigraphia Indica or, in certain cases, in the annual reports (local or general) of the Archæological Department, but manuscript copies, impressions, squeezes, etc., of inscriptions may, prior to publication in India, be submitted to scholars in Europe for information as well as for advice or decipherment. It must, however, be made clear, in such cases, that the inscriptions are not to be published in extenso in Europe prior to their appearance in the Epigraphia Indica or in the Archæological Reports. There will be no objection, however, to brief announcements of interesting discoveries or short preliminary notices of their character being made in European journals, etc.

V. The local Archæological Superintendent will, in the case of both stone and copper inscriptions, forward, if required, two good ink-impressions to the Government Epigraphist.

VI. The Government Epigraphist will, as soon as possible, after receipt of impressions or plates intended for publication in the Epigraphia Indica, return to the sender a short abstract of the contents of each inscription.

VII. Inscriptions attached to buildings or monuments ought on no account to be separated from them, unless for some special reason, such as risk of their being lost or destroyed.

VIII. Care should be taken to retain for deposit in some selected museum, all moveable originals which belong to, or are acquired by, the Local Government.

The museum selected will ordinarily be that of the province in which the inscription was discovered. Exception may be made to this rule when the storage of the inscriptions elsewhere is found to be advisable in order to complete an already existing collection, or for other special reasons.

12. Here simply state "easy" or "difficult." If "difficult," state in the special notes the reason, i.e., whether from natural circumstances of situation or from the attitude of the custodian.

13. Here simply state "see statement attached" or "none." If any statement is attached state in it any story connected with the inscription, and if it can be read locally, what the reader has to say of its contents.

I. INSCRIPTIONS ON STONE.

PROCESS A.

1. First clean the stone thoroughly, washing and removing all dust, dirt, grease, moss or other excrescence from its surface. Use no force in this process; make no attempt to render a letter or sign clearer by the use of a chisel or any attempt to "improve" the writing. Do not ink or blacken the surface of the stone so as to render the letters clearer, as, although this may help you, it injures the stone and makes it difficult for others to use it properly.

2. Take a sheet of printing paper, such as is commonly used for newspapers of the better class, and thoroughly soak it in water, for some minutes. For rough inscriptions use ordinary country-made paper.

3. Before placing it on the stone soak the stone itself well with water.

4. Take the sheet of paper by the four corners and place it as evenly as you or your assistant can manage on the surface of the stone. It will adhere of itself as long as it is wet.

5. Take a stiff brush, dabber or handkerchief and commence beating the paper smartly from the centre outwards so as to get rid of all air-bubbles. Go on beating until the paper has taken the exact shape of the stone and followed every hollow and inequality. It will crack and split in many places if the inscription is cut deeply or the inequalities of the surface are great, in which case a second and, if necessary, a third sheet should be laid wet over the first and the beating be repeated.

6. Do not try and pull the paper off the stone when the beating process is over. When it is dry it will come off of itself. In India, in dry weather, the tendency is for the paper to dry off before the beating process is over.

7. When the beating process is finished, you will find that you have made a paper-cast or stereotype of the original stone. This will, when dry, be quite hard and capable of resisting considerable pressure. All that is required for packing is to roll it up and to take care that it does not get wet.

8. If the sheets are not large enough to cover the whole stone, which will frequently be the case, repeat the above process over different parts of the stone, taking care that each sheet overlaps its neighbours so that its proper place can afterwards be easily determined.

9. Like every mechanical process the above requires a certain amount of practice before it can be done well. In order to ensure accuracy and to enable the reproducer to correct errors in the sheets selected for reproduction, it is best, if practicable, to take three impressions of every part of the stone.

10. Intelligent native servants can be taught the process without much difficulty.

PROCESS B.

1. This process can be employed at the same time as Process A, and will greatly increase the value of the impression; but it requires special materials and more experience than the above.

2. Take an ordinary printer's ink-roller, pass it after inking it, with uniform pressure over the paper while it is still on the stone and still slightly damp, but not wet. A dabber of cotton wool covered with leather or kid can be specially made for the purpose. The raised parts will thus come out black and every depression or inequality will appear white. Minute accuracy can be obtained by this process.

3. The paper should then be left to dry on the stone as before, and can be rolled up for packing without fear.

The ink to be used can be either Persian ink obtainable from any bazaar, or a mixture of lamp-black, gum and water. Care should be taken to use the right quantity: too much ink will blur the impression, too thick ink will rip the paper off the stone, too thin ink will spoil your impression, so will a too great or an uneven pressure of the roller.

II. INSCRIPTIONS ON METAL.

Inscribed plates of copper should preferably be sent to the office of the local Archæological Superintendent for reproduction, after which they will be returned immediately. In case the owner of the plate objects to such a course, the following process should be followed :—

1. Wash the plate with soap and water. If this fails, a weak nitric acid solution may be tried and applied very carefully so as not to injure the plate; but the use of acid being dangerous, is not recommended.

2. When dry, go over the plate with printer's ink and a dabber. A very good dabber is made with a big cork, over the end of which is stretched a piece of kid with a little pad of cotton between. Printer's ink can be had from any press. A little ink should be poured on a piece of glass, and spread out and worked over with the dabber until the latter is evenly coated before it is applied to the plate.

3. When this is done, get your paper ready. Thick soft paper is best, such as good thick cartridge or drawing paper. Cut the paper a few inches all round larger than the plate. Lay the latter face down upon the paper, after damping the latter, and fold the paper over the back of the plate. This effectually prevents it from moving. If the plate is provided with a ring, a hole should be cut in the paper and a slit made for the ring to pass through.

4. Turn the plate face up, and, with a piece of hard smooth foolscap paper between, commence to rub the back of the paper evenly all over with the top of a glass stopper of a bottle. The paper must be kept damp throughout by laying a folded damp towel over the parts you are not working on. Then remove the paper carefully and let it dry. The prints are reverses, but these are reversed again when photographed for publication.

5. After taking the impression, the plate should be thoroughly cleaned with spirits of turpentine and then brushed with soap-water, so as to remove all traces of printing ink.

THE VILLAGE OFFICES BILL.

A bill to consolidate and amend the Law relating to Village Offices in Mysore.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to village offices in Mysore; His Highness the Maharaja is pleased to enact as follows :—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called the Mysore Village Offices Regulation, 190....

(2) It extends to the whole of Mysore, and

(3) It shall come into force with effect from the expiry of one month from the date of its first publication in the official Gazette.

Definitions.

2. In this Regulation, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,—

"Village." "Village" means any local area now recognised as a village or hereafter declared by Government to be a village.

"Village Office." "Village Office" means every office to which emoluments have been attached and which is held for the performance of duties connected with the administration or collection of the revenue, or with the maintenance of order or with the settlement of boundaries, or other matters of civil administration pertaining to a village, whether the services originally appertaining to the office continue or have ceased to be performed or demanded, and by whatsoever designation the office may be locally known :

Provisos.

Provided as follows :—

(1) The Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, exclude any village office or offices from the operation of all or any of the provisions of this Regulation, and may in like manner amend or cancel such notification.

(2) The Government shall have power to decide, in case of doubt, whether any office falls under the definition of village office.

"Village Officer." "Village Officer" means an officer holding a village office or appointed to perform or performing the duties of a village officer.

"Emoluments." "Emoluments" means and includes

(i) lands;
(ii) assignments of revenue payable in respect of lands;
(iii) fees in money or agricultural produce;
(iv) money-salaries and all other kinds of remuneration, granted or continued in respect of, or annexed to, any village office by the State.

"District Deputy Commissioner." "District Deputy Commissioner" means the chief local officer in charge of the revenue administration of a district.

"Deputy Commissioner." "Deputy Commissioner" includes an Assistant Commissioner in charge of a division who, for the time being, is authorized to exercise the powers of a Deputy Commissioner.

Emoluments of village offices inalienable, and not liable to attachment.

3. The emoluments of village offices, whether such offices be or be not hereditary, shall not be liable to be transferred or encumbered in any manner whatsoever, and it shall not be lawful for any Court to attach or sell such emoluments or any portion thereof.

Villages may be grouped, amalgamated or divided.

4. (1) The Government may, with reference to rules made in this behalf under section 21, group or amalgamate any two or more villages or portions thereof so as to form a single new village, or divide any village into two or more villages and, thereupon, all village offices in the villages, portions of villages or village grouped, amalgamated or divided as aforesaid, shall cease to exist, and new offices shall be created for the new village or villages.

(2) In choosing persons to fill such new offices, the Deputy Commissioner shall select the persons whom he may consider the best qualified from among the families of the last holders of the offices which have ceased to exist.

Reduction of village offices.

(3) The Government may also direct that the number of village offices attached to a village shall be reduced, and, thereupon, the Deputy Commissioner shall dispense with the services of the officers no longer required and shall retain those whom he may consider to be best qualified to discharge the duties of the remaining offices.

Power to punish village officers.

5. (1) The Deputy Commissioner may, of his own motion or on complaint and after enquiry, fine, suspend, dismiss or remove any holder of a village office whether in an unalienated or alienated village, for misconduct or for neglect of duty or incapacity or for non-residence in the village or for any other sufficient cause.

(2) An Amildar or Deputy Amildar may, of his own motion or on complaint and after enquiry, fine any holder of a village office in an unalienated village for any of the causes specified in sub-section (1) and in such amount as the Government may, by general or special order, prescribe.

(3) The proprietor of an alienated village may, of his own motion or on complaint and after enquiry, suspend, dismiss or remove any holder of a village office in his village, except the patel, shanbhog, and the village watchman, for any of the causes specified in sub-section (1).

(4) The officer or person taking proceedings against a village officer under any of the preceding sub-sections of this section shall make a record of his reasons for so doing in writing and furnish a copy of the same to such village officer.

Rules to be observed in making appointments to the offices of patel, shanbhog, etc., in unalienated villages.

(2) The succession shall be regulated by the ordinary provisions of the Hindu Law: provided that it shall devolve on a single heir, and that, where there are more persons than one who would, under the ordinary provisions of the said law, be entitled to succeed to the last holder of the office, the preference shall, subject to the provisions of this section, lie with the eldest member of the eldest branch of such persons.

In certain cases person other than direct heir may be appointed.

(3) When the next heir is not qualified under sub-section (1), the Deputy Commissioner shall appoint the person next in order of succession (according to seniority of age in the senior branch) who is so qualified, and, in the absence of any such person in the line of succession, may appoint any person duly qualified under sub-section (1).

Temporary disqualification of heir in certain cases.

(4) Where an office has become vacant by the dismissal or suspension of the last holder, the Deputy Commissioner may direct that, until the death or return to duty of such last holder, the duties of the office shall be performed by some person duly qualified under sub-section (1) who is not an undivided member of the family of the dismissed or suspended officer; provided that, when the officer who has been dismissed dies, or if the officer who has been suspended dies while under suspension, the vacancy caused by such death shall be filled up in accordance with the provisions of sub-sections (2) and (3).

Procedure to be adopted when heir is a minor.

(5) When the person who would otherwise be entitled to succeed to an office is a minor, the Deputy Commissioner shall register the minor as the heir of the last holder and appoint some other person qualified under sub-section (1) to discharge the duties of the office until the person registered as heir, on attaining majority or within three years thereafter, is qualified under sub-section (1) to discharge the duties of the office himself, when he shall be appointed thereto. If the person registered as heir under this sub-section dies, or if he remains disqualified under sub-section (1) for three years after attaining majority, the Deputy Commissioner shall fill up the vacancy as provided in sub-sections (2) and (3).

(6) If a vacancy is caused by the resignation, dismissal, removal or suspension of the holder of an office and the Deputy Commissioner does not give the direction referred to in sub-section (4), he shall fill up the vacancy in accordance with the provisions of this section as if it had been caused by the death of the said holder; provided that, upon the expiry of the period of suspension of an officer who has been suspended, or if, for any reason, an officer who has been dismissed, removed or suspended, is permitted to resume the office from which he has been dismissed, removed or suspended, the person appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the said suspension, dismissal or removal shall cease to hold the office.

Rules to be observed in making appointments to the offices of patel, shanbhog, etc., in alienated villages.

Rule of devolution of succession.

(3) Where the next heir is not qualified under sub-section (1), the proprietor shall appoint the person next in order of succession according to seniority of age in the senior branch who is so qualified, and, in the absence of any such person in the line of succession, may appoint any person duly qualified under sub-section (1).

In certain cases person other than direct heir may be appointed.

(4) When the person who would otherwise be entitled to succeed to an office is a minor, the proprietor shall register the minor as the heir of the last holder and appoint some other person qualified under sub-section (1) to discharge the duties of the office, until the person registered as heir is qualified under sub-section (1) to discharge the duties of the office himself, when he shall be appointed thereto. No suit for declaratory decree.

(ii) When one of the facts in issue in a suit is whether the emoluments of the office consist of land or of an assignment of revenue payable in respect of land, the Deputy Commissioner shall decide the claim on the assumption that only the said assignment constitutes the emoluments; but such decision shall not bar the right of the claimant to institute a suit in a Civil Court for recovery of the land itself.

Procedure in case of dispute as to nature of emoluments.

(2) If, at any time before the completion of the trial of a suit preferred under this section for any office or for the recovery of the emoluments of any office, it appears to the Deputy Commissioner that the claimant is not eligible for appointment under sub-section (1) of section 6 or sub-section (1) of section 7 of this Regulation, as the case may be, he shall pass an order rejecting the plaint.

Limitation of time within which suits may be brought.

Provided that, in the case of a person who, by reason of minority, was disqualified for holding office, the right to sue for such office or for the recovery of the emoluments thereof shall accrue from the date of his attaining majority.

Limitation in case of minority.

Execution of decrees and orders passed previous to commencement of this Regulation.

(4) In cases in which the decree or order sought to be executed was appealed against, the periods of limitation prescribed in sub-sections (2) and (3) shall commence from the termination of the appeal.

Limitation when appeal preferred.

11. The District Deputy Commissioner may transfer to his own file any suit on the file of any Assistant Commissioner in charge of a division in the district, or transfer any suit from the file of one such Assistant Commissioner to that of another or to the file of an Assistant Commissioner not in charge of a division, for disposal.

Power of District Deputy Commissioner in regard to transfers of suits.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The necessity for replacing the existing scattered and disjointed body of rules and orders with regard to village offices in Mysore by a systematic scheme of legislation has engaged the consideration of Government for some time past. Of these rules and orders a few, such as the Rules* for the remuneration of patels and shanbhogs and minor village servants have the force of law; others are orders passed by Government in appeals from the decisions of Revenue Officers in regular suits ; and a large number are merely administrative orders passed on the miscellaneous side and as such liable to be disregarded by subordinate officers in regular suits. The course of decisions, too, especially in the matter of succession to village offices, has not been by any means always uniform or certain ; with the result—which conflicting decisions induce—of encouraging litigation. Lastly, the success of the Revenue administration depends to a great extent upon the efficiency of the village service ; and the introduction of a law to regulate the latter and place it upon a proper basis follows naturally on the introduction of the Land Revenue Code, which has governed the former for the last fifteen years.

* Issued under the authority of the Government of India, with the Chief Commissioner's Notifications No. 219, dated the 27th October 1874, and No. 123, dated the 1st August 1878.

Such, then, is the occasion for the accompanying Draft Regulation, which, it may be observed, follows to a large extent (but with important variations) the lines of the Madras Hereditary Village Offices Act, III of 1895, the provisions of the latter being found, on careful examination, to be much better adapted to local requirements than are those of the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act, III of 1874.

It now remains to describe briefly the main provisions of the proposed Regulation.

Section 2 deals with definitions.

Under the definition of "village" here given, it will be possible to declare two or more villages ordinarily so called to be a single village for the purposes of the Regulation.

The characteristics of a "Village Office" as here defined are—

(i) the assignment of "emoluments" (a term defined comprehensively in the same section); and (ii) the annexing to the office of duties connected with some branch of the Civil administration pertaining to a village, whether these duties are actually demanded or not.

The provisos give power to Government, on the one hand, to exclude any office from the operation of the Regulation, and, on the other, to decide whether a particular office falls under the definition or not.

The destinction drawn between "Deputy Commissioner" (a term applicable in certain cases to a Divisional Assistant Commissioner) and "District Deputy Commissioner" (denoting the Chief Revenue Officer of the District) is a convenient one, and has been taken from the Madras General Clauses Act, 1891.

Section 3 embodies the existing law with respect to the inalienability of emoluments and their non-liability to attachment and sale by Courts.

Section 4 empowers Government to group, amalgamate or divide villages, and to reduce the number of offices, in a village, as may be necessary.

Section 5 deals with the powers of Deputy Commissioners, Amildars and Inamdars to punish village officers for reasons to be recorded in writing. In consonance with the existing practice, the powers of the Deputy Commissioner to punish officers in alienated villages have been assimilated to those with respect to officers in Government villages. In Madras, the latter powers are subject to restriction.

Sections 6 and 7 declare the rules to be observed in making appointments to the five main village offices of patel, shanbhog, nirganti, toti and talari. It is merely necessary to note that these rules will, among other things, do away with the right of females in certain circumstances, to be registered as the holders of village offices, but not of course, so as to interfere with claims to succession being traced through females, and that the rule of devolution of succession to a single heir as laid down will exclude the performance of duties by rotation; the latter being a system attended with many difficulties, not satisfactory on the one hand to the parties concerned, and not conductive, on the other, to the efficiency of business, besides leading to faction, litigation and intrigue and to a relaxation of the sense of responsibility. It may also be remarked that, under Section 7, the confirmation of the Deputy Commissioner will not in future be necessary, as at present, for appointments of patels and shanbhogs made by proprietors of Inam villages.

Section 8 deals with succession in the case of other village offices than the five specified, where such exist and are recognized. But, as a matter of fact, it may be observed that the connection of Government with such other offices comprised in the ancient barabaluti system has practically ceased.

Sections 9 to 15 and 17 to 19 embody the usual provisions about suits, procedure, appeals, limitation and similar matters.

Section 16 bars the jurisdiction of Civil Courts in regard to claims for the succession of village offices in respect of emoluments.

Section 20 will probably become unnecessary on the passing of the Police Regulation now before Government.

Section 21 enumerates the matters in regard to which Government may frame rules; and declares that, till rules as so made, the existing rules shall continue in force.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There are at present two different enactments in force in the State on the subject of Police Administration, namely, Act V of 1861 in force in the Bangalore City and the Regular and Village Police Rules of 1872 in force in the rest of Mysore. The desirability of having one uniform system of administration throughout the State was recognized in 1886; and a Draft Regulation was prepared having for its object the repeal of Act V of 1861 in the Bangalore City and the extension thereto of the Police Rules with suitable modifications. In 1889, however, it was decided to frame a Regulation adopting Act V of 1861 in preference to the Rules, any necessary portions of the latter being, at the same time, retained as Rules under the Regulation; but the criticisms elicited tended to show that this draft was imperfect in many particulars and required much revision before it could be passed into law. Under these circumstances it was dropped in 1897 and a fresh Draft Regulation was prepared on the basis of the Bombay Act IV of 1890, which, with such modifications and additions as the circumstances of the State rendered necessary, seemed, to be an improvement upon the draft of 1889. This draft dealt with the Regular Police only (the Village Police being reserved to form the subject of a separate enactment) and also embodied in the proper places the provisions of the Gambling Act III of 1867, the extension of which to Mysore had been repeatedly suggested from various quarters. Later on, the draft was further revised in the Legislative Department to bring it into greater conformity with the existing system of Police Administration in Mysore, and was in September 1901 published in the Mysore Gazette for general information.

Before taking up the draft for final consideration, however, Government thought that the importance of the subject and the various interests involved rendered it necessary that the draft should undergo revision at the hands of some officers of Government having experience of the local conditions in general and the working of the Police Department in particular. Accordingly in Government Order No. J. 565-77—Legis. 11-04, dated the 29th August 1904, a Committee was appointed composed of the marginally noted officers, for revising the Draft Police Regulation. The Committee after much deliberation and discussion have submitted their report in which they recommend several changes in the Draft Regulation. The more important of the additions and alterations recommended by the Committee are noted below:—

1. Mr. A. Rangaswami Iyengar, then Judge, Chief Court, President.
2. Mr. F. E. C. Carr, Inspector General of Police.
3. Mr. M. Narain Rao, then Deputy Commissioner, Kadur.
4. Mr. K. P. Puttanna Chetty, then Deputy Commissioner, Kolar.

} Members.

Section 3, re power to make Rules as to Village Police, is new and is based on Madras Act III of 1865, Sections 78 and 79.

Section 4, clause (b). The definition of "District Superintendent" has been taken from Act VIII of 1895.

Clause (c), (e) and (g). The definitions of "Inspector," "District," "Taluk" and "Sub-Taluk" are new; the word "District" has been so defined as to include a portion of a district placed in charge of a District Superintendent for the purposes of this Regulation.

Section 5, re constitution of the Police Force, has been adapted from Section 2 of Act V of 1861 in lieu of Section 4 of the Bombay Act, which contemplates a separate Police Force for each district.

Section 10. A form of certificate of appointment to be granted to Inspectors by the Inspector-General has been prescribed and the form of certificate for officers below the grade of Inspectors has been so altered as not to give room to any policeman to understand that he has a right to employment in any one district.

Section 12 is new. It provides that the Inspector-General shall be the head of the Police Department and the adviser of Government in all matters connected with the Police; that he will exercise general control over the Police Force and over crime, more particularly, organized and professional crime, and, subject to the approval of Government, make rules and orders in certain matters connected with the regulation, control and discipline of the Police Force.

Section 15 (1), which is new, empowers the District Superintendent, under the general control of the Deputy Commissioner who, under Section 14, is the head of the Police in his district, and without prejudice to the powers and responsibilities of the latter, to have control over the equipment, drill, education and such other routine matters connected with the Police of the district.

Sub-Section (2) similarly defines the respective powers of the Amildar or Deputy Amildar and the Inspector over the Taluk Police.

Section 16, which is taken from Rule 27 of the Regular Police Rules, empowers the Deputy Commissioner to make any necessary distribution of the Police Force within his jurisdiction.

Sections 18 and 19. Under these sections, both the Inspector-General and the Deputy Commissioner have been enabled to take the initiative in the matter of employing additional Police when necessary.

Section 22. The provisions of this section have been made applicable not only to cases of injury arising from a riot or an unlawful assembly, within the area notified as being in a disturbed state, but also to cases where the necessity for such notification has been obviated by the disturbance subsiding after the unlawful assembly has attained its object.

Section 25. The matters in regard to which the Inspector-General may call for reports and statements have been more fully enumerated.

Section 27 (2). Limits appeals on orders of punishment of constables to the Inspector-General, appeals in the case of other officers being made to lie to Government.

Section 38. This section, which empowers the District Magistrate, etc., to authorize a Police Officer to enter a common gaming house, has been taken from the Public Gambling Act III of 1867 and Madras Act III of 1888 and made applicable to the whole State, as gambling has spread even to remote villages.

Section 45. Empowers Police Officers not below the grade of Inspector to regulate assemblies, etc., in public streets, the power being exercised subject to any rules made by proper authority.

Section 53 has been amended by providing for submission of reports regarding unclaimed property to a Magistrate having local jurisdiction instead of to "such Magistrate as the Magistrate of the District shall from time to time appoint" and for the Magistrate following the procedure laid down in Section 523 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Section 55, clause (b). This has been re-drafted by adopting the form of the Rule as given in the Madras City Police Act, Section 71 (5), and by combining with it a provision against rash or negligent driving.

Clause (g). The acts mentioned in this clause have been made penal without proof of obstruction, danger, alarm or annoyance.

To the last clause of this section, a proviso has been added that imprisonment in default of payment of fine shall not exceed eight days notwithstanding anything contained in Section 67 of the Indian Penal Code, as it is deemed unnecessary to allow a longer term of imprisonment in such cases.

Section 76. This section has been slightly altered so as to make it applicable not only to forfeitures, etc., payable by law to Police Officers, but also to sums awarded to them by Magistrates, and also to provide for the whole or any portion of such rewards being granted to any other persons besides Police Officers.

Sub-Sections (2) and (3) of Section 77, which required Municipalities to provide accommodation for the Police employed for their service, have been omitted as these bodies have been relieved of Police charges and there is no separate Police Force for any Municipality.

A BILL TO AMEND THE MYSORE COURT-FEES REGULATION, III OF 1900.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the Mysore Court-Fees Regulation, III of 1900: His Highness the Maharaja is pleased to enact as follows :—

1. In Section 4, clause V, after the words "land, houses and gardens," the words "except in the case provided for in clause XII" shall be inserted.

2. In Section 4, the following shall be added at the end :—

"XII. In suits by a lessor or a landlord against his lessee or tenant to recover possession of land, houses and gardens, leased or tenanted, the amount of fee payable shall be either a fixed fee of 10 rupees, or according to the amount of the rent payable for the year next before the date of presenting the plaint, whichever is the greater of the two."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under Section 4, clause V of the Court-Fees Regulation, 1900, the court-fee payable in suits for possession of land, houses and gardens is regulated according to the amount of the value of the subject matter of the suit. This applies not merely to suits where the plaintiff's title to the property in dispute is contested, but also to ejectment suits where a lessor or a landlord seeks to recover possession of his own property from his lessee or tenant owing to the latter's non-payment of rent or other similar cause. It has been represented to Government (vide Subject No. 47 of the Representative Assembly of 1906) that this operates as a hardship on lessors and landlords who have to pay heavy court-fees even in ejectment suits. The object of the present bill is to amend the Court-Fees Regulation so as to remedy this hardship. The bill enacts that, in suits for possession by a lessor or landlord against his lessee or tenant, the court-fee payable shall be, either a fixed fee of Rs. 10, or according to the amount of the rent payable for the year next before the date of presenting the plaint, whichever is the greater of the two.

As a consequential change, a proviso is added, by the bill, excluding ejectment suits by lessors or landlords, from the operation of Section 4, clause V.

By Order,

K. MYLAR RAO,

Secy., Mysore Legislative Council.

No. 293—Med. (43-06)-7, dated 11*th July* 1907.

RULES UNDER THE MYSORE VACCINATION REGULATION OF 1906.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 2 (1) of the Mysore Vaccination Regulation of 1906, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to prescribe the following rules to regulate the vaccination of persons in local areas where vaccination has been declared to be compulsory during the period for which such declaration has effect therein :—

I. In these rules unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,

"Parent." (1) Parent means the father or mother of a legitimate child, and the mother of an illegitimate child.

"Guardian." (2) Guardian means any person to whom the care, nurture and custody of any child falls by law or by natural right or recognized usage, or who has accepted or assumed the care, nurture or custody of any child or to whom the care or custody of any child has been entrusted by any authority lawfully authorised in that behalf.

"Vaccinator." (3) Vaccinator means any medical man, or other duly qualified person authorized by the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government to vaccinate persons against small-pox.

"Medical man." (4) Medical man means a person holding a University or College degree or diploma in medicine or a certificate from a recognized medical school, of or above the grade of Hospital Assistant.

"Child." (5) Child means a boy or girl over six months and under twelve years of age.

"Adult." (6) Adult means any person of or above the age of twelve and under sixty.

"Unprotected person." (7) Unprotected person is a person, child or adult, who has not been protected against small-pox by having had that disease or by having been successfully vaccinated or who has not been certified under Rule 11 of these rules, to be insusceptible to vaccination.

"Vaccination Depôt." (8) Vaccination depôt means a place or building where public or gratuitous vaccination is performed by a vaccinator.

"Vaccination Circle." (9) Vaccination Circle means one of the parts into which a local area where vaccination has been made compulsory has been divided for purposes of vaccination, and in which one or more vaccine depôts have been opened.

2. Every local area in which vaccination has been declared compulsory shall be a vaccination circle or shall, in the manner hereinafter provided, be divided into a number of such circles.

"Vaccination Depôts." "Vaccinators." "Superintendent of Vaccination." 3. Each circle shall have one or more vaccination depôts where vaccination shall be done gratuitously at certain fixed hours. One or more vaccinators shall be appointed in the manner hereinafter provided, for each circle, and one Superintendent of Vaccination shall be appointed, in the manner hereinafter provided, for each local area. Such Superintendent shall usually be the Medical Officer of Health of the locality or in the absence of such an officer, a duly qualified Medical Officer possessing the necessary special training.

"Private Vaccinators." 4. The appointment of private vaccinators shall vest with the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of Mysore, who will, after satisfying himself that a candidate is competent, give him a written license authorizing him to perform vaccination in a vaccination circle. This license may be suspended or cancelled at the discretion of the said Sanitary Commissioner.

"Unprotected person to be vaccinated." 5. When any unprotected person, adult or child has resided for a period of one month in any local area where vaccination has been declared compulsory by Government, he or she, if adult, shall go to a vaccine depôt, or if a child, be taken there by its parent or guardian to be vaccinated, or the person requiring vaccination or, if a child, its parent or guardian may procure his or its vaccination by a vaccinator privately. Provided that unless there is immediate danger of small-pox infection, the unprotected members of a household may, with the permission of the Superintendent of Vaccination, get themselves vaccinated in turns, individually or in batches, as the said Superintendent may decide, so that there may be as little interference as possible with the daily pursuits of life of the members of the household on account of their vaccination. But in no instance shall the interval of vaccination allowed on this account between the first individual or batch of individuals and the last individual or batch of individuals be more than two weeks.

Vaccinator to vaccinate persons or deliver certificates of postponement.

6. Such vaccinators shall vaccinate the person and deliver to him or her, or if a child, to its parent or guardian, a memorandum stating the date on which the vaccination has been performed and the date on and the hour at which the vaccinated person or child is to be inspected in order to ascertain the result of the operation; or, shall, if he find such person in a state of health unfit for vaccination, deliver to the person, or if a child, to its parent or guardian, a certificate under his hand to the effect that the person is in a state unfit for vaccination, and the period during which the person is likely to be so unfit.

Inspection after vaccination.

7. Every person vaccinated under the above section, or if a child, its parent or guardian, shall, on the date and hour of inspection stated in the memorandum, go, or take the child or cause it to be taken, to a vaccinator for inspection or get it inspected at his own house by a vaccinator; and such vaccinator shall then append to the memorandum a certificate stating that the person or child has been inspected, and the result of such inspection.

NOTE.—In the case of adult females observing the "gosha" or "purda" system, both vaccination and inspection shall be performed by a female vaccinator, if the parties so desire.

Procedure when vaccination is successful.

8. When it is ascertained at the time of inspecting a person or child under Rule 7 above, that the vaccination has been successful, a certificate shall be delivered by the vaccinator to the person, or if a child, to its parent or guardian to that effect, and such person or child shall be deemed to be protected.

Procedure when vaccination is unsuccessful.

9. When it is ascertained as aforesaid, that the vaccination has been unsuccessful, the person, or if a child, its parent or guardian shall, if the vaccinator so direct, cause the person or child, if in a satisfactory state of health, to be forthwith again vaccinated and subsequently inspected in the manner hereinbefore provided. If the person be not in a fit state of health, the vaccinator shall deliver a certificate as under Rule 6, stating the period during which the person is likely to be so unfit. Provided that, if it is a case of revaccination that has been unsuccessful, the person shall not be compelled to be vaccinated again. But the individual should be strictly advised to have the operation performed at least once more, say within a fortnight, as vaccination sometimes fails through having been imperfectly performed as well as through the individual being immune.

Procedure when person is unfit for vaccination.

10. A certificate granted under Rules 6 and 9 above, showing the unfitness of a person or child for vaccination, shall remain in force for the period stated therein and on the termination of that period, the person shall go, or if a child, its parent or guardian shall take it or cause it to be taken to a vaccinator to be vaccinated, or procure the vaccination at his house by a vaccinator.

Renewal of postponement certificates.

Provided that, if the person or child is still found to be in a state unfit for vaccination, the certificate granted under Rules 6 and 9 referred to above shall be renewed.

Certificates of insusceptibility of successful vaccination.

11. If a person or child is insusceptible of successful vaccination, which shall be inferred from vaccination on three occasions proving unsuccessful, the Superintendent of Vaccination shall deliver to the person or if it be a child, to the parent or guardian of such child, a certificate under his hand to that effect, and the person or child shall thenceforth not be required to be or caused to be vaccinated.

Certificates of vaccination by private vaccinators to be forwarded to the Superintendent.

12. Any person who procures a vaccination of himself or any other member of his household or child under his guardianship by a vaccinator other than those appointed as public vaccinators in the circle in which he lives, shall forward a certificate of such vaccination and its result signed by the vaccinator to the Superintendent of Vaccination within fifteen days from the date of such vaccination.

Certificates from a qualified Medical man and private vaccinators to be accepted.

13. The Superintendent of Vaccination shall accept certificates from a qualified Medical man or private vaccinator as to (1) successful vaccination, (2) unfitness of a person for vaccination and (3) the insusceptibility for vaccination.

Proviso.

Provided that the Superintendent may cancel any certificate given under these rules, if it be proved to his satisfaction that such certificate has been given improperly or obtained on behalf of any unprotected person or child, and thereupon such certificate shall no longer be valid. In case of any doubt as to these certificates the Superintendent shall personally examine the person vaccinated or certified to be unfit or insusceptible, provided always that in case the person is a 'gosha' or 'purda' female, the inspection shall be done by a female vaccinator as provided under Rule 7.

What lymph to be used.

14. Vaccination of persons should be performed with calf lymph, fresh or preserved, whichever is available.

Scientific care of lymph to be used.

15. All lymph used for vaccination shall be cultivated, collected, preserved, distributed and used with such scientific care as may from time to time be prescribed by the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government, and certified to be pure by an officer pronounced competent for that purpose by the said Sanitary Commissioner.

Use of other lymph.

16. Any person desirous of getting himself, members of his household or children under his guardianship, vaccinated with any lymph other than those described in para 14 above, may procure the same at his own cost, and get himself, his household or children under his guardianship vaccinated with it, provided that the lymph so obtained is certified to be pure by an authority accepted as competent by the Sanitary Commissioner.

Carelessness in vaccination and vaccination by unauthorized persons considered offences.

17. A vaccinator shall take all possible precautions to perform the operation carefully and aceptically; and any vaccinator who by carelessness or neglect or by use of lymph which has not been certified as required in rules 15 and 16, injures the health of a person vaccinated, and any person who, not being duly authorized to vaccinate according to these rules, vaccinates persons with any lymph within the area in which these rules have been made applicable, shall be considered to have committed an offence under the Mysore Vaccination Regulation of 1906.

No fee to be charged except by a private vaccinator.

18. No fee shall be charged by any vaccinator except by a private vaccinator for any of the duties imposed, under rules, on such vaccinator.

Proviso.—(1) Provided that it shall be lawful for a vaccinator to accept a fee for vaccinating a person or his household at his request, or if a child, at the request of its parent or guardian, elsewhere than in the depôt in which such vaccinator is working. (2) provided also that in the case of females observing "gosha" or "purda" system, no fee shall be charged for vaccinating them in their houses within the circle for which such vaccinator is appointed.

Duties of the Superintendent of Vaccination.

19. The Superintendent of Vaccination, in addition to other duties imposed on him by or under these rules, shall ascertain whether all unprotected persons above the age of six months within the area under his superintendence have been vaccinated; and if he has reason to believe that any person is bound by the provisions hereinbefore contained to procure vaccination of himself or child under his care and guardianship or to present himself or it for inspection and has omitted so to do, he shall personally go to the house of such person any time between 6 A.M. and 6 P.M., and there make enquiry and shall, if the fact is proved, forthwith deliver to such person or cause to be affixed to his house a notice requiring the person or child under his care or guardianship to be vaccinated or (as the case may be) to present or to be presented for inspection, at a time and place to be specified in such notice.

Notice to person or parent or guardian neglecting to comply with these rules.

20. When, in accordance with rule 19, the Superintendent of Vaccination goes to a house in his circle to make the necessary enquiries, it shall be the duty of the head of the household or in his or her absence, the eldest adult member present, to present, if so required, all or any member of his or her household before the Superintendent of Vaccination for his inspection and to state correctly their name, age, period of residence and other particulars that may be required by him.

Heads of household to present members of the household for inspection and to furnish correct information.

Provided that, in the case of females of and above 12 years of age, especially those observing the "gosha" or "purda" system, the inspection and enquiries shall, if so required by the parties, be made by any competent female on behalf of the Superintendent.

Proviso.

21. In cases where there is immediate danger of small-pox infection, the Superintendent of Vaccination may, by special notice served on the head of a household or affixed to the house, require any person living therein who is unprotected against the disease and does not possess the certificate of insusceptibility prescribed in rule 11, and is in consequence exposed to the risk of catching the infection and conveying it to others, to go, or in case of a child, to be taken to a vaccinator and get himself or it vaccinated forthwith. Any person so required shall get himself, or if a child in his care or guardianship, that child, vaccinated within 48 hours after the service of the notice as above mentioned.

Special provision in case of immediate danger of small-pox infection.

22. If the notice referred to in rules 19 and 21 has been served and is not complied with, the Superintendent of Vaccination shall report the matter to any Magistrate having local jurisdiction, and the Magistrate receiving such report shall summon the person and demand his explanation and shall, if such explanation be not satisfactory, make an order in writing directing such person to comply with the notice before a date specified in the order.

Order by Magistrate when notice is not complied with.

23. If on such date the order has not been obeyed, the Magistrate shall summon the person before him and unless just cause or excuse is shown, shall deal with the disobedience as an offence punishable under section 2 (3) of the Mysore Vaccination Regulation of 1906.

Procedure when order not obeyed.

24. When the above rules are made applicable to any local area where vaccination has been made compulsory by Government, the local authorities of such area may from time to time make bye-laws consistent with these rules for the proper enforcement of the Vaccination Regulation within the limits to which it applies. Such bye-laws shall be passed in the manner in which, under the law for the time being in force, the local authorities make bye-laws, and shall, when confirmed by Government and published in the Government Gazette, have the force of law;

Power to make bye-laws.

Provided that the Government may at any time rescind or modify any such bye-laws.

25. The bye-laws to be made for any local area under rule 24 above may, among other matters, provide for:—

IMPROVEMENT OF COTTON.

The following article on the "Improvement of West African Cotton" appearing in the "Bulletin of the Imperial Institute" Volume IV, No. 4, is reprinted and published for general information:—

"The description of a simple, systematic process to be followed in selecting cotton seed for sowing, with a view to improving the type of cotton grown in British West Africa has been prepared by Mr. G. C. Dudgeon, Superintendent of Agriculture for the West African Colonies and Protectorates.

"Having selected a good 'native' variety to start from, there should be little difficulty in improving it. In several parts of West Africa good types of native cotton occur, but in all cases these have been found wanting in one or more particulars, which render them not altogether satisfactory, and the elimination of these unsatisfactory characteristics is one of the most important ends of the selection process to be described.

"Assuming that a small area has been planted with seed from one of these good 'native' cottons, and that it is desired to establish a better quality of cotton by improving this, the officer in charge of the experiment should, in the first instance, go through the plants when they are half-grown and pull up all which show signs of disease or imperfection. These should be burned. Next, all plants showing vigorous growth and a tendency to fruit early should be marked with stakes. Earliness in fruiting is desirable where the cotton plant is to be treated as an annual, but is less important where two seasons' crops are taken from the same plant. By raising an early-fruiting annual cotton, it is possible to break the continuity in the generations of many insect pests, and so render the cotton plants less liable to attack by such pests. Further, early ripening of the fruit gives the planter the opportunity of more thoroughly cultivating his land.

"About a week after the stakes have been put in, the officer should make a second inspection and eliminate from the marked plants all which show improper branching, insufficient buds to the branch, or any indications of disease.

"After these preliminary selections have been completed, strong healthy plants only will remain marked by stakes, and in these the more important characteristics must be looked for. At this time from 10 to 20 per cent of the plants in the field may bear stakes, and an examination of the first ripe bolls produced by these should be made for fineness and strength of the lint. If in the same inspection those which are most satisfactory in whiteness, length and regularity, of staple can be determined, so much the better. If not, the bolls must be inspected later for these qualities. At this stage the plants still remaining should have labels tied to them, with the following italicised words printed on them, against which the officer can make his note:—

Quality of stalk (thick, thin or medium).

Branches (number, high or low, bushy or straggly).

Earliness (date of opening of first bolls).

Colour of lint. Fineness, strength, length and regularity of staple (a cotton of uniform length is more valuable than an uneven cotton of greater maximum length). Silkiness or lustre. Relative weight of lint to seed.

"The last point can be decided upon as a final test, and will reduce the selection to plants which are to be used as mother-plants for the following season's further selection. The seed from the whole of these selected plants can be used, although it is sometimes desirable to leave out that taken from the bolls which ripen last.

"A complete description of the mother-plant selected as above should be recorded for reference. The order of importance of the qualities mentioned above having been decided upon, marks should be assigned to the different plants in the field, and in this way it should be easily determined which is the most desirable form of cotton to establish. Without such directions to follow, the choice between two or three plants might be difficult. For instance, one plant might give the largest yield, yet fail in some quality of lint, or it might be best in everything, with the exception of relative weight of lint to seed. It seems best to recommend that the seed from each of the selected plants should be sown in separate plots, and the values worked out later. In no circumstance should seed from plants showing variation from one another be mixed, or the object of the selection will be defeated.

"It is fair to take the production of seed from a selected plant in West Africa, after allowing for dead seeds, and late bolls, as 400 from which 300 plants will be produced under ordinary conditions. From these 300 plants selection must be made in the second year in the same way as before, the seed for replanting being taken only from that plant best approximating to requirements. The remaining seed of the second year's crop, which will be, at any rate, an improvement on the original stock, can be distributed to the more careful native farmers, but should not be used for sowing at the experiment station. Later when a good type has been established in the experimental plantations, selection of parent forms will be reduced to the elimination of those plants which show an undesirable variation from the established form as well as those which show liability to disease or weakness. The work at this time will be so much simplified that the experimental plantation can then become a seed-producing area capable of distributing improved seed.

"The work of selection for each season should be done by the same officer on the plantation throughout that season."

Circular No. 21, dated 2nd May 1907.

CARAVONICA COTTON.

The following instructions regarding the cultivation of Caravonica Cotton, extracted from a memorandum kindly furnished by Mr. David Thomatis, Queensland, are circulated to all District and Branch Agricultural Associations:—

"(a) One pound of seed contains about 2,000 grains and suffices to plant over 2 acres at say 8 × 8 feet apart or about 700 trees per acre: here I plant 10 × 10 feet, and in one year the whole ground is covered.

"(b) The best soil is sandy loam, river flats, sea islands or any light soil as near sea-beach, etc. Land containing magnesia or magnesite is highly suitable, as also disintegrated slates and granite or schist.

"(c) Seed within your Presidency can be germinated all the year round; it should be put out on the field in situ and covered about ½ inch. It germinates from 8 to 12 days. The ground over seed should be kept moist during germination and, until the plant is strong, either by light showers or by watering. If seed is put in while showers occur, it saves the watering. Ground need not be ploughed, clean spots may be hoed where the seed should be placed. If ground is ploughed, a catch crop of maize, sweet potatoes, pulse, lentils, beans, etc., may be grown for the first six months.

"(d) After eight months, the trees should be about 6 feet high and give the maiden crop.

"The cropping should take place during your six driest or rainless months; the crop lasts for six months, the trees continually flowering, podding and bolling, and the picking should be repeated every fortnight from same trees. During the other six months of course of rainfall, the trees do their growing, when floods will not affect them, nor droughts during the cropping time. Every tree when fully developed should give from 8 to 15 lbs. of bolls of 50 per cent lint at least. Trees may be pruned like willows or mulberries just after the crop and as severely as one likes, even to the stump. Trees can be trained to crop any six months of the year the grower chooses, i. e., in dry season according to his locality. The training consists in plucking all the blossoms that should appear during the rainy seasons. This done one year or two, the trees will understand."

Circular No. 22, dated 1st July 1907.

HINTS FOR AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATIONS.

The following hints which have been prepared by Mr. M. E. Couchman, I.C.S., Director of Agriculture and Chairman of the Central Agricultural Committee, Madras, have been printed for general information:—

1. General.—It is recommended that Agricultural Associations should not at present devote any time or money to the introduction of new crops unless such are recommended by the Agricultural Department. The Department is experimenting with several kinds of crops and new varieties, and will recommend any which are found satisfactory as soon as they have been properly tested. In the meantime it will be glad to receive suggestions from the Associations as to what new crops should be experimented with; any defects in the existing crops should also be brought to its notice. It will also give advice regarding the introduction of new crops and the best method of cultivating them. Seeds for experimental purposes will not ordinarily be supplied by the Department unless there is a reasonable prospect of the experiment being a success. Orders for seed should be given a long time beforehand so that good seed may be carefully selected and prepared.

2. There are, however, several improvements in the cultivation of the indigenous crops which might be immediately introduced to the notice of the raiyats by the Agricultural Associations with great advantage, more especially, as they involve little additional trouble or expense. In some cases they will be cheaper than existing methods.

3. Second wet crop.—In some districts where there is a supply of water for nine months or more one crop only is grown. This is often due to the loss of time involved by waiting for irrigation water to prepare the seed-bed. Seed-beds can be prepared before the main irrigation supply is received either by baling water from a shallow well as the water level is usually near the surface in such lands, or by making dry seed-beds. For dry seed-beds good well-drained loamy soil should be selected and the seed sown after the land has been well prepared by manuring and ploughing in the dry. The early showers will suffice to cause the seed to germinate. The transplanting can then be done within ten days of the receipt of the irrigation water, and the time thus gained will in many cases be sufficient to allow of a second wet crop being raised.

4. Dry leguminous crop following a wet crop.—If the water is not sufficient to enable a second wet crop to be grown, a leguminous crop such as horse-gram, or green-gram, cow-peas or Narippayir can be tried. In some districts it is the practice to broad-cast this in the standing paddy about ten days before the paddy is harvested. Better-crops can, however, be grown by ploughing the land immediately after harvest (before it has time to get too hard). On heavy black cotton soil or heavy rich loam a crop of Bengal gram may be raised after the paddy crop by dropping the grams into the furrow of a plough passed between the rows of stubble as soon after harvest as possible.

5. Green manuring.—In districts where the use of green manure crops is not understood, Associations might usefully undertake experiments, on a small scale at first, with Sunn-hemp and Wild Indigo. The land should be ploughed up and prepared immediately after harvesting the paddy and the crop ploughed in when about to flower. Sunn-hemp is thus used for manuring sugar-cane in the Godavari District and cow-peas, Panippayir and Narikkaramani are used for this purpose for paddy in several parts of the Presidency. The object of the experiment should be to compare the next paddy crop on a field thus treated with that on an adjacent plot cultivated in the ordinary manner, the two fields being cultivated in the same way in all other respects.

6. Ploughing up of bare fallows.—In many districts the raiyats understand the advantage of ploughing up the paddy fields for fallowing immediately after harvest, before the soil becomes too hard. In places where this practice is not followed, Associations might demonstrate the superiority of the next paddy crop grown on fields thus treated with that on fields left untouched. This experiment should not be tried on heavy clay soils at present.

7. In almost all districts too many seedlings are planted in each bunch. Experiments may be tried of planting single seedlings, the distance apart varying according to the richness of the soil; in poor soil the seedlings should be planted closer together than in rich. Some difficulty will be experienced at first in getting the coolies to follow this method, and it is possible that in the first year the crop will not show any marked superiority over the crops planted in the usual way. The seed from the crop, however, should be preserved for seed next year, and planted out in the same manner, when the superiority of the crop planted in this way should be apparent. The new variety "Banku" paddy is especially prolific when planted in this way.

8. Dry crops.—The chief defect in the cultivation of dry crops is the neglect to conserve the soil moisture by frequent stirring of the soil after rain or irrigation. On ordinary dry lands this end is to some extent obtained by the practice of ploughing through the young crop. This is a tedious and expensive method and is apt to damage the crop. On irrigated dry crops the neglect of surface cultivation necessitates more frequent waterings than would otherwise be required. By hoeing and weeding after irrigation instead of before, this would be remedied to some extent.

9. There are two simple experiments which Associations may try for the purpose of remedying these defects :—

(a) Crops on ordinary lands should be harrowed after every shower of rain as soon as the ground is dry enough; the crust which would otherwise harden on the surface is thus broken up, evaporation is minimised, and the surface soil is ærated. The standing crop will be little, if at all, damaged if the harrow is used with discretion. A pattern harrow can be supplied by the Central Agricultural Committee at cost price.

(b) Dry crops may be sown in rows with the country-drill, or dropped behind the plough, and the soil between the rows cultivated with the bullock hoe. Patterns of these instruments will be supplied at cost price by the Central Agricultural Committee to any Associations who wish to try them.

10. In irrigated garden lands the same method of cultivation may be followed. Transverse supply channels may be made only when the levels require them. Very valuable information could be collected if a careful record could be kept of the frequency with which irrigation is found necessary on lands thus treated as compared with lands the surface soil of which is left untouched. Some experiments which have lately been tried with the ground-nut on the Government Agricultural Station at Palur show that a great economy of water can be effected by loosening the soil on the day after each irrigation.

11. All possible help and advice will be given to Associations conducting experiments on these lines by the officers of the Agricultural Department, and where the experiments are on approved lines, and can be supervised by the Agricultural Department, grants-in-aid can be obtained from Government (G. O. No. 1084 of 8th May 1907).

No. 1.—The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Application for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be addressed to the Secretary to the Government of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments. Postage is not charged for places within the Mysore Province. All subscriptions and advertisement charges are payable in advance.

No. 2.—It is hereby notified that, as Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts, and other private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders will be received by the undersigned except from outside the Province.

No. 3.—Much inconvenience is caused in this office by subscribers not giving their full and correct addresses, and writing illegibly on the money order coupons, which are unfit for record.

No. 4.—Communications on post-cards or on paper less than half a sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention.

No. 5.—An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatching of Gazette copies forwarded through post. No responsibility will be accepted when copies miscarry, or are not delivered to addressees, and such losses will not be replaced by duplicate copies.

No. 6.—Complaints regarding non-receipts of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

No. 7.—Copy is sometimes sent to the Press late on Wednesday evening for publication in the next day's Gazette. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. It is therefore notified that all matter intended for publication in Parts II, III and IV should reach this office not later than Tuesday evening, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

No. 8.—It is requested that Departments will refrain from sending to the Press any matter for publication as extremely urgent, later than 12 noon on Tuesdays, when such matter can without inconvenience be held over for the next week's Gazette.

No. 9.—Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting, causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. It is therefore requested that, when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

No money orders will be received by the undersigned except from outside the Province.

No. 3.—Much inconvenience is caused in this office by subscribers not giving their full and correct addresses, and writing illegibly on the money order coupons, which are unfit for record.

No. 4.—Communications on post-cards or on paper less than half a sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention.

No. 5.—An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatching of Gazette copies forwarded through post. No responsibility will be accepted when copies miscarry, or are not delivered to addressees, and such losses will not be replaced by duplicate copies.

It is therefore requested that, when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

PROSPECTUS.

INTRODUCTORY.

1. The Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore having sanctioned the holding annually in the Mysore City, during Dasara season, of an Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition, and a Cattle and Sheep Show, and having appointed a Committee of the aforesaid gentlemen for giving effect to the orders of Government, the Committee have authorized the issue of the following prospectus :—

2. Object of the Exhibition.—The primary object of the Committee is to impart to the Exhibition a purely educative character and to bring together articles, machinery and processes, the use of which it is desirable to bring to the notice of the raiyat, the artizan and the manufacturer by actual demonstration. Consequently the Committee's main aim is not a mere promotion of sales of commodities and they are not therefore in favour of admitting in large numbers articles of merchandise intended purely for sale. They have no objection to the sale of samples exhibited and to their removal by purchasers after the Exhibition is over.

3. Gradual Development of the Exhibition.—As the Exhibition is to be a permanent institution and to be held every year it is proposed to develop it from small beginnings.

4. Scope of the Exhibition.—The scope of the Exhibition and the number of articles admitted may vary from year to year in the light of actual experience and will, in future, be announced before the end of May, though, during the present year, owing to the time taken in the settlement of preliminaries, the interval between the issue of the prospectus and the actual date of opening the Exhibition is very short.

5. Lectures and Demonstrations.—Arrangements will also be made for lectures being delivered by competent persons in English and Kanarese on subjects connected with Industry and Agriculture, the value of argicultural and industrial machines and implements, their cost, construction and repair. If possible, arrangements will be made for holding a competition on the Exhibition grounds in ploughing and weaving.

6. Donations.—The Committee would thankfully accept donations for awarding prizes or medals from individuals or Associations desiring to give an impetus to any special branch of Agriculture or Industry.

7. Classification of Exhibits.—The Exhibition of 1907 will be confined to the main groups and sub-heads indicated in the prize list subjoined to this prospectus.

8. Open to all India.—The Committee invite exhibits from all the Districts in the State as well as from outside. They also appeal to the various Agricultural Departments and Associations in other parts of India, Burma and Ceylon to help them with exhibits and suggestions.

9. Opening of the Exhibition.—As a rule every year the Exhibition will be opened a few days before the commencement of Dasara and it will last for about 4 weeks. This year it is resolved to open the Exhibition on Saturday, 5th October, at 8 A.M. and to close it on Thursday, 31st October, at 5 P.M. The Cattle and Sheep Show will be usually commenced soon after the Vijaya Dasami (i.e., 10th day of the Moon) and be kept open for 4 days. This year the Show will begin on Thursday, 17th October and close on Monday, 21st October.

10. Date of Lecture, etc.—Lectures and demonstrations will be arranged this year between Monday, 14th October, and Thursday, 24th October, and the exact time and place will be announced later on by hand-bills and notices.

11. Judges.—The Committee invite the co-operation of leading raiyats and non-official gentlemen in judging the exhibits and awarding prizes.

12. Place of Exhibition.—The Exhibition will be held in the Mysore City in the buildings known as the Police Reserve Lines which will be adapted for the purpose. A shed of galvanised corrugated iron sheets 150—30 will also be put up outside the lines for the exhibition of implements and machinery.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. Noxious Articles.—Explosives or any substance noxious or dangerous will not be admitted by the Committee.

2. Particulars re Exhibits.—Intending exhibitors are requested to send to the Secretary to the Exhibition Committee, particulars of exhibits they intend to forward and the amount of space which their exhibits may take up in Form A, appended to this prospectus. Printed forms may be obtained from the District, Divisional and Taluk Officers or from the Secretary to the Committee; plain paper of foolscape size may also be used, provided all the headings in the Form are properly copied and filled up.

3. Applications from Exhibitors.—Applications in Form A should reach the Secretary to the Committee not later than the 5th September 1907. Each application should contain a post card, on which the address and post town of the exhibitor are legibly written.

4. Lists from Taluks.—Deputy Commissioners of Districts, Sub-Divisional Officers and Amildars of Taluks are requested to convene as early as possible a meeting of the leading artizans, raiyats and merchants, residing within their respective charges, to explain to them fully the object and scope of the Exhibition and to distribute to them forms of applications, to have them filled up by intending exhibitors and to forward them to the Secretary to the Committee. This will give the Committee an idea of the total space required by each Taluk and enable the exhibitors to make a good choice of the exhibits by preventing a number of them from sending exhibits of the same quality and description.

5. Articles not enumerated.—The classified list of prizes will show the nature of articles which will be accepted by the Committee. Articles not specifically enumerated in the prize lists may, however, be admitted by the Committee at their discretion.

6. No fees to be charged for Exhibits.—No fees will be charged for the admission or registration of exhibits for the space allowed for them.

7. Acceptance of Exhibits.—The Committee, however, reserve to themselves absolute discretion as regards the acceptance and rejection of exhibits and the allotment of space, covered or uncovered.

8. Delivery of Exhibits.—Articles intended for the Exhibition may be brought by the exhibitor or his agent or servant and delivered at the Exhibition grounds or sent by post or railway.

9. Payment of Freight and Transport Charges.—No exhibits, in respect of which the necessary freight or transport charges have not been paid by the exhibitor, will be accepted by the Committee.

10. List of Particulars.—All packages received or delivered and all implements and machinery intended for the Exhibition must bear a label specifying the name and number of exhibits and must be addressed to the Secretary. They must contain a list in duplicate showing the name or description of the article, its price, the place and date of its production or manufacture, name of the manufacturer or exhibitor, and in the case of articles purchased from others, the place and date of purchase.

11. Exhibits which have already won prizes.—Exhibits which have won prizes or medals in the Mysore Exhibition of 1906 are precluded from competing for prizes, though, if they are educative value, there is no objection to their being accepted as exhibits.

12. Date of Delivery of Exhibits.—All exhibits should be sent to the address of the Secretary so as to reach the Mysore City between the 10th and 25th September 1907.

13. Belated Exhibits.—Articles that are not delivered at the Exhibition Hall in the time fixed in the preceding rule may be admitted at the discretion of the Committee subsequent to 25th September, but they shall not be eligible to compete for prizes.

14. Perishable Articles.—Vegetables, fruits, dairy produce, and other perishable articles may, however, be delivered at the Exhibition Hall till 7 P.M. on 4th October 1907.

15. Admission of Exhibits.—No exhibits will be admitted without a pass signed by the Secretary or Members of the Committee on duty at the Exhibition Hall.

16. Responsibility of Exhibitors.—Exhibitors will have to pay every expense of transit, delivery, fixing and removing their exhibits, and they must either personally or by their agents or servants superintend their reception and removal, in default of which the Committee reserve to themselves the right of doing whatever may be considered necessary at the expense of the exhibitor.

17. Committee accepts no Responsibility.—Free passes will be given to men in charge of the exhibits and every care will be taken of them while in the Show rooms, but no responsibility will be accepted by the Committee as to any damage or loss howsoever occurring.

18. Special Facilities.—Exhibitors are requested to mention in their applications whether they wish to illustrate practically any processes of manufacture or the working of any implements or machinery and if so to describe briefly the nature of the demonstration and any special facilities they require.

19. Special Arrangement to be made at Exhibitor's Expense.—If the Exhibitors require any special arrangements to be made (or have to mount their machinery) they must carry them out at their own expense, but the Committee will be glad to give such aid as may be possible in the shape of getting skilled or unskilled manual labour at the Exhibitor's expense.

20. Valuable Exhibits.—All valuable exhibits must be forwarded under the charge of an attendant.

21. Exhibits unaccompanied by men in charge.—Exhibitors who are unable to attend personally or to send their agents in charge of exhibits may make special arrangement with the Committee for the exhibition of their goods on payment in advance in full of the estimated expense.

22. Articles on Sale.—Articles on sale or articles sold should in every case have cards attached to them notifying the same.

23. Removal of Exhibits.—All exhibits must be removed within a week after the close of the exhibition. Exhibits remaining after that time will be disposed of as the Committee deem fit.

24. No exhibit will be allowed to be removed before the termination of the Show.

25. Perishable articles will be allowed to be removed at the option of the owners or purchasers twenty-four hours after the opening of the Exhibition.

26. Exhibits on Loan.—Works of art and articles of special merit including those of antiquarian interest will be thankfully received from gentlemen willing to lend them and all arrangements for the display of such exhibits, for their safe custody and return, will be made by the Committee at their own expense.

27. Gentlemen desirous of sending exhibits on loan are requested to place themselves in communication with the Secretary or Members of the Committee who will inform them of the acceptance of the offer and will make necessary arrangements in connection with the Exhibition of the offered articles.

28. Exhibits belonging to any Department of Government.—Articles or cattle exhibited by any department of Government will not be eligible for money prizes or medals, but may be awarded certificates of merit.

29. Admission of Live Stock.—All cattle and sheep brought for the Show will be located in a convenient place before the first selection and only such of the animals as are selected will be permitted to be picketted in the sheds provided at the Show yard according to breed, age, size, etc.

30. Accommodation for Cattle.—Accommodation will be provided by the Committee free of cost for about 150 head of cattle.

31. Provision for Fodder.—Arrangements will have to be made by the owners themselves for providing the animals with fodder.

32. Admission to the Show Grounds.—Only pass or ticket-holders will be allowed to enter the Show grounds while the cattle are judged.

33. Animals which have won Prizes.—No animal which has own a prize in previous years within the Mysore State will be eligible for a prize.

34. Practical Test.—Working cattle may, at the owner's option, be subjected to a practical test as to their powers of draught. They must be the bona fide property of the exhibitor.

35. Single bullocks will also be tested both for riding and draught purposes at the owner's option.

36. Care-taker.—Each animal or lot competing separately must be in charge of a care-taker who will remain in charge of the exhibit and must be ready to lead it out at any time as required by the Committee.

38. Number of Judges.—The Judges in each class or group will not be less than three, but no prizes will be awarded unless in the opinion of the Judges the exhibits merit the reward. Judges cannot compete for prizes in classes or sections in which they are Judges.

39. Potograph of Articles exhibited.—No article exhibited may be copied, photographed, drawn or re-produced in any manner without the special permission of the exhibitor and the Committee. General photographs of the stalls may, however, be taken with the permission of the Committee.

DEWAN :—

Mr. C. Sreenivasaiengar has sent a letter regretting his inability to attend this meeting. He states that he generally approves of the principles of the bills, but that he has got certain amendments to propose, which he will do in due course.

The Secretary reported for the orders of the Council the representations received from Mr. Hema Hanumanthaiya, retired Assistant Commissioner, Mr. S. R. Balakrishna Rao, Advocate, Patel Subbaroyappa and Lakshminarasimhachar. The first two were reserved for consideration, and the other two were filed as they did not relate to any matter actually under the consideration of the Council.

Mr. Narasimmaiengar presented a petition received by him from certain raiyats of the Devanhalli Taluk and observed that it was a protest against the Village Offices Bill.

Bill to amend the Stamp Regulation, II of 1900.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR :—

SIR,

I rise to move for permission to introduce a bill further to amend the Regulation No. II of 1900, relating to Stamps. That Regulation itself was passed on the lines of the Indian Stamp Act of 1899 in amendment of the previous Act I of 1879 which was in force in the Province. Since then the Indian Stamp Act of 1899 has been modified considerably by Acts VI of 1900, XI of 1904 and V of 1906. In the amendment Regulation now proposed are embodied all the changes introduced by these three amendment acts.

These changes have been arranged in ten clauses. Of these that which deserves to be mentioned first is clause No. 7 relating to the alteration of clause (1) (b) of Section 40 of Regulation II of 1900. This latter clause gives no discretion to the Deputy Commissioner to levy a penalty of less than ten times the amount of the proper stamp duty or of the difference between it and the stamp affixed on the instrument, where such amount is in excess of Rs. 5, even when he considers that it would be a hardship to enforce the full penalty. The hardship caused by this was brought to notice at the last meeting of the Representative Assembly. It is proposed to remedy this by inserting the words "an amount not exceeding" before the words "ten times the amount" in the said sub-section. This amendment has already been made by Act IV of 1904 in the Indian Stamp Act 1899.

The next in order of importance is clause 4 proposing a modification of the first proviso in Section 26 of the Regulation II of 1900. Under the existing proviso, the tendency is to levy stamp duty on Mining leases granted by Government where the value of the share or royalty is indeterminate, on an assumed valuation of Rs. 20,000 a year. This is considered unsuitable and hard in the case of small and unproductive mines. It is proposed to remedy this by providing that where a Mining lease is granted by the Government, the stamp duty leviable thereon will be according to the estimate, to be made by the Deputy Commissioner, of the amount of royalty payable. Clause 9 provides for the revision of the Deputy Commissioner's decision in such cases by the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority.

Another modification of some importance is made by clauses 1 (a) and (3). The former clause defines the expression "Marketable security." This definition is necessary in connection with the new Section 23*A* proposed in clause 3 providing for the levy of a fixed fee of 8 annas only instead of the fees prescribed in article 6 of Schedule I, when the security deposited by way of equitable mortgage is marketable.

Clause 10 (1) is also of some importance. There appears to be some doubt as to whether pawns and pledges come under article 6 of Schedule I. Other defects and anomalies noticed in the same connection are—or (b) for the case where the advance secured is repayable on demand.

It is proposed in clause 10 (1) to omit the term "equitable mortgage" and amplify the article so as to define more clearly the nature of the transaction intended to be covered. Pawns and pledges are specifically mentioned and the reference to 'hypothecation' has been omitted; thus all transactions of the nature of hypothecation, i.e., where movable property is simply appropriated by way of security for the discharge of a debt or engagement without parting with its possession are outside the scope of the article. It is proposed to impose the same duty on a document securing repayment after more than one year as that on a document securing repayment within one year; and documents securing repayments on demand are to be liable to the same duty as that on documents securing repayments after more than three months.

[Mr. A. Rangaswami Iyengar; Mr. T. Ananda Rao.]

Finally it is proposed to place all documents, whether their execution is or is not simultaneous with the advances secured by them, on the same footing.

Clauses 5 (b), 6 & 10 (7) relate to the duty on fire and marine insurance policies and have been introduced, though not likely to be required for use in the State, in order to bring the provisions of our Stamp law in line with those of the British Indian Act.

The following clauses also propose minor changes of some practical use :—

Clause 1 (c).—It suggests an addition to the definition of 'Settlement' with the object of preventing the evasion of stamp duty imposed on settlements which it is now possible to effect by the simple expedient of first making an oral disposition of the property to be settled and then recording the terms of the disposition in a declaration of trust in which the Settler and the Trustees join. Such an instrument is only chargeable with a stamp duty of Rs. 15 under Article 62 instead of with the heavier duty imposed by Article 56. The proposed addition to the definition will have the effect of requiring such instruments in future to be stamped as Settlements.

Clause 10 (5).—Stamp duties on certain mortgages of crops are reduced from four annas to two annas.

Clause 8.—Admits private banking firms to the benefit allowed by Section 51 of the Regulation in regard to the refund of the value of unused stamp papers.

It is unnecessary to refer to the remaining clauses as they are either unimportant or have been framed to carry out the amendments and alterations necessitated in the Act and the first Schedule by the amendments referrred to in the preceding paras.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion, and it was put to the Council and carried.

The Village Offices Bill.

MR. T. ANANDA RAO :—

SIR,

Under Rule 33 of the Rules for the conduct of business, I beg to move that the bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Village Offices in Mysore be read in Council. The bill has been printed and published in the Mysore Gazette, and copies have been furnished to the Members of this Council. The bill is accompanied by a Statement of Objects and Reasons. By a study of them, I have no doubt that Members have realized to themselves what I stated the other day in regard to the principles and scope of the proposed measure. It does not appear that notices of any amendments have been given. But it is not to be inferred from this that the bill is beyond criticism and incapable of improvement. Probably, proposals in this behalf have been reserved for the Committee stage of the bill. And speaking for myself I can say that this is the case. For example, on an examination of clauses 5, 6, and 7 of the bill, it will be found that the principal Village Officers, Patel, Shanbhog, Nirganti, Toti and Talari in alienated villages are, in respect of qualifications for office and discipline in office, placed on a somewhat different footing to that of their brother officers in Sirkar villages, the difference being, in my opinion, to the prejudice or in disparagement of the proprietors of alienated villages. Seeing how badly village accounts are kept, how badly also revenue is collected and accounted for to the raiyat and to the proprietor in an alienated village, I would like to see these proprietors possess facilities for better control over their village servants than is given in the bill. I reserve proposals in this behalf for the Committee stage. For another example, the representation from Mr. Hema Hanumanthaiya, retired Assistant Commissioner, which has been just presented to Council, is an interesting document making some suggestions worthy of being examined by a Select Committee on this bill. I may here refer to what he says regarding the necessity for registering the sonless widow in some cases as the holder of an office, and allowing her to appoint a substitute with reservation to herself of one-quarter of the salary of the office. It may be that the deceased husband obtained the office in the course of a partition of family property in which the office was reckoned as an asset; and in that case, it would indeed be a hardship to her to be deprived altogether of the emoluments of the office, and thereby perhaps the means of livelihood, upon the death of her husband without a son to take his place. It will be for the Select Committee first, and for this Council next, to consider how her requirements can be reconciled with those of the public service. Under such circumstances, I move that the bill may be read in Council, and that the Council may be pleased to appoint a Select Committee under Rule 33, clause 2, to consider and report on the bill.

[Mr. Rangiengar; Mr. A. Rangaswami Iyengar; Mr. T. Ananda Rao; Dewan; Mr. K. P. Puttanna Chetty.]

MR. RANGIENGAR:—

I heartily second the motion just now made by the First Councillor. The principles of the bill seem to have been discussed almost thread-bare by high officers of Government. There may be little to add to what has already been urged on behalf of the amendment of the bill; but owing to various reasons, as pointed out by the mover himself, the bill should go before a Select Committee and discussed in detail section by section. I submit that the bill may be referred to a Select Committee.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR:—

With your permission I will make one or two remarks on this occasion. There are a number of amendments which I shall reserve for the Select Committee stage. But on one principle I wish to dwell before the bill is referred to the Select Committee. The provisions of the bill are calculated to impair the hereditary nature of the appointments. I think the Council will do well to examine that point before referring it to the Committee as it stands, or if the Council will express their opinion on that point, it will enable the Select Committee to modify the provisions in conformity with that view, in their discussions. The appointments have been held to be hereditary for a long time, and the remuneration paid to these officials is so small that but for their hereditary character, it would have been impossible for the Government to have secured their services for so long. And this is important for another reason. If we want to promote the corporate nature of the village community and give certain powers of management to them, the Village Officers will be a very important element of that corporate body, and unless steps are taken to make the offices continue in the same family, it is not likely that the officials holding these appointments will command the necessary influence. It is very good to have educational and other qualifications, but these will not at all supply what is most wanted in these offices and that is, the influence which the hereditary character of the office and long residence in a village carry with them. I think, therefore, I am justified in proposing this point for the consideration of the Council at this stage. The rules framed are, I fear, calculated to disturb the hereditary nature of the appointments. No doubt, discretion is given to the Deputy Commissioners to select out of the family, but once there is none in this family who is qualified, the appointment may go out of the family altogether.

MR. T. ANANDA RAO:—

That point was not unnoticed. I said we were going to respect all the traditions of the appointments subject to what is essential for improving the service.

DEWAN:—

I do not think there is any idea of departing from the principle we have all along recognised in making the appointments. The hereditary principle is fully recognised and will be departed from only when it conflicts with the fitness of the individual, and even then the office will not be taken away from the family altogether.

The motion was put to the Council and carried, and the bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of Messrs. T. Ananda Rao, A. Rangaswami Iyengar, V. N. Narasimmiyengar, M. Kantharaj Urs and M. C. Rangiengar, for report before the 28th November 1907.

The Police Bill.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY:—

I have already explained in my opening speech the main principles of the bill. I shall only take up certain objections brought forward in the public press against the measure.

Two kinds of objections have been raised with reference to the Bill. The first objection is directed against the continuance of the Police powers of the Amildar and the Deputy Commissioner; while the second objection, approving of this arrangement, finds fault with the bill because it is thought that it ignores the principle of the separation of the executive and judicial functions. As regards the first objection, I have dwelt sufficiently at the last meeting upon the advantages accruing from the exercise of control over the Police officers by the Amildar and the Deputy Commissioner, and it is not perhaps necessary to say more on the point. I may, however, point out that the bill merely defines the existing state of things and that, where it deviates from the present system, it gives more liberty of action to the Police officers than they at present enjoy. The bill merely continues the Police powers of Amildars and Deputy Commissioners which they have been enjoying for a long time. The existing system does not appear to have caused any inconvenience or injustice. Therefore it rests on those who object to the present system to make out a case for divesting these executive officers of their Police functions. There is nothing objectionable in principle in investing the chief executive officers of the taluk and district, respectively, with the executive powers of Police officers.

The objection that the bill perpetuates the combination of executive and judicial functions is based on a misapprehension of the scope and objects of the bill. It is enough to dispose of this objection to say that there is nothing either in the bill or in my speech in introducing it to justify the assumption that the combination of the executive and judicial functions is extolled or extenuated. The question is a large and difficult one; it requires consideration from various aspects. And we cannot very well deal with the question in a bill which has for its subject-matter the organization and discipline of the Police force. In this bill, what we are concerned with is, whether it is not advantageous to continue the Police powers of the executive officers referred to. In this connection I see no advantage in discussing the wholly different question of the separation of executive and judicial functions. I may, however, say that the subject is engaging the attention of Government.

With these remarks I beg to move that the bill be read in Council.

MR. B. NAGAPPA seconded the motion and said that he was in agreement with the general principles of the bill.

The motion was put to the Council and carried, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of Messrs. K. P. Puttanna Chetty, V. N. Narasimmiyengar, M. C. Rangiengar and B. Nagappa for report before the 28th November 1907.

Bill to amend the Court Fees Regulation, III of 1900.

MR. T. ANANDA RAO :—

SIR,

The prescribed formalities having been fulfilled, I rise to move under Rule 33 that the bill to amend Section 4 of the Mysore Court Fees Regulation, III of 1900, be read in Council.

2. The justification for the proposed measure was stated by me here the other day, and has been explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. It might be further explained that as the law is now understood to stand in suits between landlord and tenant, when the tenant sues the landlord to recover possession of land from which he was unlawfully ejected, the Court fee payable is based on the yearly rental as stated in clause (xi) (e) of section 4 of the Regulation. But if it is the other way, that is, if the landlord sues the tenant to recover possession of land which the tenant unlawfully persists in holding, the basis of the Court fee is not the rent but the value of the land itself. The bill now proposes to alter this so as to make the yearly rent the basis in both cases. To prevent the temptation which frequently exists to strain the terms of a tenancy beyond fair bounds either way, it is proposed to fix a minimum amount as the Court fee. Thus, the Court fee payable is to be a fixed fee of Rs. 10 or according to the last yearly rent whichever is the greater of the two. The proposed bill is short and simple, and I do not know that the Council is not prepared to proceed with it without the intervention of a Select Committee.

MR. B. NAGAPPA :—

I second the motion. It is not necessary to refer this Bill for the consideration of the Select Committee.

There is an obvious defect in the section, namely, that it does not provide for cases where a tenant denies the landlord's title and the Courts allow the plaintiff to amend his plaint and prove his title. In such cases there is no provision empowering the Courts to levy additional Court fees. There will also be a difficulty about the question of jurisdiction.

With a view to remedy these defects an amendment may be proposed at the next meeting of the Council when this Bill will be formally considered.

[Mr. Rangiengar.]

MR. RANGIENGAR read Section 7, sub-head (xi), clause (c.c.) of the British Indian Court Fees Act as amended by Act VI of 1905, and said :—The amendment introduced into the British Indian Act is very simple and covers all cases contemplated by the present proposed amendment. There is no reason why any minimum fee of Rs. 10 should be fixed. As in British India, we here may simply provide for the Court fee being paid according to the annual rental value. The learned member in charge of the bill pointed out that a tenant can sue his landlord for possession of the property leased, paying a Court fee upon the annual rental value, and claimed for the landlord a similar indulgence. I am quite at one with him on this point. It seems to me that the provision relating to the suit by the tenant is capable of improvement. The provision as it stands at present enables the tenant to sue on a smaller stamp for being restored to possession of the property leased of which he has been wrongfully deprived. The existing provision does not provide for the tenant suing on a smaller stamp his landlord for being put in possession of the property leased, if the landlord refuses to deliver possession at all. A further difficulty in connection with the proposed amendment is what should be done when the defendant denies the lease altogether. Is the suit to be confined to the trial of one issue as to the existence of the relationship of landlord and tenant between the plaintiff and the defendant, and if that issue is found against the plaintiff, is the suit to be dismissed upon the analogy of a summary suit under Section 9 of the Specific Relief Act, or will the Council provide for the suit being tried on the question of title upon payment of any additional Court fee? These are some of the questions that demand consideration.

The Dewan observed that these were points to be discussed in a Select Committee, and the Council was also of this opinion.

The motion to read the bill was put to the Council and carried, and the bill was referred to a Select Committee consisting of Messrs. T. Ananda Rao, A. Rangaswami Iyengar, S. Narayana Rao, M. C. Rangiengar and B. Nagappa for report before the 28th November 1907.

The meeting was then dissolved.

President.

RESOLUTION.—In their letter No. 958 R. T., dated the 9th November 1903, the Government of India in the Public Works Department expressed the opinion that the recent advance in signalling and block-working on Railways in India necessiated a revision of Part I of the General Rules for working open lines of railway, promulgated with their circular No. 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895. This, it was considered, should be undertaken by a Committee specially selected and appointed for the [illegible] In this view and in order to assist in the consideration of the matter, Local [illegible] Administrations, Officers in charge of Railways, and Railway Administrations were consulted and their opinion invited as to the need for reform. The opinions expressed were later circulated for the information of Local Governments, Administrations, Officers in charge of Railways and Railway Administrations, under Government of India, Public Works Department, letter No. 580 R. T., dated the 24th June 1904, with the intimation that it had been decided to entrust the revision of the rules to a Committee composed of officers from the Traffic, Locomotive, and Engineering Departments and a Signal Engineer.

2. The Committee duly considered and framed a set of rules so as to meet the many varying needs of the railways in India, from those of fast and heavy traffic, to those of very light traffic worked by daylight only. This draft was further circulated for information, under Government of India, Public Works Department, letter No. 1045 R. T., dated the 10th November 1904, and taken into consideration by the Government of India in the Public Works and Legislative Departments. A further revised draft was circulated under Railway Board's letter No. R. T. 89, dated the 5th May 1905, and subsequently placed before the Indian Railway Conference Association for their consideration and recommendations.

3. The recommendations of the Conference having been considered by the Railway Board and by the Government of India in the Legislative Departments, a complete and revised set of General Rules has now been framed.

4. Part II of the General Rules, promulgated with the Government of India, Public Works Department, circular No. 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895, has, however, not been revised, but the opportunity has been taken to reprint it with such amendments to date as have been issued from time to time.

5. In exercise of the powers conferred by the notification of the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry, No. 801, dated the 24th March 1905, read in the preamble above, the Railway Board sanction, under section 47, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), and in supersession of the rules annexed to the Government of India, Public Works Department, circulars Nos. 17 R., dated the 21st August 1880, 3 Railway, dated the 19th April 1892, and 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895, and of all other rules made in this behalf, the adoption by the Administrations of all lines of railway in British India administered by the Government and for the time being used for the public carriage of passengers, animals, or goods, of the accompanying General Rules, and direct that they shall be brought into force on the 1st January 1907.

6. The Railway Board desire that the said rules may be brought to the notice of the Administrations of the several Railways not administered by the Government and that the Agents and Managers of those Railways may be invited to submit a formal application for the adoption of the rules, with such modifications (if any) as may be considered necessary in each case.

ORDER.—Ordered that this circular, with its enclosures, be published under a notification in the Gazette of India as required by section 47, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), and that a copy thereof be kept open for inspection at railway stations as directed by sub-section (6) of the same section; also that a copy of this circular and of its enclosures be communicated to the Governments, Administrations, and Officers, noted in the margin, for information.

General Rules refer

Minimum equipment of fixed signals.

43. The minimum equipment of fixed signals to be provided for each direction shall be as follows:—

(a) at a Class A station—
a Warning signal,
a Home signal, and
a Starting signal;

(b) at a Class B station—
an Outer signal, and
a Home signal; and

(c) at a Class C station—
a Warning signal, and a Home signal.

Additional fixed signals at Class B stations.

44. Besides the minimum equipment prescribed in rule 43, the following fixed signals must be provided at Class B stations, namely—

(a) on a double line—a Starting signal for each direction;

(b) on both a double and a single line—if trains run through at high speed without stopping, a Warning signal, to be fixed below the arm of the Outer signal; and

(c) on a single line worked on the Absolute Block system—if the obstructing of the line outside the facing points in the direction of an approaching train is permitted under rule 110, a Shunting Board (bearing the words "shunting limit" on the side which faces the station, and fitted with a lamp showing a white light in both directions to mark its position by night) or an Advanced Starter, to be fixed at a distance not exceeding two hundred yards from the facing points, to mark the extreme limit up to which such obstructing may be permitted.

Exceptions to rules 43 and 44.

45. Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 43 or rule 44,—

(a) if the station is already provided with an Outer signal and a Main signal, the latter may remain in use instead of a Home signal, until the station is interlocked, or until the Government Inspector orders otherwise. At such stations on a double line, trains shall be worked in accordance with approved special instructions;

(b) if the station has only one pair of points on the main line, signals shall be erected, and the station shall be worked, in accordance with approved special instructions;

(c) on any railway where traffic is light and speeds are slow, all signals, except one Stop signal at each station for each direction, may, under the special sanction of the Government Inspector, be dispensed with, the said Stop signal being placed at such point within or outside the station-yard as he may approve, and trains being worked in accordance with approved special instructions; and

(d) on any railway having very light traffic worked by day only, all or any signals may, with the special sanction of the Government Inspector, be dispensed with, trains being worked in accordance with approved special instructions.

Additional fixed signals at stations generally.

46. In addition to the equipment prescribed in rules 43 and 44, such other fixed signals (if any) must be provided at every station as may be necessary for the safe working of trains.

Signals at Class D Stations.

47. At a Class D station a train may be stopped either by hand signals or by a fixed Stop signal for each direction.

F.—Signals at Gates.

Signals at gates.

48. Unless exempted under approved special instructions, every gate which closes across the line at a level crossing must, except when interlocked with station signals, be provided with semaphore signals fixed at an adequate distance from the gate and showing Stop signals both up and down the line when the gates are open for the passage of road traffic.

G.—Working of Fixed Signals.

Fixed signals generally.

49. (1) Subject to the provisions of Rule 18, fixed signals must always be kept "on" (that is, at "danger") except when taken "off" (that is, lowered) to allow a train to pass.

(2) No fixed signal shall be taken "off" without the permission of the Station Master.

(3) The Station Master shall not give permission to take signals "off" to admit a train until—

(a) all facing points over which the train will pass are correctly set and secured,

(b) all trailing points over which the train will pass are correctly set, and

(c) the line over which the train is to pass is clear and free from obstructions.

(4) Except in cases of emergency, a signal which has been taken "off" for the passage of a train shall not be placed "on" until the whole of the train which it controls has passed it or, in the case of a Main signal, has arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand.

(5) At stations on a single line, except under special instructions where the interlocking or the lay-out of the yard renders a contrary procedure safe, when two or more trains are approaching simultaneously from any direction, the signals for one train only at a time may be taken "off," all other signals being kept "on" until the train for which the signals have been taken "off" has come to a stand at the station or has cleared the station.

Home signals.

50. (1) When a train is approaching a Home signal otherwise than at a terminal station, the signal shall not be taken "off" until the train has first been brought to a stand outside the signal unless—

(a) (on a double line) the line is clear for an adequate distance beyond the Starting signal; or

(b) (on a single line) the line is clear for an adequate distance beyond the trailing points, or up to the farthest Outer signal, whichever distance is less, or if, allowed by approved special instructions, for an adequate distance beyond the place at which the train is required to come to a stand.

(2) The adequate distance referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be fixed by special instructions, but shall never be less than two hundred yards without the sanction of the Government Inspector.

The Outer signal.

51. (1) The Outer signal shall never be taken "off" to admit a train which has not been brought to a stand outside it, unless the line on which the train is to be received in the station is clear, in the case of a double line, up to the Starting signal, and, in the case of a single line, for an adequate distance beyond the first facing points.

(2) When a train which is booked to run through has to be stopped out of course at a station where Warners are not provided, the Outer signal shall not be taken "off" until the train has been brought to a stand outside it.

(3) The Warner shall never be taken "off" for a train that is booked to stop, or for a train that has to be stopped out of course.

Calling-on signal.

52. A Calling-on signal referring to a running train shall not be placed to "off" until the train has been brought to a stand at the signal below which the Calling-on signal is fixed.

Shunting.

53. (1) The Outer, Home and Main signals and the outermost Starting signal of a station shall not be taken "off" for shunting purposes.

(2) Starting signals, where Advanced Starting signals are provided, must be taken "off" for shunting purposes, except where the arrangement of the interlocking interferes with this practice, in which case Shunting arms must be provided.

H.—Defective Signals.

Duties of Station Master.

54. As soon as the Station Master becomes aware that any signal has become defective or has ceased to work properly, he shall—

(a) take measures, either by disconnecting the wire or by other means, to place the signal "on" if it is not already in that position;

(b) depute one or more competent railway servants, with such hand signals and detonators as may be required, to give signals at the place where the defective signal is situated, until the Station Master is satisfied that such signal has been put into proper working order;

(c) if possible, advise the station in rear in order that the Drivers of all approaching trains may be warned; and

(d) report the occurrence to the person who is responsible for the up-keep of the signal.

Use of other signals.

55. (1) If a Warner is out of order, it must be kept in the horizontal position, and Engine Drivers will work to the other signals.

(2) If a Warner on a post by itself is out of order and cannot be kept in the horizontal position, a red hand signal must be shown at the foot of the signal post, and by night the fixed green light must be extinguished; and trains, after having first been brought to a stand, may then be hand-signalled past.

(3) If a Home or Main signal, or a Starter or Advanced Starter, is out of order, the railway servant stationed at the signal must show hand signals in accordance with instructions from the Station Master.

(4) If the Outer signal is out of order, the railway servant stationed at it—

(a) must repeat by hand signal the indication given by the Home signal, or

(b) If the Home signal is also out of order, must repeat the indication given by the hand signal at the Home signal.

Intimation to station when defects remedied.

56. As soon as a defective signal has been put into good working order, the Station Master must intimate the fact to the station which was advised of its being defective.

CHAPTER III.

WORKING OF TRAINS GENERALLY.

Standard time.

57. The working of trains between stations shall be regulated by the standard time prescribed by the Governor-General in Council, which must be sent daily to all the principal stations on the railway.

Adherence to advertised time.

58. No passenger train or mixed train shall be despatched from a station before the advertised time.

Notice of running.

59. No train shall be allowed to run unless previous notice has been given, when practicable, to all stations concerned.

Permission to approach and authority to proceed.

60. (1) No person other than the Station Master may ask for or give permission to approach or give authority to proceed.

(2) An authority to proceed given to a running train shall lapse as soon as the last vehicle of the train has passed—

(a) on a double line, inside the Home signal; or

(b) on a single line,—

(i) inside the Home signal, or

(ii) where there is no Home signal, inside the facing points.

Pushing engine.

61. (1) No engine shall be allowed, outside station limits, to push any train, except in accordance with special instructions and at a speed not exceeding fifteen miles an hour.

(2) Sub-rule (1) shall not apply to an engine assisting in rear of a train.

Engine running tender foremost.

62. (1) A passenger train or a mixed train shall not be drawn outside station limits by an engine running tender foremost, except—

(a) under a written order issued by the authorised officer, or

(b) in a case of unavoidable necessity, to be established by the Engine Driver.

(2) When any such train is so drawn, the speed shall not exceed fifteen miles an hour, or such higher speed, not exceeding twenty-five miles an hour, as may be authorised by approved special instructions.

Guards and brake-vans.

63. (1) Except under special instructions, no engine with vehicles attached shall be despatched from any station without one or more Guards and one or more brake-vans or hand-braked vehicles.

(2) Every Guard must, except under special circumstances, ride in his own brake-van or braked vehicle.

(3) Unless it be otherwise directed by special instructions, one brake-van must be attached to the rear of the train:

Provided that reserved carriages or other vehicles may, under special instructions, be placed in rear of such van.

Means of communication with passengers.

64. No passenger train or mixed train shall be despatched from any station unless it be provided with means by which a Guard can communicate with, or get access to, every passenger carriage in the train.

Explanation.—A goods vehicle in which passengers are carried is not a "passenger carriage" within the meaning of this rule.

Loading.

IX of 1890.

65. (1) No wagon or truck shall be so loaded as to exceed the maximum gross load on the axles fixed under section 53, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, or such less load (if any) as may have been prescribed by the Railway Administration.

(2) Except under approved special instructions, no vehicles shall be so loaded as to exceed the maximum moving dimensions prescribed from time to time by the Railway Board.

Couplings.

66. No vehicle that is not furnished with screw couplings or with a central buffer coupling of approved pattern shall be attached to a passenger or mixed train.

Dangerous vehicles.

67. (1) No vehicle which has been off the line shall be allowed to run between stations until it has been examined and passed by a competent Carriage and Wagon Examiner:

Provided that, in case of a derailment between stations, the Engine Driver may, if he considers it safe to do so, take slowly to the next station a vehicle that has been off the line.

(2) If a guard or Station Master has reason to apprehend danger from the condition of any vehicle on a train before it can be inspected by a Carriage and Wagon Examiner, the Engine Driver shall be consulted, and, if he so requires, the vehicle shall be detached from the train.

Travelling cranes.

68. When attaching a travelling crane to a train, the Guard in charge of the train must see that the jib is properly lowered and secured, and that the cane is, if practicable, so placed that the jib will point towards the rear.

Dummy truck.

69. When the jib of a travelling crane projects beyond its truck, or when the load in a truck projects to an unsafe extent beyond the end of the truck, an additional truck shall be attached, to act as a dummy.

Private engines and vehicles.

70. No engine or other vehicle, the property of a private owner, shall be allowed to enter upon the railway, except in accordance with special instructions.

Train-lights.

71. At night, and in thick or foggy weather,—

(1) no train shall be worked outside station-limits unless it has—

(a) the head-lights prescribed by the Railway Administration; and

(b) in the case of an engine with vehicles attached, at least one red tail-light and two side-lights showing red towards the rear and white towards the engine; and

(c) in the case of a single engine without vehicles attached, at least one red tail-light; and

(d) in the case of two or more engines coupled together without vehicles attached, at least one red tail-light affixed to the rear engine;

Exception.—Where trains may run in the same direction on parallel lines the side-lights may be arranged in accordance with special instructions.

(2) no engine shall be employed in shunting within station limits or in a siding unless it has the head-lights and tail-lights prescribed by the Railway Administration; and

(3) when a train has been shunted for a following train to pass, the tail-light and side-lights must be dealt with in accordance with instructions given by the Railway Administration.

72. In order to indicate by day to the staff that a train is complete, the last vehicle must be distinguished by affixing to the rear of it either a tail-board, a tail-lamp, a red flag or such other device as may be authorised by special instructions.

Tail-board or tail-lamp.

73. Every train must be run on each section of the line within the limits of speed sanctioned for that section by special instructions.

Limits of speed generally.

NOTE.—The sectional speed sanctioned shall be shown in the Working Time-table, a copy of which shall be supplied on issue to the Government Inspector.

74. No train shall be run through facing points at a speed exceeding ten miles an hour, or such lower rate as may be prescribed by special instructions:

Limit of speed through facing points.

Provided that, if the points are interlocked with a fixed signal, or are locked in a manner approved by the Government Inspector, trains may run over them at such speed as may be approved by the Government Inspector.

75. Where there are points in the main line at a place which is not a station, provision for the protection of such points, by signals or otherwise, and for working them, shall be made in order to secure the safe working of trains to the satisfaction of the Government Inspector.

Protection and working of points.

76. When a train is to run, without stopping, through any station that is not interlocked, the Station Master of that station, or some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions, must proceed to the facing points and satisfy himself that all facing points over which the train will pass are properly set and locked.

Care of facing points when train runs through station without stopping.

77. A ballast train may be worked only with the permission of the Station Master on each side and in accordance with special instructions.

Working of ballast trains.

78. Before a ballast train is moved, the Engine Driver must give two clear whistles at an interval of half a minute, as a warning to the coolies that the train is about to move.

Warning before moving a ballast train.

79. When a ballast train with coolies is stabled at a station for the night, it must be protected in the following manner:—

Protection of ballast train when stabled.

(1) the Guard in charge of the train must see that all necessary points connected with the siding on which the train is stabled are correctly set against the train, and must then inform the Station Master, and, until the train is ready to start,—

(a) if the station is not interlocked—must padlock all necessary points connected with the siding on which the train is stabled and keep the keys in his possession; or

(b) if the station is interlocked—must tie a red flag on the lever-handle working the points; and

(2) when under clause 1 (b) a red flag has been affixed, the Station Master must take steps to ensure that the lever is not worked until the said Guard has removed the flag.

80. Shunting operations shall be controlled by Semaphore signals, Shunting signals, Siding signals, Miniature signals, Dwarf signals, Disc signals or Hand signals, or by verbal directions, as occasion may require.

Control of shunting.

81. No vehicle shall be moved so as to foul or obstruct any running road unless the previous sanction of the Station Master has been obtained.

Moving of vehicles so as to obstruct running road.

82. When any vehicle is being shunted on a steep gradient, the railway servant in charge of the operation must see that a sufficient number of brakes are put on, that sprags or hand-scotches are used when necessary, and that all necessary precautions are taken to prevent the vehicle getting out of control.

Shunting on steep gradient.

83. Loose shunting of, or against, vehicles containing passengers, explosives or live-stock is prohibited.

Loose shunting.

84. Where there is a double line, every train must, unless special instructions otherwise provide, be run on the left-hand line;

Double lines.

Provided that, if one of the lines should be blocked so as to necessitate single-line working, such special instructions as may be necessary shall immediately be issued for establishing single-line working.

85. In case of accident to the line or to any train, or of failure or interruption of electric connections, trains must be worked between stations in accordance with special instructions.

Working in case of accident or failure of electric connections.

TRAINS STOPPED BETWEEN STATIONS BY ACCIDENT, FAILURE OR OBSTRUCTION.

86. When a train is stopped between stations, the Guard in charge of the train must, unless the stoppage will only be one for a few minutes, immediately ascertain the cause; and, if the stoppage is other than incidental or authorised, and if he finds that through accident or for any other reason the train cannot proceed, the following action shall be taken, namely:—

Train stopped between stations.

(1) the said Guard must immediately either himself go back or send a qualified person back, to protect the train;

(2) the person so going back to protect the train must plainly show his hand Danger signal to stop any approaching train, and in addition to his hand signals must take detonators (to be used by day as well as by night), and must place them upon the line on which the stoppage has occurred, as follows, namely:—

(a) one detonator, three-eighths of a mile from his train, to be placed on the way out; and

(b) three detonators, ten yards apart, not less than half a mile from his train, or at such distance as has been fixed by special instructions;

and must also continue to show his hand Danger signal, to stop any approaching train, until he is recalled;

(3) when such person is recalled, he must leave down three detonators, and must on his way back pick up the intermediate detonator;

(4) the Engine Driver must at once show a Danger signal to the front, and must proceed to protect the train in front in the manner prescribed in clauses (2) and (3), either by going himself or by sending his Fireman or some other qualified person;

(5) if the stoppage has occurred on a double line, the Danger signal hereinbefore referred to must be shown on both lines; but, if it be subsequently found that the unoccupied line is not obstructed, the said Danger signal may be removed.

87. If the engine is for any reason unable to proceed, the Guard in charge of the train shall send advice to the nearest station, stating the nature and cause of the accident, and, if assistance has been asked for, he shall not allow the engine or any portion of his train to be moved until such assistance arrives, provided that if the train is subsequently able to move, it may do so at walking pace, but not unless a man has been sent with hand signals and detonators to protect the train, such man keeping at least a quarter of a mile in advance of the train, the other end of the train being protected in a similar manner.

Sending advice of accident or breakdown.

88. If any light engine should, while on the line outside station limits, be unable to proceed, the Engine Driver must see that the precautions prescribed by rule 86 are taken for the protection of the engine, both in front and rear, employing the Fireman or some other competent person to assist him.

Light engine stopped on line.

89. (1) If any portion of a train should, while in motion, become detached,—

Train parting.

(a) the Engine Driver must use his judgment to keep the front portion in motion if possible until the rear portion has been brought to a stand, so as to avoid the chance of a collision between the two portions, and

(b) the Guard or Guards in the rear portion must promptly apply their brakes and do all they can to prevent a collision with the front portion.

(2) As soon as the rear portion of the train has been brought to a stand, the Guard in charge of the train must protect that portion, in accordance with rule 86, both in front and rear.

90. (1) When a train, stopped between stations, has to be divided in consequence of an accident or the inability of the engine to take the whole train forward, the Guard in charge of the train must, before uncoupling, put down the brakes, and must, if necessary, otherwise carefully secure the rear portion of the train to ensure its remaining stationary.

Portion of train left on line.

(2) If the engine is capable of proceeding either with or without vehicles, the said Guard shall give permission to the Engine Driver to uncouple and proceed to the next station, and may, if he thinks fit, give him written instructions to return on the same line.

(3) When the said Guard has taken action under sub-rule (2), he must immediately take steps to protect the rear portion of his train in accordance with rule 86.

(4) At night, or in thick or foggy weather as soon as the engine, whether with or without vehicles, is drawn forward, the said Guard must see that a white light is shown on the front vehicle of the rear portion of the train.

(5) When the front portion of the train is taken forward, the Fireman, or, if there are two Guards with the train, the second Guard must, if it is practicable and safe to do so, ride upon the last vehicle of the said front portion of the train until it reaches the next station; but no tail-lamp or tail-board shall be placed on it.

(6) When, under the written instructions referred to in sub-rule (2), the engine is to be brought back, the Guard in charge of the train must, until the arrival of the engine, continue to take the precautions prescribed in rule 86, for the protection in rear of the portion of the train left on the line, and shall not permit a following train to move any of the vehicles under his charge.

(7) The Engine Driver shall not bring his train back on the same line unless he has received written instructions, under sub-rule (2), from the Guard in charge of the train to do so.

(8) If there is a double line, the Engine Driver may, under instructions from the Station Master, take the train back on the proper line according to the system of working until he can cross on to the line on which he has left the rest of his train, and may then proceed by that line; and, after attaching the engine, must work the train to the station to which he is directed.

(9) When moving in the wrong direction on a double line under the written instructions referred to in sub-rule (2), the Engine Driver must proceed cautiously, travel at reduced speed, and make frequent use of the engine whistle.

CHAPTER IV.

SYSTEMS OF WORKING.

Systems of working.

91. (1) All trains working between stations must be worked on one or other of the following systems, namely:—

(a) Absolute Block;

(b) Section Clear;

(c) Line Clear and Caution Message;

(d) Following Trains;

(e) Train-staff and Ticket;

(f) Pilot Guard; or

(g) One engine only.

(2) The Absolute Block system alone shall be used on every railway except any railway or portion of a railway on which the Railway Board may expressly sanction the use of any other system mentioned in sub-rule (1).

CHAPTER V.

THE ABSOLUTE BLOCK SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Absolute Block system.

92. (1) Where trains are worked on the Absolute Block system,—

(a) no train shall be allowed to leave a station unless permission to approach has been received from the station ahead, and

(b) such permission shall not be given unless the line is clear, not only up to the first Stop signal at the station at which such permission is given, but also for an adequate distance beyond it.

(2) The distance referred to in clause (1) (b) shall not be less than one quarter of a mile, unless otherwise directed by special instructions.

Class A Stations—Double lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

93. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has arrived,

(b) all signals have been put back to "on" behind the said train,

(c) the line on which it is intended to receive the incoming train is clear up to the Starting signal, and

(d) all points have been correctly set for the admission of the train on the said line.

Obstruction when train is approaching.

94. When permission to approach has been given, no obstruction shall be permitted outside the Home signal, or, on the line on which it is intended to admit the train, up to the Starting signal.

Obstruction outside Home signal, when block-section is clear.

95. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the Home signal, the line must be blocked back.

Obstruction outside last Stop signal, when block-section is clear.

96. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the last Stop signal,—

(a) either a shunting-arm (which may for this purpose be provided on the post of the last Stop signal) must be taken "off," or a written shunting order must be given to the Engine Driver, and

(b) the line must be blocked forward.

Obstruction when block-section is occupied by train travelling away from the station.

97. If the block-section is occupied by a train travelling in the section away from the station at which shunting operations have to be performed, such shunting shall be permitted only under either of the conditions prescribed in clause (a) of rule 96; and, as soon as intimation has been received that the train has arrived at the station ahead, the line must be blocked forward, if it is still obstructed by the shunting.

Thick or foggy weather.

98. In thick or foggy weather, a train waiting for an authority to proceed shall not be allowed to draw out to a Starting signal in an advanced position, or up to an Advanced Starting signal.

Class A Stations—Single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

99. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has arrived,

(b) all signals have been put back to "on" behind the said train,

(c) the line on which it is intended to receive the incoming train is clear up to the Starting signal, and

(d) all points have been correctly set for the admission of the train on the said line.

Obstruction when train is approaching.

100. When permission to approach has been given, no obstruction shall be permitted outside the Home signal, or, on the line on which it is intended to admit the train, up to the Starting signal which controls the train.

Shunting.

101. The block-section shall not be obstructed for shunting purposes, unless,—

(a) the Station Master has received a permission to approach from the Station Master at the opposite end of the section, or

(b) the section has been blocked back, or is occupied by a train travelling away from the station at which the shunting is to be performed, and

(c) the Engine Driver or other person in charge of the shunting operations has received distinct orders from the Station Master to shunt in a manner directed by special instructions.

Thick or foggy weather.

102. In thick or foggy weather, a train waiting for an authority to proceed shall not be allowed to draw out to a Starting signal in an advanced position, or up to an Advanced Starting signal.

Class B Stations—Double lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

103. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has passed inside the Home signal,

(b) the Home and Outer signals have been put back to "on" behind the said train, and

(c) the line is clear up to the Home signal.

Obstruction when train is approaching.

104. When permission to approach has been given, no obstruction of the line outside the Home signal shall be permitted; but shunting between the Home signal and the last Stop signal of the station may go on continuously, provided the necessary signals are kept "on."

Obstruction outside Home signal, when block-section is clear.

105. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the Home signal, the line must be blocked back.

Obstruction outside last Stop signal, when block-section is clear.

106. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the last Stop signal,—

(a) either a shunting-arm (which may for this purpose be provided on the post of the last Stop signal) must be taken "off," or a written shunting order must be given to the Engine Driver, and

(b) the line must be blocked forward.

Obstruction when block-section is occupied by train travelling away from the station.

107. If the block-section is occupied by a train travelling in the section away from the station at which shunting operations have to be performed, such shunting shall be permitted only under either of the conditions prescribed in clause (a) of rule 106; and, as soon as intimation has been received that the train has arrived at the station ahead, the line must be blocked forward, if it is still obstructed by the shunting.

Thick or foggy weather.

108. In thick or foggy weather a train waiting for an authority to proceed shall not be allowed to draw out to a Starting signal in an advanced position, or up to an Advanced Starting signal.

Class B Stations—Single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

109. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has passed within the Home signal, or in the case of a Main signal, has arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand,

(b) the Home (or Main) signal has been put "on," and

(c) the line is clear—

(i) to the Shunting Board or Advanced Starter (if any), at that end of the station nearest the expected train, or

(ii) to the Home signal, if there is no Shunting Board or Advanced Starter, or

(iii) to the facing points, if there is no Shunting Board or Advanced Starter and no Home signal.

Obstruction in the face of an approaching train.

110. Obstructing the line, outside the facing points, in the direction of an approaching train whether a Shunting Board or an Advanced Starter is provided or not, shall be permitted only under special instructions which take into consideration the speed, weight and brake-power of trains, the gradients, the position of the Outer signal and the distance from which that signal can be seen by the Driver of an approaching train.

Obstruction within station section.

111. If the special instructions referred to in rule 110 are obeyed, and if the necessary signals are kept "on," shunting may be carried on continuously either—

(a) between the Shunting Boards or Advanced Starters (if any), or

(b) between the Home signals, if there are no Shunting Boards or Advanced Starters, or

(c) between the outermost facing points, if there are no Home or Starting signals or Shunting Boards.

Obstruction outside station section.

112. Obstructing the line between the station section and the outer signal shall not be permitted unless a railway servant specially appointed in this behalf by the Station Master is in charge of the operation, and unless—

(a) the block section into which the shunting is to take place is clear of an approaching train ; or

(b) if an approaching train has arrived at the Outer signal, the Station Master has personally satisfied himself that the train has been brought to a dead stand at that signal :

Provided that the line may not be obstructed under clause (b) in thick or foggy weather, or in any case, unless authorised by special instructions.

Obstruction outside the Outer signal.

113. Obstructing the line outside the Outer signal is prohibited unless the line has been blocked back.

Class C. Stations.—Double and single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

114. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has passed at least a quarter of a mile beyond the Home signal and is continuing its journey, and

(b) the Home and Warning signals have been put back to the "on" position.

CHAPTER VI.

THE SECTION CLEAR SYSTEM.

Essentials and application of the Section Clear system.

115. (1) Where trains are worked on the Section Clear system,—

(a) no train shall be allowed to leave a station unless permission to approach has been received from the station ahead, and

(b) such permission shall not be given unless the line is clear up to the first Stop signal of that station.

(2) The said system is applicable only to Class B stations ; and to single lines only, unless otherwise authorised by approved special instructions.

Class B Stations—Single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

116. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has either passed inside the facing points or arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand,

(b) the Outer signal has been put back to "on" behind the said train, and

(c) the line is clear up to the Outer signal.

Obstruction between the Outer signals.

117. (1) Shunting shall not be carried on between the Outer signals, unless—

(a) the said signals are kept "on"; and

(b) after permission to approach has been given for a train, the line between the facing points and the Outer signal, in the direction from which the train will approach, is cleared not less than fifteen minutes before the expected arrival of the train, and is kept clear until the train has arrived or until it has been brought to a stand at the Outer signal.

(2) Subject to the provisions of clause (b) of sub-rule (1), obstructing the line between the facing points and the Outer signal, in face of an approaching train after intimation has been received that such train has entered the block-section, is prohibited, unless—

(i) the weather is clear ;

(ii) the time allowed for the run of the train is more than twenty minutes ;

(iii) the Station Master has personally satisfied himself that the Outer signal is clearly showing "danger" in the direction of the approaching train; and

(iv) if the train has arrived at the Outer signal, the Station Master has personally satisfied himself that the train has been brought to a dead stand at that signal.

Obstruction outside the Outer signal.

118. Obstructing the line outside the Outer signal is prohibited unless the line has been blocked back.

CHAPTER VII.

THE LINE CLEAR AND CAUTION MESSAGE SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Line Clear and Caution Message system.

19. Where trains are worked on the Line Clear and Caution Message system, no train shall be allowed to leave a station, unless—

(a) permission to approach has been obtained by telegram from the station ahead, and

(b) the Engine Driver has been given a written authority to proceed, certifying that the line on which he has to travel is either—

(i) absolutely clear of trains; or

(ii) occupied only by trains running in the same direction at time intervals.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

120. Such permission to approach shall not be given, unless, either—

(1) the line on which the train is to travel is absolutely clear of trains and all other known obstructions up to the Outer signal, and the whole of the last preceding train has passed inside the facing points or has arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand, or

(2) the line, outside the facing points, on which the train is to travel, is occuppied only by a train running in advance in the same direction, at an adequate interval of time, and a line has been prepared in the station for the reception of the train running in advance.

Nature of the authority to proceed.

121. (1) In case (1) of rule 120, the authority to proceed referred to in rule 119 shall be a Line Clear Certificate stating that the line is clear.

(2) In case (2) of rule 120, the said authority to proceed shall be a Caution Certificate stating—

(a) that the line is occupied only by a train running in advance in the same direction at a stated interval of time; and

(b) the time of the departure of the said train, and the place at which it will next stop.

Restrictions on grant of authority to proceed.

122. An authority to proceed shall not be granted at any station in case (2) of rule 120—

(a) if the train which is to follow a train running in advance is to be allowed to run at more than thirty miles an hour, or

(b) if the distance to the station ahead is less than five miles, or

(c) except in accordance with special instructions, unless the train running in advance has left the station at least fifteen minutes previously, or at such greater interval as may enable the said train at its booked speed to reach the next station at least fifteen minutes before the following train at its booked speed can do so.

Delivery of authority to proceed to Engine Driver or Guard.

123. (1) Every authority to proceed shall be delivered by the Station Master, or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf under special instructions,—

(a) to the Engine Driver, if the train runs through the station without stopping, or

(b) to the Guard in charge of the train, if the train stops at the station.

(2) When an autohrity to proceed is delivered to the Engine Driver under clause (1) (a) of this rule, a duplicate shall be given to the said Guard.

(3) When an authority to proceed is delivered to the said Guard under clause (1) (b) of this rule, it must be either—

(i) handed personally by the Guard to the Engine Driver, or

(ii) countersigned by the Guard, and then handed to the Engine driver either by the Station Master or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions.

(4) An authority to proceed shall not be handed to the Engine Driver under sub-rule (3)—

(i) until the train is nearly ready to start, or

(ii) if the train is waiting to pass another train—until the whole of the latter train has come in and is clear of the running road for the former train.

Responsibilities as to proper preparation of authority to proceed.

124. (1) When an authority to proceed is delivered to the Engine Driver under clause (1) (a) of rule 123, the Station Master must see—

(a) that it is properly filled up,

(b) that the date and time of the receipt of the line-clear or caution telegram upon which it is based are noted thereon,

(c) that it applies to the particular train to which such telegram refers, and

(d) that it is signed in full and in ink.

(2) When an authority to proceed is delivered to the Guard in charge of the train under clause (1) (b) of rule 123, he must, before it is handed to the Engine Driver, satisfy himself on the several points mentioned in sub-rule (1) of this rule.

(3) Whether the train stops or runs through a station, the Engine Driver must satisfy himself, so far as he may be able to do so, on the several points mentioned in sub-rule (1) of this rule, and if he finds that any of them are not complied with, he must not proceed with his train until the mistake or the omission is rectified.

Obstruction in face of approaching train followed by another train.

125. Obstructing the line outside the facing points in face of an approaching train followed by another train for which a permission to approach has been given, is prohibited.

Obstruction when approaching train is not followed by another train.

126. At a station where an approaching train is not being followed by another train, shunting shall not be carried on except—

(a) in accordance with rule 117; or

(b) where the special instructions referred to in rule 110 are obeyed, and the necessary signals are kept "on," then in accordance with rules 112 and 113.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE FOLLOWING TRAINS SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Following Trains system.

127. Where trains are worked on the Following Trains system, they may be despatched from one station to the next, following each other in succession in the same direction on the same line at such intervals of time as may be prescribed by special instructions, until it has been mutually arranged by telegraph between the Station Masters at either end of the section that such succession is to cease.

Introduction of the Following Trains system.

128. The Following Trains system may, notwithstanding anything contained in rule 91, be introduced in case of emergency when specially ordered by the authorized officer.

Conditions precedent to working of trains on the Following Trains system.

129. Trains shall not be worked on the Following Trains system unless the Station Master of the station ahead has telegraphed his readiness to receive the trains, and has given his assurance that no train will be allowed to leave his station for the station from which the Following Trains are to be despatched until the latter have all arrived at his station and until he has received permission to despatch trains in the opposite direction.

Conditions to be observed in working trains.

130. When the Following Trains system is adopted, the following conditions must be observed, namely,—

(a) no train shall be allowed to start until the Engine Driver has been given a written authority to proceed and a written acknowledgment thereof has been obtained from him, the train being stopped for the purpose, if not booked to stop;

(b) the authority to proceed shall state the time of the actual departure of the preceding train, the place at which it is next to stop, and the speed at which it is to run;

(c) the Engine Driver and Guard of each preceding train must have been informed of the fact that a train will follow, and of the probable period which will elapse before the following train will be allowed to start;

(d) a train shall not be allowed to follow another from a station unless there has elapsed since the departure of the previous train, an interval of not less than fifteen minutes, or such shorter interval (if any) as may be fixed by special instructions;

(e) all the trains shall be timed to run at the same speed, and such speed shall not exceed fifteen miles an hour, except under special instructions;

(f) no shunting shall be carried on between the Outer signal and the facing points while following trains are approaching;

(g) the actual time of the departure of each train must at once be intimated by telegraph to the station ahead, and the actual time of arrival of each train must at once be intimated to the station in rear; and

(h) the number of following trains running at the same time between any two stations shall not be more than one for each three miles of station interval; and, unless permitted by special instructions, shall never exceed four, whatever may be the length of the station interval.

Report of orders and special instructions.

131. When any order is given under rule 128, and when any special instructions are issued under rule 130, the same must immediately be reported by telegram to the Government Inspector.

Application of certain rules.

132. Rules 123 to 125 shall apply to working on the Following Trains system.

Cessation of working on the Following Trains system.

133. When it is intended that no more following trains shall be despatched in the same direction, the Station Master shall intimate such intention by telegraph to the station ahead, after which no more trains in either direction may be despatched between the two stations until the last train has arrived at the station ahead and the line has been cleared between the two stations.

CHAPTER IX.

THE TRAIN-STAFF AND TICKET SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Train-staff and Ticket system.

134. Where trains are worked between two stations on Train-staff and Ticket system,—

(a) a single Train-staff must be kept at one of such stations, and

(b) no train shall be permitted to start from either of such stations to the other unless the said Train-staff is at the stations from which the train starts and has either been handed to or shown to the Engine Driver by the Station Master when giving such permission.

System where applicable.

135. Trains may be worked on the Train-staff and Ticket system only when the line is single and only between such stations as have been declared by special instructions to be staff-stations.

General conditions.

136. Trains shall not be allowed to follow one another in the same direction between staff-stations, unless the Engine Driver has been properly warned of the time of departure of the preceding train and of the place at which it will next stop, and

(1) in the case of a passenger train to follow a goods train, or a goods train to follow a slow passenger train, an interval of fifteen minutes (or, if the distance to the next station in advance exceeds ten miles, such longer interval as is prescribed by special instructions) has elapsed since the departure of the preceding train, and

(2) in any other case, either—

(i) it has been ascertained that the preceding train has arrived at the next station in advance, or

(ii) an interval of ten minutes has elapsed since the departure of the preceding train.

137. No train shall be started from a station unless the Engine Driver has in his possession to be carried with him on the journey, either the Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket, for the section of the line over which the train is about to travel.

Engine Driver to have staff or ticket.

138. The Train-staff or Train-staff Ticket shall be delivered to the Engine Driver by the Station Master or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions.

Staff or ticket by whom to be delivered to Engine Driver.

139. (1) When no other train is intended to follow before the Train-staff will be required for a train running in the opposite direction, then, subject to the provisions of sub-rule (3), the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Engine Driver.

Staff or ticket when to be delivered to Engine Driver.

(2) When other trains are intended to follow before the Train-staff can be returned, then subject to the provisions of sub-rule (3), a Train-staff Ticket, indicating that the Train-staff is following, shall be delivered to the Driver of each train except the last; and the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Driver of the last train.

(3) When a train is assisted by a second engine in the rear, a Train-staff Ticket shall be delivered to the Driver of the front engine and the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Driver of the rear engine:

Provided that, if both the engines attached to the train are to travel over the entire length of line to which the Train-staff applies, and the train is to be followed by other trains, a Train-staff Ticket shall be delivered to the Driver of each of the engines attached to the first-mentioned train.

(4) When a train is assisted by a second engine in the front, the Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket, as the case may be, must be delivered to the Driver of the leading engine.

(5) When a ballast train has to stop between stations, the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Engine Driver.

(6) The Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket shall not be delivered to the Driver of any train until the train is ready to start.

(7) The Engine Driver shall not accept a Train-staff Ticket unless he sees the Train-staff at the same time in the possession of the person who delivers the ticket to him.

140. When the Train-staff is delivered to the Driver of a train, he shall place it in a conspicuous place provided for the purpose on the engine.

Staff to be kept on engine.

141. When the Train-staff has been taken away from a station by the Driver of a train, no other train shall be started from that station to follow the first-mentioned train until the Staff has been returned to the station.

Trains not to be started until staff returned.

142. (1) Upon the arrival of a train at the station to which the Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket extends, the Engine Driver must immediately give the Staff or Ticket to the Station Master, or to some railway servant appointed by special instructions to receive it.

Staff or ticket to be given up, and ticket to be cancelled, on arrival of train.

(2) The person to whom any such ticket is so delivered must immediately cancel the same.

143. (1) If an engine which carries the Train-staff breaks down between two stations, the Fireman must take the Staff to the staff-station in the direction whence assistance can best be obtained, in order that the Staff may be available at the station for delivery to the Driver of the assisting engine.

Procedure when engine is disabled.

(2) If an engine which carries a Train-staff Ticket breaks down between two stations, assistance must ordinarily be obtained only from the station at which the Train-staff has been left. But if assistance can more readily be obtained from another station in the opposite direction, immediate steps must be taken to have the Staff transferred to the other end of the section.

(3) Whenever an engine has broken down between two stations, the Fireman must accompany the assisting engine to the spot.

144. Train-staff Tickets must be kept in a ticket-box provided for the purpose and fastened by an inside spring, the key to open the box being the Staff to which the tickets apply.

Tickets how kept.

Train-staff how kept.

145. The Train-staff, when at a station, shall not be left in the box, but must be kept by the Station Master in safe custody.

Distinguishing marks on staff tickets and boxes.

146. (1) Each Train-staff must have shown upon it the name of the staff-station at each end of the portion of line to which it applies.

(2) The Train-staffs and Train-staff Tickets and boxes for the different portions of the line must be distinguished by different colours.

(3) "Up" and "down" Train-staff Tickets must also have distinguishing marks.

Form of ticket.

147. Every Train-staff Ticket shall be in the following form :—

The Engine Driver shall not accept this Ticket unless he sees the Train-staff for the portion of line which he is about to enter.

This ticket is to be given up by the Engine Driver immediately on arrival to the Station Master or other person authorised to receive it, and such person must immediately cancel it.

Record of tickets issued.

148. The Station Master must keep a record in a book of each Train-staff Ticket issued, showing the number of each ticket and the particular train for which it was issued.

CHAPTER X.

THE PILOT GUARD SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Pilot Guard system.

149. Where trains are worked on the Pilot Guard system,—

(a) a railway servant (hereinafter called a Pilot Guard) must be specially deputed to pilot trains, and

(b) no train shall be allowed to leave a station except under the personal authority of the Pilot Guard.

System where applicable.

150. Trains may be worked on the Pilot Guard system—

(a) on short branch lines having a single line of rails, or

(b) on lines to which the application of the system is authorised by special instructions.

General conditions.

151. Trains shall not be allowed to follow one another in the same direction between stations, except under the conditions prescribed in rule 136.

Pilot Guard's dress or badge.

152. The Pilot Guard must be distinguished by a red dress or badge.

Pilot Guard to accompany train or give authority to proceed.

153. (1) No train shall be started from a station unless the Engine Driver sees that it is accompanied by, or that the authority to proceed is given personally by, the Pilot Guard wearing the dress or badge prescribed by rule 152.

(2) The Pilot Guard must accompany every train:

Provided that, when it is necessary to start two or more trains from one end of the line before a train has to be started from the other end, the Pilot Guard shall accompany only the last of such trains and shall personally give the authority to proceed for the preceding trains.

(3) When accompanying a train, the Pilot Guard must ride on the foot-plate of the engine.

Pilot Guard's tickets.

154. (1) When the Pilot Guard does not accompany a train, he shall deliver to the Guard in charge (or, if there be no Guard in charge, to the Engine Driver) a Pilot Guard's ticket (on a printed form, where such are provided), properly filled up and signed, as the authority to proceed.

(2) Every such ticket shall apply only to the single journey to the station named on it.

(3) If the train is in charge of a Guard, he shall, before the train is started, deliver the ticket to the Engine Driver.

(4) Immediately on the arrival of the train, the Engine Driver shall deliver the ticket to the Station Master, who shall at once cancel it.

CHAPTER XI.

THE ONE ENGINE ONLY SYSTEM.

Essentials of the One engine only system.

155. Where trains are worked on the One engine only system, only one engine in steam, or two or more engines coupled together, shall be allowed on the line at one and the same time.

Application of the One engine only system.

156. Trains may be worked on the One engine only system, only on short branch railways having a single line of rails.

Procedure in case of accident.

157. (1) If a train becomes disabled and requires assistance, or if an accident occurs which renders it impossible for the engine (or, if two or more engines are coupled together, for either or both of such engines) to proceed, the Guard in charge of the train must instruct the Engine Driver to keep the engine stationary until his return, and must then proceed to the station from which assistance can best be obtained, and must inform the Station Master there of the circumstances.

(2) Such Station Master may then allow another engine to enter the line.

(3) Such other engine must be accompanied by the Guard in charge of the disabled train, who must explain to the Engine Driver where, and under what circumstances, the disabled train is situated.

(4) Such Guard shall be responsible for the safe and proper working of the line until each engine has left it and it is again clear.

(5) If there be no Guard in charge of the disabled train, the Fireman, or, if necessary, the Engine Driver, must perform the duties imposed by this rule on the Guard.

CHAPTER XII.

USE OF ELECTRICAL INSTRUMENTS ON DOUBLE LINES.

General Provisions.

Means of working.

158. Trains may be worked by means of—

(a) electric block instruments, or

(b) electric speaking instruments.

Provision of instruments.

159. (1) Electric speaking instruments must be provided at every station except class D stations.

(3) The electric block instruments (where provided) and electric speaking instruments at any station must be of a type approved by the Government Inspector.

Authority to proceed.

160. The Engine Driver shall not take his train from a station unless he has been given an authority to proceed by the taking "off" of the last Stop signal of the station.

Caution order.

161. On a double line, whenever, in consequence of the line being under repair or for any other reason, it becomes necessary to advise an Engine Driver to reduce speed or take special precautions, a caution order defining the place or places at which such precautions are necessary shall be handed to him at the stopping station immediately short of the place where special precautions are needed.

STATIONS AT WHICH ELECTRIC BLOCK INSTRUMENTS ARE PROVIDED.

Signalling of trains.

162. Every running train must, in its progress from station to station, be signalled on the electric block instruments.

Certificate of competency.

163. No person shall operate the block instruments until he has passed a satisfactory examination, and unless he holds a certificate of competency granted by a railway servant appointed in this behalf by the Railway Administration.

Bell Code.

164. Except under approved special instructions, the following uniform Bell Code shall be used, and a copy thereof shall be hung up in each station above the block instruments :—

7	TESTING SIGNAL ...	●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●	Sixteen ...	Sixteen.

Acknowledgment of signals.

165. (1) Each signal received must be acknowledged by the sending of its authorised acknowledgment.

(2) No signal shall be acknowledged until it is clearly understood.

(3) A signal shall not be considered to be complete until it is acknowledged.

(4) Should the station to which a signal is sent not reply, the signal must be repeated at intervals of not less than twenty seconds until the reply is received.

Train Register book.

166. (1) A Train Register book shall be kept by the Station Master or under his orders.

(2) The person who keeps the said book shall enter therein—

(a) immediately after acknowledgment, all signals (except Testing signals) received or sent on the block instruments, and the times of receipt and despatch; and

(b) every instance of a train being shunted at a station for another train to pass.

(3) The times entered in the book must be the actual times, except that any fraction of a minute must be counted as one minute.

(4) All entries in the book must be made in ink.

(5) No erasure shall be made in the book; but if any entry is found to be incorrect a line must be drawn lightly through it, so that it may be read at any time, and the correct entry must be made above it.

(6) The person who keeps the book shall be responsible for all entries made therein and for correctly filling in each column thereof.

The Attention signal.

167. (1) The Attention signal must be given when it is necessary to direct attention to the block instrument.

(2) When the Attention signal is sent before the despatch of the Is Line Clear signal, it shall not be given until the Train out of Section signal has been received for the last preceding train.

The Is Line Clear signal when to be sent.

168. In order to ascertain whether the station in advance is in a position to give a permission to approach to the station in rear, and in order to describe the train, the Is Line Clear signal (as in the Bell Code, according to the description of train) must be sent to the station in advance.

Acceptance of the Is Line Clear signal, and sending of a Line Clear signal.

169. (1) If, on the receipt of an Is Line Clear signal, the conditions under which a permission to approach can be given are complied with, the station in advance must accept the signal by sending the signal prescribed by special instructions to indicate Line Clear on the particular block instruments in use.

(2) Except in case of failure of the block instruments, a train shall not be allowed to leave a station unless the instrument for the section into which it is about to proceed shows Line Clear.

(3) When Line Clear is so shown, the semaphore signals applying to the train may be taken "off" to allow the train to proceed.

Note.—Matches which ignite by simple friction and Bengal lights (Pyrotechnic matches) which while not ordinarily igniting by simple friction are capable of doing so under chemical decomposition and are liable to spontaneous combustion, should be considered as coming within the class "matches, non-safety," while those which require to be rubbed on the prepared surface of the box which contains them to be ignited should be considered as coming within the class "matches, safety."

IV.—GOODS MARKED D IN RULE 14.

(8) Goods marked D in rule 14 must be packed in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for goods marked B in that rule:

APPENDIX B.

[SEE CHAPTER III, RULES 16 AND 26.]

Notification by the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), No. 5528, dated the 11th October 1901.

RULES NOW IN FORCE UNDER THE INDIAN EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1884 (IV OF 1884), AND AFFECTING RAILWAYS.

PRELIMINARY.

1. For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely :—

Class 1—Gunpowder,
" 2—Nitrate-mixture,
" 3—Nitro-compound,
" 4—Chlorate-mixture,
" 5—Fulminate,
" 6—Ammunition,
" 7—Firework,

and when an explosive falls within the descriptions of more than one class, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls.

CLASS 1.—GUNPOWDER CLASS.

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—NITRATE-MIXTURE CLASS.

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation, other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be, or be not added to such preparation and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate-mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Chilworth special powder,	Ripp-Lene,
Fortis explosive,	Safety blasting powder,

Westfallite,

and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3.—NITRO-COMPOUND CLASS.

The term "nitro-compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties, or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Amberite No. 1,	Dynamite,
Ballistite,	Gelatine Dynamite,
Blasting Gelatine,	Gelignite,
Carbonite,	Lithofracteur,
Cordite,	Nitro-glycerine,

Stonite,

and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists, either wholly or partly, of nitro-glycerine or some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Amberite No. 2,	Nitrated gun-cotton,
Ammonite,	Picrates,*
Bellite,	Picric acid,*
Coopal's powder	Picric powder,
Cotton gunpowder,	Roburite,
E. C. powder,	Sawdust and gun-cotton powder,
Gun-cotton ordinarily so called,	Schultz's powder,

Tonite (or cotton-powder),

and any nitro-compound as before defined which is not comprised in the 1st division.

CLASS 4.—CHLORATE-MIXTURE CLASS.

The term "chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder,
Brain's blasting powder,

and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

* NOTE.—(a) Picric acid mixed with not less than half its own weight of water shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive.

(b) Picric acid which does not fall within the exemption (a) when the quantity does not exceed two thousand pounds in any one ship, boat, carriage, building or place, shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive; provided that such picric acid is so kept and conveyed as not to be liable, whether under the action of fire or otherwise, to come in contact with any substance specified in the schedule hereto, or with any fire or light capable of igniting such picric acid.

Provided also that such picric acid when dry is so packed in a substantial barrel or case that the contents cannot escape; and that no metal other than aluminium, or an alloy containing not less than ninety per centum of aluminium, is used in the construction of any package containing such picric acid, and that each barrel or case is legibly marked "Picric Acid."

Picric acid when not subject to the above exemptions must be packed and marked as laid down in rule 2 of these rules.

Picrates and mixture of picric acid with any other substance (for whatever purpose used or manufactured) shall be deemed to be explosive subject to the following exceptions:—

(a) A picrate mixed with not less than half its own weight of water shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive.

(b) Picric acid thoroughly mixed with not less than three times its own weight of—

(i) anhydrous sulphate of soda,

(ii) crystallized sulphate of soda, when packed in hermetically closed packages, or

(iii) potash alum,

shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder,	Hochstadter's blasting charges,
Erhardt's powder,	Reichen's blasting charges,
Reveley's powder,	Teutonite,

Chlorated gun-cotton,

and any chlorate-mixture as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 5.—FULMINATE CLASS.

The term "fulminate" any chemical compound or mechanical mixture whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

The fulminate class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphuret with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

CLASS 6.—AMMUNITION CLASS.

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small-arms, cannon, or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion cap, a detonator, a fog signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war-rocket, or other contrivance other than a firewoork.

The term "percussion cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive classes in such quantity, that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting, which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small-arms of which the case can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges. The term also includes rifle-calibre machine-gun cartridges if they are of the above description, whether they are for use with machine-guns having chambers identical with those of rifles or with machine-guns which have special chambers.

Schedule.

Any of the following metals or metallic oxides, namely, lead, oxide of lead, oxide of iron, potash, baryta, lime, soda, oxide of zinc, oxide of copper; and any compound of such metal or oxide (other than a metallic sulphate); or any chlorate, nitrate, or other oxidizing agent; or any other substance declared by a Notification of the Government of India to be capable of forming with picric acid a dangerous compound:

Provided that this schedule shall not be deemed to include any metal, or oxide unavoidably formed on any metal used in the construction of any ship, boat, or carriage, or contained in any paint, where the packages containing picric acid are protected from direct contact with such metal or paint.

The maximum diameter at which a small-arm or machine-gun cartridge can be accepted as "safety" is one inch.

The ammunition class has three divisions:

Division 1 comprises exclusively,—

Safety cartridges,
Safety fuzes for blasting,
Railway fog signals,
Percussion caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition, as before defined, which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,
Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,
War-rockets,

which do contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition as before defined, which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Detonators,
Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,

which do not contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—FIREWORK CLASS.

The firework class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises firework compositions, that is to say, any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature, which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any star and any coloured fire composition, subject to the proviso hereinafter set forth.

Division 2 comprises manufactured fireworks, that is to say, any explosive of any of the foregoing classes and firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, toy cap or amorce, serpent rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article specially adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals or sound signals:

Provided that a substantially constructed and hermetically closed metal case, containing not more than 1 lb. of coloured fire composition of such a nature as not to be liable to spontaneous ignition, shall be deemed to be a "manufactured firework."

TRANSPORT.

(A).—PACKING.

2. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the packing of explosives for conveyance:—

(1) Unless the context otherwise requires,—

the expression "outer package" means a box, barrel, case or cylinder, of wood, metal or other solid material, of such strength, construction and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, nor become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape;

the expression "inner package" means a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent any explosive from escaping;

the expression "authorised explosive" means exclusively an explosive included in a List of Authorised Explosives prepared by the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India, and published annually in the Gazette of India, and in force for the time being;

the expression "propellant" means an authorised explosive of Class 3, adapted and intended exclusively for use as a propelling charge in cannon or small arms; and the expression "special authority" means a written authority granted by the Chief Inspector of Explosives, to which may be attached such conditions as may, in the opinion of the Chief Inspector of Explosives, be necessary to meet the special requirements of the case.

(2) The interior of every package shall be free from grit and otherwise clean.

(3) Save as hereinafter provided, there shall not be any iron or steel in the construction of any package unless the same is covered with suitable material so as effectually to prevent the exposure of such iron or steel.

(4) Every package when actually used for the packing of one explosive shall not be used for the packing of any other explosive or any other article or substance:

Provided that this rule shall not prevent the packing of inner packages containing a propellant in an outer package with inner packages containing gunpowder or another propellant:

Provided also that this rule shall not prevent the packing of any article which is not of an inflammable or explosive nature, or liable to cause fire or explosion, in the same package as an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class.

(B).—MODE OF CONVEYANCE.

4. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives:—

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed from place to place unless packed in the manner provided for in the foregoing rules.

II.—There shall not be conveyed in any carriage or vessel which is being used for the conveyance of an explosive, any explosive of a different class and division, of whatsoever nature, which contains its own means of ignition, unless it is sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

III.—Except in the case of small consignment carried by railway, which may be unloaded at any time, explosives shall be loaded or unloaded only between sunrise and sunset. For the purposes of this rule no consignment of more than half a wagon-load booked to one station shall be deemed to be a small consignment.

IV.—Whilst the explosive is being loaded on or unloaded out of any carriage or vessel, no fire or artificial light, nor any article which is liable to cause or communicate fire or explosion [such as charcoal, lucifer-matches, articles for striking a light, petroleum to which the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), or any other Act for time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies, or any spirit or oil or substance that gives forth an inflammable vapour at a temperature below 100° Fahrenheit] shall be, or shall be allowed to be, brought, had or used dangerously near to such carriage, ship, or boat, and no smoking shall be allowed in, on, or dangerously near to, the same:

Provided that when the use of a light for the purposes of such loading or unloading is unavoidable, a lamp of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger from fire or explosion may be used; and no person, while handling any explosive (except an explosive of division 1, class 6, if packed in accordance with the packing rules), shall wear boots or shoes with iron or steel nails, heels or tips.

*Rules regarding search for, and detention of, explosives contravening regulations, have been issued by the Local Governments.

V.—In the loading or unloading of any explosive, the casks and packages containing the same shall be passed from hand to hand and not rolled upon the ground; they shall not be thrown or dropped down, but shall be carefully deposited and stowed.

VI.—The explosive shall not be conveyed except in the interior of a carriage so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or in the hold of a ship or boat having a close deck so closed, as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without. If the explosive cannot be so secured, it shall be completely covered with painted cloth, tarpaulin, or other suitable material so as to effectually protect it against communication of fire.

VII.—There shall not be any iron or steel in the interior of the portion of the carriage or vessel with which the case containing the explosive is or may come in contact, unless the same is effectually covered with leather, wood, cloth, or other suitable material.

VIII.—In the stowing of the explosive, due precautions shall be taken by means of a partition or otherwise, and by careful stowing to secure such explosive from being brought into contact with, or endangered by, any other article or substance conveyed in such carriage or vessel which is liable to cause fire or explosion; and if the explosive is dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from coming into contact with such explosive.

IX.—The amount of the explosives conveyed in any one carriage or vessel at any one time shall not exceed 2,000 lbs. unless the carriage be so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or the vessel have a close deck so closed, as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without, in which case the amount of the explosives conveyed shall not exceed the following:—

	Tons
In any one carriage on a railway	10
In any one other carriage	2
In any one vessel	20

Note.—This rule shall, in the case of dynamite conveyed by railway, be read subject to paragraph XII of Rule 6.

X.—Nothing in the foregoing rules (except Rule I) shall apply to any explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class:

Provided that all due precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents.

5. * * * *

III. No explosive belonging to class I (gunpowder class), class 2 (nitrate mixture class), class 3 (nitro-compound class), class 4 (chlorate mixture class), or class 5 (fulminate class), shall be carried otherwise than by rail, across any railway bridge over which reasonable facilities for the conveyance thereof by rail are afforded by the railway administration:

Provided that this prohibition shall not apply in respect of quantities of explosives of class 1 (gunpowder class) or class 3 (nitro-compound class) not exceeding 5 lbs. in weight.

6. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives by public railway:—

I.—No person shall send for carriage upon any railway and consignment of an explosive, unless he has given to the officer in charge of the railway station previous notice in writing which, at the option of the Railway Administration, may extend to 48 hours, of his intention to send such consignment, and stating the true name, description, quantity, and mode of packing of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and unless he has had an intimation in writing from an authorised officer of the railway that such consignment will be received.

II.—No explosive which a Railway Administration shall, by any notice or regulation for the time being in force, notify that they will not receive, shall be brought, sent, or forwarded to, or upon any railway of the said Railway Administration.

III.—Consignments of explosives shall be sent to the forwarding station and shall be received by the railway servants only at such times, between the sunrise and sunset, as the Railway Administration may appoint; and every package containing any explosive proposed to be conveyed on any railway shall immediately on arrival at the station be unloaded and placed in a safe place under the special direction of the officer in charge of the station.

All gunpowder under despatch, or receipt by a Government arsenal, depot, or factory, shall be loaded or unloaded in the railway vans by Government servants employed in such arsenal, depot or factory. In each van used by the railway for the transport of gunpowder the packages of gunpowder shall be secured in such a way as to prevent concussion when the train is in motion.

IV. An explosive shall be removed by the consignee from the receiving station during the twelve hours of daylight after arrival: if this condition is not strictly complied with, the Railway Administration may return the consignment to the consignor at his risk and expense. And such packages shall in the meanwhile be kept as far away from the station buildings as possible, in the wagon they were conveyed in, or, if unloaded, shall be completely covered with tarpaulins or other suitable material, and, if necessary, shall be protected by a police guard.

V.—The Railway Administration may refuse to receive any packages which they suspect to contain any explosive packed or sent in contravention of these regulations. And in case any package, which the Railway Administration suspect, shall be upon any railway, the Railway Administration may open, or required to be opened, such package, to ascertain the fact, at the risk and expense of the consignor, and may return the explosive contained in the package to the consignor at his risk and expense, keeping the packages, pending such return, in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule.

VI.—Subject to the exception provided for in clause (e), no explosive shall be conveyed by passenger train except of the kinds and in the manner hereinafter specified in this rule.

(a) Safety cartridges and percussion caps and safety fuze (for blasting), also fog signals for railway use which may be conveyed in ordinary wagons or carriages.

(b) Explosives of 3rd (nitro-compound) class, which may be carried in the form of cartridges up to the limit of 5 lbs.

Provided that no detonators are carried in the same compartment.

(c) Detonators packed according to the proviso to Rule 2 (III) (e) may be carried to the number of 200:

Provided that in no case the amount of fulminate of mercurry in the package or packages containing the detonators exceeds in the aggregate 3 oz. (a certificate to this effect being given by the company, firm, or person tendering the detonators for transport or by its or his agent):

Provided also that no other explosive is carried in the same compartment.

(d) Sporting gunpowder or non-safety cartridges packed in double cases as before provided, so long as the gunpowder is contained in one-pound tin canisters packed in a stout wooden case with an outer covering of tin or zinc completely spark-proof, or in metal-lined cases of a pattern approved by the Railway Administration. But no outer case shall contain more than 25 lbs. of gunpowder, and the total consignment of gunpowder or non-safety cartridges by one train shall not exceed 80 lbs.

(e) Explosives may be carried by mixed trains on any line on which goods trains are not running, subject to the conditions that they are loaded in properly constructed powder vans; that not more than one powder van containing explosives is forwarded at any one time by a mixed train; that there are not less than three vehicles between the powder van and either the engine or the passenger coaches; that the powder van is close coupled to the adjoining vehicles; and that directly a powder van containing explosives arrives at a section on which goods trains are running, it is detached from the mixed train.

VII.—Not more than five carriages containing explosives shall be loaded or unloaded at any railway station, or be conveyed by any one train at any one time; and the quantity of explosive to be contained in any one carriage shall not exceed two-thirds of the normal load, unless the carriages shall be specially built and approved of by the Government of India for the conveyance of explosives. But nothing in this clause shall be held to apply to separate consignments of safety cartridges for small-arms.

VIII.—There shall not be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive any lucifer or other matches, fuzes, pipelights, acids, naphtha, paraf-fine, petroleum to which the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), or any other Act for the time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies, or any other volatile spirit substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or communicate fire or explosion.

IX.—The consignor shall attach to the consignment note a certificate or (provided the original is produced for verification) copy of a certificate, signed by an officer authorised by the Local Government in this behalf, that the explosive, if it is an explosive of class 3 or 4, is of the standard purity; and further in the case of dynamite, and all nitro-glycerine compounds, that there are no signs of exuded nitro-glycerine or of liquefaction. The consignor shall also certify that the explosive has been packed in accordance with the packing rules in force in England or in British India.

X.—In the case of explosives under clauses 3 and 4 the outer packages shall be marked with the date of the manufacture of the explosives. The above-mentioned certificate shall contain sufficient information to admit of all packages being easily recognized.

XI.—The certificate referred to in Rule IX shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made between the 15th October and 31st March, but any Railway Administration which accepts dynamite and other nitro-glycerine compounds for transport may demand a fresh certificate for these explosives if presented for conveyance between 1st April and 15th October (both inclusive).

XII.—Packages containing dynamite and other blasting explosives of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class, or explosives of the 4th (chlorate-mixture), 5th (fulminate) classes or of the first division of the 7th (firework) class shall be stowed in one layer only and secured so as to prevent movement during transit, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 3 tons.

Provided that, if the packages of explosive are in rectangular form and are properly secured so as to prevent movement during transit, they may be stowed in any number of layers not exceeding five, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 5 tons.

XIII.—No explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class, or of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 7th (firework) class shall be carried in the same train with any explosive not of the class and division to which it belongs, unless it be sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

XIV.—Wagons used for the carriage of explosive shall be examined to see that they are sparkproof, and have been cleaned out before they are loaded. Hair, cloth, hides, or other suitable materials shall be spread on the floor of the wagon and between each layer of packages, except when the packages are covered with gunny or felt, or contain safety cartridges for small-arms packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes.

XV.—Wagons containing explosives shall be loaded and unloaded on sidings distant as far as possible from the station buildings.

XVI.—Packages containing explosives other than those referred to in Rule 6 (XII) shall not be stowed in more than three layers one above the other. But if the packages are in rectangular form and of uniform size (provided they are double packages, and are so secured as to prevent movement during transit) they may be packed in five layers one above the other. But in the case of safety cartridges for small-arms packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes, there is no restriction. Subject to the provisions of Rule 4 (III), the loading and unloading of explosives when once begun shall be diligently proceeded with until the same is completed.

XVII.—When the train is being marshalled wagons loaded with explosives may be shunted by a locomotive, if they are separated from the engine by not less than three wagons containing no explosive nor easily inflammable substance. This precaution is not necessary with wagons specially constructed for the carriage of explosives. The speed of these movements shall be restricted to five miles an hour; they shall be superintended by a duly authorised officer, who shall be held responsible for the observance of these orders. Flying shunts are strictly prohibited.

XVIII.—Wagons containing explosives shall be placed at the end of the train away from the locomotive, and shall be close-coupled to one another as well as to the adjoining wagons, and shall be preceded and followed by three wagons not loaded with explosives or other traffic of an inflammable nature.

Provided as follows;

(a) on the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, wagons containing explosives and adjoining wagons need not be closecoupled to one another; and

(b) on the Nilgiri Railway, only one wagon need intervene between the locomotive and wagons containing explosives.

XIX.—If the wagons employed in the transport of explosives are provided with brakes other than iron brakes, the brakes thereon shall on no account be worked while the wagons are running with a train, nor shall brakes, other than iron brakes, on vehicles immediately adjoining such wagons, be worked while such wagons are so running.

XX.—Wagons shall in every case be locked when loaded with explosives.

XXI.—All operations connected with the transhipment of explosives at junction stations shall take place during daylight.

7. Whoever commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the mode of conveyance of explosives shall be punishable with a fine which may extend to Rs. 100.

ABSENT.

Non-official Members.

Mr. G. Ramaswamiah, Kunigal.

I. Read the audited monthly District Fund accounts of receipts and expenditure for the months of January, February and March 1907.

Passed.

II. Read General and Revenue Secretary's docket No. 6002, dated 3rd January 1907, requesting to be furnished with a list of villages at which the Board propose to open Branch Dispensaries; and the resolutions of the marginally noted Taluk Boards on the subject.

(1) Tumkur.
(2) Maddagiri.
(3) Sira.
(4) Tiptur.
(5) Chiknayakanhalli.

Resolved that the branch dispensaries are needed at the villages of (1) Uradagere, Tumkur Taluk, (2) Midagesi, Maddagiri Taluk, (3) Bukkapatna, Sira Taluk, (4) Honnavalli Tiptur Taluk, (5) Kandikere, Chiknayakanhalli Taluk. The Board would find it difficult to bear the cost of these dispensaries until some means can be found to meet some part of their expenditure in Public Works. They would request that the cost of medicine and the travelling allowance of the Hospital Assistant be met from the Medical budget.

III. Read Government Proceedings No. 7209-49—G. R. 17-06-1, dated 22nd May 1907, forwarding the Dasara Calendar for 1907.

Resolved that Messrs. G. Sivaramaiya of Maddagiri and Vembar Venkata Narasimhachar of Pavagada represent the Board at the ensuing Dasara Representative Assembly.

IV. Read the schedule of rates prevailing in the district; and the General and Revenue Secretary's docket No. 947—L. B. 423-06-5, dated 1st August 1907, enquiring whether the rates have been approved by the Board.

Resolution.—The rates noted in the schedule are approved.

V. Read Senior Surgeon's Medical Circular No. 7205—7344, dated 7th June 1907, in re Hankinizing wells.

Resolved that a Kanarese translation of the circular be furnished to each of the members so that they may explain it to the people.

VI. Read Executive Engineer's docket No. 12, dated 10th January 1907, stating that on certain roads* the traffic is very heavy, that their mileage grant should be increased to Rs. 200 a mile, as otherwise the roads will soon get so bad that a heavy initial outlay will be necessary to bring them to formation and proposing that the additional funds required be raised, if necessary, by establishing toll-gates; and Gubbi Sub-Division Assistant Commissioner's yadi No. 753, dated 3rd May 1907, forwarding Tiptur Taluk Amildar's report submitting Taluk Board's resolution in re the increase of the present mileage grant of the District Fund roads in that taluk.

*(1) Kibbanahalli-Huliyar road.
(2) Do Turuvekere do
(3) Cart-track from Chiknayakanhalli to Madanamadu.

Resolution.—With a view to secure funds for increasing the present mileage grant of District Fund roads on which the traffic is heavy it would do for the present to have toll-gates on the roads to Banasandra Railway Station.

VII. Read letter dated 27th May 1907, from Revd. W. B. Trewhella, stating that the well is proposed to be sunk near the compound hedge at the back of the church at Gubbi, at an estimated cost of about Rs. 350 and that the well is intended for the Christian families at present living in and near the said compound and also for those who are about to live there. The Revd. W. B. Trewhella asks for a contribution of Rs. 150.

Resolution.—According to khaneshumari the population in the Mission bungalow compound and near the church is 49, but according to the statement of the population themselves it is 105. There are some wells about the place which the Mission or the people can deepen. As there are many large villages which are yet to be provided with wells, and as there is already a large drain on the resources of the Board, it is regretted that Mr. Trewhella's proposal cannot be complied with now.

VIII. Read Maddagiri Sub-Division Assistant Commissioner's yadi No. 1607, dated 12th May 1907, submitting for orders Koratagere Deputy Amildar's report proposing that the old and dilapidated chavadi that is obstructing the public drain in Holavanahalli Union may be sold by auction, and that a new chavadi be built in a separate place.

Resolution.—Approved.

IX. Read Tumkur Taluk Amildar's report No. 448, dated 24th June 1907, reporting that there is no income from the cattle-pound at Singrihalli village, Uradagere Hobli, and that it may be abolished and transferred to Honasigere village, where the shanbhog and patel have executed a mutchalika to build a new cattle-pound.

Resolution.—Approved.

X. Read and approved the list of District Fund works sanctioned during the months of May and June 1907.

XI. Read and approved list of estimates for works received from the Executive Engineer Tumkur Division, countersigned by the President.

XII. Read the list of District Fund works that remained incomplete on the 30th June 1907.

XIII. Read and recorded Government Proceedings No. 478-87—L. B 127-06-7, dated 15th July 1907, directing that questions pertaining to the extension or shifting of villages and the creation of new ones be dealt with by the Revenue agency direct without the intervention of the District Boards.

XIV. Resolved that the next meeting of the Board be held on the 27th September 1907 at 3 P.M.

Letter from the Secretary, Indian Railway Conference Association, No. 264, dated the 26th August 1905.

RESOLUTION.—In their letter No. 958 R. T., dated the 9th November 1903, the Government of India in the Public Works Department expressed the opinion that the recent advance in signalling and block-working on Railways in India necessiated a revision of Part I of the General Rules for working open lines of railway, promulgated with their circular No. 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895. This, it was considered, should be undertaken by a Committee specially selected and appointed for the purpose. In this view and in order to assist in the consideration of the matter, Local Governments, Administrations, Officers in charge of Railways, and Railway Administrations were consulted and their opinion invited as to the need for reform. The opinions expressed were later circulated for the information of Local Governments, Administrations, Officers in charge of Railways and Railway Administrations, under Government of India, Public Works Department, letter No. 580 R. T., dated the 24th June 1904, with the intimation that it had been decided to entrust the revision of the rules to a Committee composed of officers from the Traffic, Locomotive, and Engineering Departments and a Signal Engineer.

2. The Committee duly considered and framed a set of rules so as to meet the many varying needs of the railways in India, from those of fast and heavy traffic, to those of very light traffic worked by daylight only. This draft was further circulated for information, under Government of India, Public Works Department, letter No. 1045 R. T., dated the 10th November 1904, and taken into consideration by the Government of India in the Public Works and Legislative Departments. A further revised draft was circulated under Railway Board's letter No. R. T. 89, dated the 5th May 1905, and subsequently placed before the Indian Railway Conference Association for their consideration and recommendations.

3. The recommendations of the Conference having been considered by the Railway Board and by the Government of India in the Legislative Departments, a complete and revised set of General Rules has now been framed.

4. Part II of the General Rules, promulgated with the Government of India, Public Works Department, circular No. 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895, has, however, not been revised, but the opportunity has been taken to reprint it with such amendments to date as have been issued from time to time.

5. In exercise of the powers conferred by the notification of the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry, No. 801, dated the 24th March 1905, read in the preamble above, the Railway Board sanction, under section 47, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), and in supersession of the rules annexed to the Government of India, Public Works Department, circulars Nos. 17 R., dated the 21st August 1880, 3 Railway, dated the 19th April 1892, and 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895, and of all other rules made in this behalf, the adoption by the Administrations of all lines of railway in British India administered by the Government and for the time being used for the public carriage of passengers, animals, or goods, of the accompanying General Rules, and direct that they shall be brought into force on the 1st January 1907.

6. The Railway Board desire that the said rules may be brought to the notice of the Administrations of the several Railways not administered by the Government and that the Agents and Managers of those Railways may be invited to submit a formal application for the adoption of the rules, with such modifications (if any) as may be considered necessary in each case.

(4) The horizontal position of the fish-tailed arm, or the showing at night of two lights, one at the root of the arm and red, and the other six to seven feet above it and green, constitutes the "Proceed with caution" position, and signifies "Pass by without stopping, but with caution, and be prepared to stop at the next Stop signal or where required."

(5) The inclined position of the arm lowered to an angle of from 45° to 60° below the horizontal, or the showing at night of two lights, one at the root of the arm and green, and the other six to seven feet above it and also green, constitutes the "All right" or "off" position, and signifies "Proceed: the next block-section ahead is clear."

Placing of Warning signals.

9. (1) A Warner may be placed either—

(a) on a post by itself, at an adequate distance outside the Home signal, or

(b) on the same post as, but six to seven feet below the arm of, the Outer signal, or

(c) on the same post as, but six to seven feet below the last Stop signal of a station.

(2) When the warner is placed below a Stop signal, the variable light of the Stop signal shall take the place of the fixed green light of the Warner, and the mechanical arrangements must be such that the Warner cannot be taken "off" while the Stop signal above it is "on."

Significance of various combinations of arms or lights.

10. The significance of the various combinations of arms or lights described in rules 7, 8 and 9 is as follows:—

Indication	Meaning	Explanation
(a) Square-ended arm "off" single green light.	Proceed ...	.....
(b) Square-ended arm "on" single red light.	Danger ...	Stop dead, and do not pass till the arm is lowered or (at night) till the light is changed to green.
(c) Upper (square) arm "on," lower (fish-tailed) arm horizontal; red over red.	Danger ...	Stop, and do not pass till the upper arm is lowered or (at night) till the upper light is changed to green.	(d) Upper (square) arm "off," lower (fish-tailed) arm horizontal; green over red.	Proceed with caution.	Proceed cautiously, and be prepared to stop at the next Stop signal or where required.
(e) Upper (square) arm "off," lower (fish-tailed) arm "off," green over green.	All right ...	Proceed.
[illegible] ingle (fish-tailed) arm horizon- [illegible] reen over red.	Proceed with caution.	Proceed cautiously, and be prepared to stop at the next Stop signal or where required.
[illegible] (fish-tailed) arm "off"; [illegible] er green.	All right ...	Proceed.

[illegible]n.—The exhibition of a red over green light, or the corresponding position of [illegible] or the absence of one or both lights, shows that the signal is out of order [illegible]d as a danger signal. The Engine Driver must stop at such signal and [illegible] the cause. He may then proceed cautiously, being guided by the signals [illegible] immediately on arrival at the station report the circumstances to the Kinds of Stop signals for approaching trains.

11. (1) The Stop signals which control the movement of trains approaching a station are of four kinds, namely, Outer Home, Main and Track (or Routing) signals.

(2) The Outer signal is a signal fixed at an adequate distance outside the point up to which the line may be obstructed after permission to approach has been sent to the station in rear, or at an adequate distance outside the place where a train usually comes to a stand in accordance with the system of working.

(3) The Home signal is the first Stop signal of a station at which an Outer signal is not provided, and the second Stop signal of a station at which an Outer signal is provided.

(4) The Main signal is a signal fixed within station limits, generally near the centre of a station. It may, under approved special instructions, be called the Home signal. It is ordinarily provided with two semaphore arms only, one on either side of the post, in which case the left-hand arm only is applicable to approaching trains. No other arrangement of arms may be used without the sanction of the Government Inspector.

(5) The Track or Routing signal is a special bracketted signal used to indicate to an Engine Driver which of two or more diverging tracks is made for him when the Home signal is, in consequence of its position, inconvenient for that purpose.

Kinds of Stop signals for departing trains.

12. (1) The Stop signals which control the movement of trains leaving a station are of two kinds, namely, Starting signals and Advanced Starting signals.

(2) Where there is only one Starting signal, it is called the Starting signal or Starter.

(3) Where there are two Starting signals, the outermost is the last Stop signal of a station and is called the Advanced Starting signal or Advanced Starter, while the other is called the Starting signal or Starter.

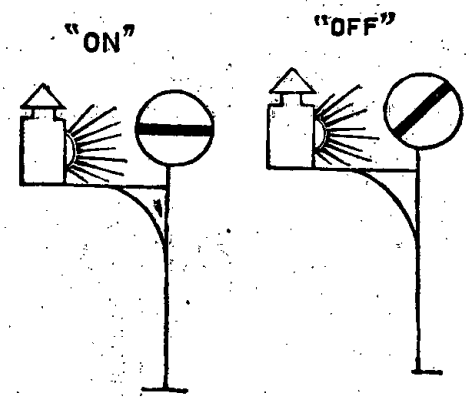
(4) The Starting signal, where only one such signal is provided, or the Advanced Starting signal, where two Starting signals are provided, must be fixed at the limit beyond which no train may pass unless the Engine Driver is given the authority to proceed which is required by the system of working, and must be fixed outside all connections on the line to which it refers.

(5) Where an Advanced Starting signal is provided, the Starting signal must be placed so as to protect the first facing or fouling point on the line to which it refers.

Description of the Outer Repeater.

13. (1) The Outer Repeater is an indicator fixed at an adequate distance outside the Outer signal for the purpose of advising the Engine Driver whether the Outer signal is "off" or "on."

(2) An Outer Repeater may take the form of a white disc showing a black horizontal bar (signifying "Caution") when the Outer signal is "on" and a black diagonal bar (signifying "Proceed") when the Outer signal is "off," thus—



(3) If used at night, an Outer Repeater must be so illuminated as to make its indications clearly visible.

Description of Shunting signals and Calling-on signals.

14. Shunting signals and Calling-on signals are short auxiliary arms and auxiliary lights placed below the arms of Starters or Advanced Starters and Home signals, respectively; and when "off," authorise an Engine Driver to draw ahead although the arm above is "on."

Use of Siding, Miniature or Dwarf, and Disc signals.

15. Siding, Miniature or Dwarf, and Disc signals are used to control shunting operations in sidings, the movements of trains between sidings and main lines, or between one main line and another. In the case of Siding, Miniature or Dwarf signals the "on" or "danger" position is shown in the day time by a short arm in the horizontal position, and at night by a red light. The "off" or "proceed" position is shown in the day time by the arm being lowered and at night by a green light.

In the case of Disc signals the "on" or "danger" position is shown in the day time by a red disc and at night by a red light.

The "proceed" or "off" position is shown in the day time by the disc being turned "off" and at night by a green light.

Explanation.—Point Indicators are not signals, but are appliances fitted to, and working with, points, to indicate by day or by night the position in which the points are set.

Co-acting signals.

16. (1) Co-acting signals are duplicate signals fixed vertically below ordinary signals, and are provided where, in consequence of the great height of the signal post, or of there being an overbridge or other obstacle, the main arm or light is not in view of the Engine Driver during the whole time that he is approaching it.

(2) Co-acting signals must be fitted at such height that either the main arm or light or the co-acting arm or light may always be visible.

Description of Banner Flag.

17. A Banner Flag is a temporary fixed danger signal consisting of a red cloth supported at each end on a post and stretched across the line to which it refers.

Normal position of fixed signals.

18. (1) The normal position of every fixed signal, except Calling-on signals, shall be "danger."

(2) Every fixed signal shall be so constructed that, in case of failure of any part of its connections, it shall remain at, or return to, its normal position.

Position of signal arms.

19. Signal arms must be placed on the left-hand side of the post as seen by the Driver of any approaching train.

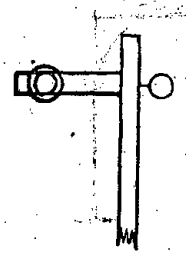
Painting of signal arms.

20. (1) Signal arms must be painted red with a white bar on the side facing trains to which they refer, and white with a black bar on the other side.

(2) On Warning signal arms the said bars must be parallel with the notching.

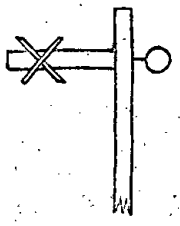
Rings for signal arms.

21. Signal arms referring to lines other than passenger lines must, at places where distinction between signals for passenger lines and signals for other lines is necessary, be distinguished by rings, thus—



Signals out of use.

22. When semaphore signals are not in use, the arms must remain fixed in the "on" position, and must be distinguished by having two crossed bars on them, thus—



Position of fixed signals.

23. Fixed signals shall be fixed on the side of the line on which they can be seen by Drivers of approaching trains, but the left-hand side of the track is to be preferred unless the sighting is greatly interfered with.

Bracket-posts and signal posts when to be used.

24. Unless otherwise permitted by approved special instructions,—

(a) where two or more lines diverge, the signals must be fixed on a bracket-post; and

(b) where two or more lines converge, the signals must be fixed on separate posts or, where this is no practicable, then on a bracket-post:

Provided that, where the number of signals is considerable, they may be fixed on separate posts or dolls carried on a Signal-bridge provided for the purpose.

Placing of more than one signal on the same post.

25. Not more than one signal referring to trains moving in the same direction (whether on the same track or on separate tracks) shall be placed on the same post, unless—

(a) there be only two signals on the post and the lower signal is a Warner fixed from six to seven feet below the other signal, or

(b) the lower signal is a Co-acting signal or Calling-on signal fixed at least fifteen feet below the next signal, or

(c) the sanction of the Government Inspector has been obtained.

Relation of signals to particular roads.

26. (1) In the case of all bracket or bridge signals, the left-hand signal shall be read as referring to the left-hand road, and the second signal from the left shall be read as referring to the next road from the left, and so on.

(2) Where, with the sanction of the Government Inspector under rule 25, clause (c), two or more signals are placed on the same post, the top arm shall be read as referring to the left-hand diverging road, and the second arm shall be read as referring to the next road from the left, and so on.

Distinction between signals.

27. Signals on brackets and bridges shall be distinguished as much as possible by grouping and by making the more important signals higher than the less important signals.

Black-lights.

28. (1) Every fixed signal, the light of which cannot be seen from the point from whi the signal is worked, must be provided with a back-ligh tell-tale, by which the Station Master may see wheth light is burning or not.

(2) Back-lights of signals must show a small white light when "on," and n all in any other position.

(3) When a Warner is used by itself, its fixed green light must show a whit

C.—Hand Signals

Hand signals how made.

29. A Hand signal shall be made—by day, by showing a flag or hand, and, by a light.

Stop signal how given.

30. The Stop signal shall be given –

by day,—

(a) by showing a red flag, thus—

or

(b) in the absence of flags, by raising both arms with the hands above the head, thus—

and, by night,—

(i) by showing a red light; or

(ii) in the absence of a red light, by violently waving a white light.

"Proceed with caution" signal when used and how given.

31. The "Proceed with caution" signal must be used when it is intended that a train should proceed slowly, and shall be given—

by day,—

(a) by waving a green flag vertically, thus—

or

(b) in the absence of flags, by waving one arm in a similar manner, thus—

and,

by night, by similarly waving a green light.

Proceed signal how given.

32. The Proceed signal shall be given—

by day,—

(a) by holding a green flag steadily, thus—

or

(b) in the absence of flags, by holding out one arm steadily, thus—

and, by night, by holding a green light steadily

Signals for shunting.

33. In shunting operations, signals shall be given as follows:—

(1) to move away from the person signalling, a green flag or green light moved slowly up and down.

(2) to move towards the person signalling, a green flag or green light moved from side to side across the body.

(3) to slow down, the above signals to be displayed slower and slower until the Danger signal is given.

D.—Detonating Signals.

Detonating signals defined.

34. "Detonating" signals (otherwise known as "Fog" signals) are appliances placed on the rails so as to explode with a loud report when an engine passes over them, for the purpose of attracting the attention of Engine Drivers.

Stocks of detonators.

35. (1) All Station Masters, Guards, Engine Drivers, Gangers and Gatemen, and all other railway servants on whom this duty is laid by the Railway Administration, must keep a stock of detonators.

(2) Each Railway Administration shall be responsible for the supply, renewal, periodical esting and safe custody of such detonators, and for ensuring that their use is properly understood.

Placing of detonators in thick or foggy weather.

36. In thick or foggy weather, whenever it is necessary to indicate to the Driver of an approaching train the locality of a signal, two detonators must be placed on the line, by a railway servant appointed by the Station Master in this behalf, about ten yards apart and at least one hundred yards outside the outermost signal of the station.

Placing of detonators in case of obstruction.

37. (1) Whenever, in consequence of an obstruction of a line, it is necessary for a railway servant to show hand danger signals at some place short of such obstruction, he shall put on the line one detonator, halfway out to such place, and three detonators, about ten yards apart, at such place.

(2) If the said railway servant is recalled before the obstruction is removed, he must leave down three detonators and must on his way back pick up the intermediate detonator.

Placing of detonators on a mixed gauge.

38. In all cases where the use of detonators is necessary under these rules, on a mixed gauge, detonators must be placed on one rail of each gauge, or on the rail common to both.

Securing of detonators on the line.

39. Detonators must be placed on the line with the label or brand upwards, and must be secured by bending the clasp round the upper flange of the rail.

Renewal of detonators on the line.

40. Every railway servant placing detonators on the line must see that they are, when necessary, renewed immediately after a train has passed over them.

E.—Signals at Stations.

to provide fixed signals at

41. The fixed signals prescribed in this sub-chapter shall be provided at every station except—tations between which trains are worked on the One engine only system mentioned in Chapter XI, and ons which are exempted from this rule by approved special instructions.

nals shall not be brought into use until they have been passed by the Government Inspector as being sufficient to secure the safe working of trains.

Minimum equipment of fixed signals.

43. The minimum equipment of fixed signals to be provided for each direction shall be as follows:—

(a) at a Class A station—
a Warning signal,
a Home signal, and
a Starting signal;

(b) at a Class B station—
an Outer signal, and
a Home signal; and

(c) at a Class C station—
a Warning signal, and a Home signal.

Additional fixed signals at Class B stations.

44. Besides the minimum equipment prescribed in rule 43, the following fixed signals must be provided at Class B stations, namely—

(a) on a double line—a Starting signal for each direction;

(b) on both a double and a single line—if trains run through at high speed without stopping, a Warning signal, to be fixed below the arm of the Outer signal; and

(c) on a single line worked on the Absolute Block system—if the obstructing of the line outside the facing points in the direction of an approaching train is permitted under rule 110, a Shunting Board (bearing the words "shunting limit" on the side which faces the station, and fitted with a lamp showing a white light in both directions to mark its position by night) or an Advanced Starter, to be fixed at a distance not exceeding two hundred yards from the facing points, to mark the extreme limit up to which such obstructing may be permitted.

Exceptions to rules 43 and 44.

45. Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 43 or rule 44,—

(a) if the station is already provided with an Outer signal and a Main signal, the latter may remain in use instead of a Home signal, until the station is interlocked, or until the Government Inspector orders otherwise. At such stations on a double line, trains shall be worked in accordance with approved special instructions;

(b) if the station has only one pair of points on the main line, signals shall be erected, and the station shall be worked, in accordance with approved special instructions;

(c) on any railway where traffic is light and speeds are slow, all signals, except one Stop signal at each station for each direction, may, under the special sanction of the Government Inspector, be dispensed with, the said Stop signal being placed at such point within or outside the station-yard as he may approve, and trains being worked in accordance with approved special instructions; and

(d) on any railway having very light traffic worked by day only, all or any signals may, with the special sanction of the Government Inspector, be dispensed with, trains being worked in accordance with approved special instructions.

Additional fixed signals at stations generally.

46. In addition to the equipment prescribed in rules 43 and 44, such other fixed signals (if any) must be provide at every station as may be necessary for the safe working trains.

Signals at Class D Stations.

47. At a Class D station a train may be stopped by hand signals or by a fixed Stop signal for each d

F.—Signals at Gates.

Signals at gates.

48. Unless exempted under approved special instructions, every gate which the line at a level crossing must, except w with station signals, be provided with sema at an adequate distance from the gate and showing Stop signals both u when the gates are open for the passage of road traffic.

G.—Working of Fixed Signals.

Fixed signals generally.

49. (1) Subject to the provisions of Rule 18, fixed signals must always be kept "on" (that is, at "danger") except when taken "off" (that is, lowered) to allow a train to pass.

(2) No fixed signal shall be taken "off" without the permission of the Station Master.

(3) The Station Master shall not give permission to take signals "off" to admit a train until—

(a) all facing points over which the train will pass are correctly set and secured,

(b) all trailing points over which the train will pass are correctly set, and

(c) the line over which the train is to pass is clear and free from obstructions.

(4) Except in cases of emergency, a signal which has been taken "off" for the passage of a train shall not be placed "on" until the whole of the train which it controls has passed it or, in the case of a Main signal, has arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand.

(5) At stations on a single line, except under special instructions where the interlocking or the lay-out of the yard renders a contrary procedure safe, when two or more trains are approaching simultaneously from any direction, the signals for one train only at a time may be taken "off," all other signals being kept "on," until the train for which the signals have been taken "off" has come to a stand at the station or has cleared the station.

Home signals.

50. (1) When a train is approaching a Home signal otherwise than at a terminal station, the signal shall not be taken "off" until the train has first been brought to a stand outside the signal unless—

(a) (on a double line) the line is clear for an adequate distance beyond the Starting signal; or

(b) (on a single line) the line is clear for an adequate distance beyond the trailing points, or up to the farthest Outer signal, whichever distance is less, or if, allowed by approved special instructions, for an adequate distance beyond the place at which the train is required to come to a stand.

(2) The adequate distance referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be fixed by special instructions, but shall never be less than two hundred yards without the sanction of the Government Inspector.

The Outer signal.

51. (1) The Outer signal shall never be taken "off" to admit a train which has not been brought to a stand outside it, unless the line on which the train is to be received in the station is clear, in the case of a double line, up to the Starting signal, and, in the case of a single line, for an adequate distance beyond the first facing points.

(2) When a train which is booked to run through has to be stopped out of course at a station where Warners are not provided, the Outer signal shall not be taken "off" until the train has been brought to a stand outside it.

(3) The Warner shall never be taken "off" for a train that is booked to stop, or for a train that has to be stopped out of course.

Calling-on signal.

52. A Calling-on signal referring to a running train shall not be placed to "off" until the train has been brought to a stand at the signal below which the Calling-on signal is fixed.

Shunting.

53. (1) The Outer, Home and Main signals and the outermost Starting signal of a station shall not be taken "off" for shunting purposes.

(2) Starting signals, where Advanced Starting signals are provided, must be taken "off" shunting purposes, except where the arrangement of the interlocking interferes with this ce, in which case Shunting arms must be provided.

H.—Defective Signals.

As soon as the Station Master becomes aware that any signal has become defective or has ceased to work properly, he shall—on Master.

e measures, either by disconnecting the wire or by other means, to place the nal "on" if it is not already in that position;

ne or more competent railway servants, with such hand signals and deto- may be required, to give signals at the place where the defective signal is situated, until the Station Master is satisfied that such signal has been put into proper working order;

(c) if possible, advise the station in rear in order that the Drivers of all approaching trains may be warned; and

(d) report the occurrence to the person who is responsible for the up-keep of the signal.

Use of other signals.

55. (1) If a Warner is out of order, it must be kept in the horizontal position, and Engine Drivers will work to the other signals.

(2) If a Warner on a post by itself is out of order and cannot be kept in the horizontal position, a red hand signal must be shown at the foot of the signal post, and by night the fixed green light must be extinguished; and trains, after having first been brought to a stand, may then be hand-signalled past.

(3) If a Home or Main signal, or a Starter or Advanced Starter, is out of order, the railway servant stationed at the signal must show hand signals in accordance with instructions from the Station Master.

(4) If the Outer signal is out of order, the railway servant stationed at it—

(a) must repeat by hand signal the indication given by the Home signal, or

(b) If the Home signal is also out of order, must repeat the indication given by the hand signal at the Home signal.

Intimation to station when defects remedied.

56. As soon as a defective signal has been put into good working order, the Station Master must intimate the fact to the station which was advised of its being defective.

CHAPTER III.

WORKING OF TRAINS GENERALLY.

Standard time.

57. The working of trains between stations shall be regulated by the standard time prescribed by the Governor-General in Council, which must be sent daily to all the principal stations on the railway.

Adherence to advertised time.

58. No passenger train or mixed train shall be despatched from a station before the advertised time.

Notice of running.

59. No train shall be allowed to run unless previous notice has been given, when practicable, to all stations concerned.

Permission to approach and authority to proceed.

60. (1) No person other than the Station Master may ask for or give permission to approach or give authority to proceed.

(2) An authority to proceed given to a running train shall lapse as soon as the last vehicle of the train has passed—

(a) on a double line, inside the Home signal; or

(b) on a single line,—

(i) inside the Home signal, or

(ii) where there is no Home signal, inside the facing points.

Pushing engine.

61. (1) No engine shall be allowed, outside station limits, to push any train, except in accordance with special instructions and at a speed not exceeding fifteen miles an hour.

(2) Sub-rule (1) shall not apply to an engine assisting in rear of a train.

Engine running tender foremost.

62. (1) A passenger train or a mixed train shall no drawn outside station limits by an engine running t foremost, except—

(a) under a written order issued by the authorised officer, or

(b) in a case of unavoidable necessity, to be established by the Engine Driver

(2) When any such train is so drawn, the speed shall not exceed fifteen mil or such higher speed, not exceeding twenty-five miles an hour, as may be a approved special instructions.

Guards and brake-vans.

63. (1) Except under special instructions, no engine with vehicles despatched from any station without o and one or more brake-vans or hand-bra

(2) Every Guard must, except under special circumstances, rid or braked vehicle.

(3) Unless it be otherwise directed by special instructions, one brake-van must be attached to the rear of the train:

Provided that reserved carriages or other vehicles may, under special instructions, be placed in rear of such van.

Means of communication with passengers.

64. No passenger train or mixed train shall be despatched from any station unless it be provided with means by which a Guard can communicate with, or get access to, every passenger carriage in the train.

Explanation.—A goods vehicle in which passengers are carried is not a "passenger carriage" within the meaning of this rule.

Loading.

IX of 1890.

65. (1) No wagon or truck shall be so loaded as to exceed the maximum gross load on the axles fixed under section 53, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, or such less load (if any) as may have been prescribed by the Railway Administration.

(2) Except under approved special instructions, no vehicles shall be so loaded as to exceed the maximum moving dimensions prescribed from time to time by the Railway Board.

Couplings.

66. No vehicle that is not furnished with screw couplings or with a central buffer coupling of approved pattern shall be attached to a passenger or mixed train.

Dangerous vehicles.

67. (1) No vehicle which has been off the line shall be allowed to run between stations until it has been examined and passed by a competent Carriage and Wagon Examiner:

Provided that, in case of a derailment between stations, the Engine Driver may, if he considers it safe to do so, take slowly to the next station a vehicle that has been off the line.

(2) If a guard or Station Master has reason to apprehend danger from the condition of any vehicle on a train before it can be inspected by a Carriage and Wagon Examiner, the Engine Driver shall be consulted, and, if he so requires, the vehicle shall be detached from the train.

Travelling cranes.

68. When attaching a travelling crane to a train, the Guard in charge of the train must see that the jib is properly lowered and secured, and that the cane is, if practicable, so placed that the jib will point towards the rear.

Dummy truck.

69. When the jib of a travelling crane projects beyond its truck, or when the load in a truck projects to an unsafe extent beyond the end of the truck, an additional truck shall be attached, to act as a dummy.

Private engines and vehicles.

70. No engine or other vehicle, the property of a private owner, shall be allowed to enter upon the railway, except in accordance with special instructions.

Train-lights.

71. At night, and in thick or foggy weather,—

(1) no train shall be worked outside station-limits unless it has—

(a) the head-lights prescribed by the Railway Administration; and

(b) in the case of an engine with vehicles attached, at least one red tail-light and two side-lights showing red towards the rear and white towards the engine; and

(c) in the case of a single engine without vehicles attached, at least one red tail-light; and

(d) in the case of two or more engines coupled together without vehicles attached, at least one red tail-light affixed to the rear engine;

[illegible]ption.—Where trains may run in the same direction on parallel lines the side- [illegible] be arranged in accordance with special instructions.

[illegible] engine shall be employed in shunting within station limits or in a siding unless [illegible] has the head-lights and tail-lights prescribed by the Railway Administration;

[illegible] train has been shunted for a following train to pass, the tail-light and side- [illegible] st be dealt with in accordance with instructions given by the Railway [illegible] tion.

Tail-board or tail-lamp.

72. In order to indicate by day to the staff that a train is complete, the last vehicle must be distinguished by affixing to the rear of it either a tail-board, a tail-lamp, a red flag or such other device as may be authorised by special instructions.

Limits of speed generally.

73. Every train must be run on each section of the line within the limits of speed sanctioned for that section by special instructions.

NOTE.—The sectional speed sanctioned shall be shown in the Working Time-table, a copy of which shall be supplied on issue to the Government Inspector.

Limit of speed through facing points.

74. No train shall be run through facing points at a speed exceeding ten miles an hour, or such lower rate as may be prescribed by special instructions:

Provided that, if the points are interlocked with a fixed signal, or are locked in a manner approved by the Government Inspector, trains may run over them at such speed as may be approved by the Government Inspector.

Protection and working of points.

75. Where there are points in the main line at a place which is not a station, provision for the protection of such points, by signals or otherwise, and for working them, shall be made in order to secure the safe working of trains to the satisfaction of the Government Inspector.

Care of facing points when train runs through station without stopping.

76. When a train is to run, without stopping, through any station that is not interlocked, the Station Master of that station, or some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions, must proceed to the facing points and satisfy himself that all facing points over which the train will pass are properly set and locked.

Working of ballast trains.

77. A ballast train may be worked only with the permission of the Station Master on each side and in accordance with special instructions.

Warning before moving a ballast train.

78. Before a ballast train is moved, the Engine Driver must give two clear whistles at an interval of half a minute, as a warning to the coolies that the train is about to move.

Protection of ballast train when stabled.

79. When a ballast train with coolies is stabled at a station for the night, it must be protected in the following manner:—

(1) the Guard in charge of the train must see that all necessary points connected with the siding on which the train is stabled are correctly set against the train, and must then inform the Station Master, and, until the train is ready to start,—

(a) if the station is not interlocked—must padlock all necessary points connected with the siding on which the train is stabled and keep the keys in his possession; or

(b) if the station is interlocked—must tie a red flag on the lever-handle working the points; and

(2) when under clause 1 (b) a red flag has been affixed, the Station Master must take steps to ensure that the lever is not worked until the said Guard has removed the flag.

Control of shunting.

80. Shunting operations shall be controlled by Semaphore signals, Shunting signals, Siding signals, Miniature signals, Dwarf signals, Disc signals or Hand signals, or by verbal directions, as occasion may require.

Moving of vehicles so as to obstruct running road.

81. No vehicle shall be moved so as to foul or obstruct any running road unless the previous sanction of the Station Master has been obtained.

Shunting on steep gradient.

82. When any vehicle is being shunted on a steep gradient, the railway servant in charge of the operation must see that a sufficient number of brakes are put on, that sprags or hand-scotches are used when necessary, and that all necessary precautions are taken to prevent the vehicle getting out of control.

Loose shunting.

83. Loose shunting of, or against, vehicles containing passengers, explosives or live-stock is prohibited.

Double lines.

84. Where there is a double line, every train must, unless special instructions otherwise provide, be run on the left-hand line;

Provided that, if one of the lines should be blocked so as to necessitate single-line working, such special instructions as may be necessary shall immediately be issued for establishing single-line working.

85. In case of accident to the line or to any train, or of failure or interruption of electric connections, trains must be worked between stations in accordance with special instructions.

Working in case of accident or failure of electric connections.

TRAINS STOPPED BETWEEN STATIONS BY ACCIDENT, FAILURE OR OBSTRUCTION.

86. When a train is stopped between stations, the Guard in charge of the train must, unless the stoppage will only be one for a few minutes, immediately ascertain the cause; and, if the stoppage is other than incidental or authorised, and if he finds that through accident or for any other reason the train cannot proceed, the following action shall be taken, namely:—

Train stopped between stations.

(1) the said Guard must immediately either himself go back or send a qualified person back, to protect the train;

(2) the person so going back to protect the train must plainly show his hand Danger signal to stop any approaching train, and in addition to his hand signals must take detonators (to be used by day as well as by night), and must place them upon the line on which the stoppage has occurred, as follows, namely:—

(a) one detonator, three-eighths of a mile from his train, to be placed on the way out; and

(b) three detonators, ten yards apart, not less than half a mile from his train, or at such distance as has been fixed by special instructions;

and must also continue to show his hand Danger signal, to stop any approaching train, until he is recalled;

(3) when such person is recalled, he must leave down three detonators, and must on his way back pick up the intermediate detonator;

(4) the Engine Driver must at once show a Danger signal to the front, and must proceed to protect the train in front in the manner prescribed in clauses (2) and (3), either by going himself or by sending his Fireman or some other qualified person;

(5) if the stoppage has occurred on a double line, the Danger signal hereinbefore referred to must be shown on both lines; but, if it be subsequently found that the unoccupied line is not obstructed, the said Danger signal may be removed.

87. If the engine is for any reason unable to proceed, the Guard in charge of the train shall send advice to the nearest station, stating the nature and cause of the accident, and, if assistance has been asked for, he shall not allow the engine or any portion of his train to be moved until such assistance arrives, provided that if the train is subsequently able to move, it may do so at walking pace, but not unless a man has been sent with hand signals and detonators to protect the train, such man keeping at least a quarter of a mile in advance of the train, the other end of the train being protected in a similar manner.

Sending advice of accident or breakdown.

88. If any light engine should, while on the line outside station limits, be unable to proceed, the Engine Driver must see that the precautions prescribed by rule 86 are taken for the protection of the engine, both in front and rear, employing the Fireman or some other competent person to assist him.

Light engine stopped on line.

89. (1) If any portion of a train should, while in motion, become detached,—

Train parting.

(a) the Engine Driver must use his judgment to keep the front portion in motion if possible until the rear portion has been brought to a stand, so as to avoid the chance of a collision between the two portions, and

(b) the Guard or Guards in the rear portion must promptly apply their brakes and do all they can to prevent a collision with the front portion.

(2) As soon as the rear portion of the train has been brought to a stand, the Guard in charge of the train must protect that portion, in accordance with rule 86, both in front and rear.

90. (1) When a train, stopped between stations, has to be divided in consequence of an accident or the inability of the engine to take the whole train forward, the Guard in charge of the train must, before uncoupling, put down the brakes, and must, if necessary, otherwise carefully secure the rear portion of the train to ensure its remaining stationary.

Portion of train left on line.

(2) If the engine is capable of proceeding either with or without vehicles, the said Guard shall give permission to the Engine Driver to uncouple and proceed to the next station, and may, if he thinks fit, give him written instructions to return on the same line.

(3) When the said Guard has taken action under sub-rule (2), he must immediately take steps to protect the rear portion of his train in accordance with rule 86.

(4) At night, or in thick or foggy weather as soon as the engine, whether with or without vehicles, is drawn forward, the said Guard must see that a white light is shown on the front vehicle of the rear portion of the train.

(5) When the front portion of the train is taken forward, the Fireman, or, if there are two Guards with the train, the second Guard must, if it is practicable and safe to do so, ride upon the last vehicle of the said front portion of the train until it reaches the next station; but no tail-lamp or tail-board shall be placed on it.

(6) When, under the written instructions referred to in sub-rule (2), the engine is to be brought back, the Guard in charge of the train must, until the arrival of the engine, continue to take the precautions prescribed in rule 86, for the protection in rear of the portion of the train left on the line, and shall not permit a following train to move any of the vehicles under his charge.

(7) The Engine Driver shall not bring his train back on the same line unless he has received written instructions, under sub-rule (2), from the Guard in charge of the train to do so.

(8) If there is a double line, the Engine Driver may, under instructions from the Station Master, take the train back on the proper line according to the system of working until he can cross on to the line on which he has left the rest of his train, and may then proceed by that line; and, after attaching the engine, must work the train to the station to which he is directed.

(9) When moving in the wrong direction on a double line under the written instructions referred to in sub-rule (2), the Engine Driver must proceed cautiously, travel at reduced speed, and make frequent use of the engine whistle.

CHAPTER IV.

SYSTEMS OF WORKING.

Systems of working.

91. (1) All trains working between stations must be worked on one or other of the following systems, namely:—

(a) Absolute Block;

(b) Section Clear:

(c) Line Clear and Caution Message;

(d) Following Trains;

(e) Train-staff and Ticket;

(f) Pilot Guard; or

(g) One engine only.

(2) The Absolute Block system alone shall be used on every railway except any railway or portion of a railway on which the Railway Board may expressly sanction the use of any other system mentioned in sub-rule (1).

CHAPTER V.

THE ABSOLUTE BLOCK SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Absolute Block system.

92. (1) Where trains are worked on the Absolute Block system,—

(a) no train shall be allowed to leave a station unless permission to approach has been received from the station ahead, and

(b) such permission shall not be given unless the line is clear, not only up to the first Stop signal at the station at which such permission is given, but also for an adequate distance beyond it.

(2) The distance referred to in clause (1) (b) shall not be less than one quarter of a mile, unless otherwise directed by special instructions.

Class A Stations—Double lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

93. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has arrived,

(b) all signals have been put back to "on" behind the said train,

(c) the line on which it is intended to receive the incoming train is clear up to the Starting signal, and

(d) all points have been correctly set for the admission of the train on the said line.

Obstruction when train is approaching.

94. When permission to approach has been given, no obstruction shall be permitted outside the Home signal, or, on the line on which it is intended to admit the train, up to the Starting signal.

Obstruction outside Home signal, when block-section is clear.

95. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the Home signal, the line must be blocked back.

Obstruction outside last Stop signal, when block-section is clear.

96. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the last Stop signal,—

(a) either a shunting-arm (which may for this purpose be provided on the post of the last Stop signal) must be taken "off," or a written shunting order must be given to the Engine Driver, and

(b) the line must be blocked forward.

Obstruction when block-section is occupied by train travelling away from the station.

97. If the block-section is occupied by a train travelling in the section away from the station at which shunting operations have to be performed, such shunting shall be permitted only under either of the conditions prescribed in clause (a) of rule 96; and, as soon as intimation has been received that the train has arrived at the station ahead, the line must be blocked forward, if it is still obstructed by the shunting.

Thick or foggy weather.

98. In thick or foggy weather, a train waiting for an authority to proceed shall not be allowed to draw out to a Starting signal in an advanced position, or up to an Advanced Starting signal.

Class A Stations—Single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

99. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has arrived,

(b) all signals have been put back to "on" behind the said train,

(c) the line on which it is intended to receive the incoming train is clear up to the Starting signal, and

(d) all points have been correctly set for the admission of the train on the said line.

Obstruction when train is approaching.

100. When permission to approach has been given, no obstruction shall be permitted outside the Home signal, or, on the line on which it is intended to admit the train, up to the Starting signal which controls the train.

Shunting.

101. The block-section shall not be obstructed for shunting purposes, unless—

(a) the Station Master has received a permission to approach from the Station Master at the opposite end of the section, or

(b) the section has been blocked back, or is occupied by a train travelling away from the station at which the shunting is to be performed, and

(c) the Engine Driver or other person in charge of the shunting operations has received distinct orders from the Station Master to shunt in a manner directed by special instructions.

Thick or foggy weather.

102. In thick or foggy weather, a train waiting for an authority to proceed shall not be allowed to draw out to a Starting signal in an advanced position, or up to an Advanced Starting signal.

Class B Stations—Double lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

103. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has passed inside the Home signal,

(b) the Home and Outer signals have been put back to "on" behind the said train, and

(c) the line is clear up to the Home signal.

Obstruction when train is approaching.

104. When permission to approach has been given, no obstruction of the line outside the Home signal shall be permitted; but shunting between the Home signal and the last Stop signal of the station may go on continuously, provided the necessary signals are kept "on."

Obstruction outside Home signal, when block-section is clear.

105. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the Home signal, the line must be blocked back.

Obstruction outside last Stop signal, when block-section is clear.

106. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the last Stop signal,—

(a) either a shunting-arm (which may for this purpose be provided on the post of the last Stop signal) must be taken "off," or a written shunting order must be given to the Engine Driver, and

(b) the line must be blocked forward.

Obstruction when block-section is occupied by train travelling away from the station.

107. If the block-section is occupied by a train travelling in the section away from the station at which shunting operations have to be performed, such shunting shall be permitted only under either of the conditions prescribed in clause (a) of rule 106; and, as soon as intimation has been received that the train has arrived at the station ahead, the line must be blocked forward, if it is still obstructed by the shunting.

Thick or foggy weather.

108. In thick or foggy weather a train waiting for an authority to proceed shall not be allowed to draw out to a Starting signal in an advanced position, or up to an Advanced Starting signal.

Class B Stations—Single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

109. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has passed within the Home signal, or in the case of a Main signal, has arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand,

(b) the Home (or Main) signal has been put "on," and

(c) the line is clear—

(i) to the Shunting Board or Advanced Starter (if any), at that end of the station nearest the expected train, or

(ii) to the Home signal, if there is no Shunting Board or Advanced Starter, or

(iii) to the facing points, if there is no Shunting Board or Advanced Starter and no Home signal.

Obstruction in the face of an approaching train.

110. Obstructing the line, outside the facing points, in the direction of an approaching train whether a Shunting Board or an Advanced Starter is provided or not, shall be permitted only under special instructions which take into consideration the speed, weight and brake-power of trains, the gradients, the position of the Outer signal and the distance from which that signal can be seen by the Driver of an approaching train.

Obstruction within station section.

111. If the special instructions referred to in rule 110 are obeyed, and if the necessary signals are kept "on," shunting may be carried on continuously either—

(a) between the Shunting Boards or Advanced Starters (if any), or

(b) between the Home signals, if there are no Shunting Boards or Advanced Starters,

or

(c) between the outermost facing points, if there are no Home or Starting signals or Shunting Boards.

Obstruction outside station section.

112. Obstructing the line between the station section and the outer signal shall not be permitted unless a railway servant specially appointed in this behalf by the Station Master is in charge of the operation, and unless—

(a) the block section into which the shunting is to take place is clear of an approaching train; or

(b) if an approaching train has arrived at the Outer signal, the Station Master has personally satisfied himself that the train has been brought to a dead stand at that signal:

Provided that the line may not be obstructed under clause (b) in thick or foggy weather, or in any case, unless authorised by special instructions.

Obstruction outside the Outer signal.

113. Obstructing the line outside the Outer signal is prohibited unless the line has been blocked back.

Class C. Stations.—Double and single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

114. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has passed at least a quarter of a mile beyond the Home signal and is continuing its journey, and

(b) the Home and Warning signals have been put back to the "on" position.

CHAPTER VI.

THE SECTION CLEAR SYSTEM.

Essentials and application of the Section Clear system.

115. (1) Where trains are worked on the Section Clear system,—

(a) no train shall be allowed to leave a station unless permission to approach has been received from the station ahead, and

(b) such permission shall not be given unless the line is clear up to the first Stop signal of that station.

(2) The said system is applicable only to Class B stations; and to single lines only, unless otherwise authorised by approved special instructions.

Class B Stations—Single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

116. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has either passed inside the facing points or arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand,

(b) the Outer signal has been put back to "on" behind the said train, and

(c) the line is clear up to the Outer signal.

Obstruction between the Outer signals.

117. (1) Shunting shall not be carried on between the Outer signals, unless—

(a) the said signals are kept "on"; and

(b) after permission to approach has been given for a train, the line between the facing points and the Outer signal, in the direction from which the train will approach, is cleared not less than fifteen minutes before the expected arrival of the train, and is kept clear until the train has arrived or until it has been brought to a stand at the Outer signal.

(2) Subject to the provisions of clause (b) of sub-rule (1), obstructing the line between the facing points and the Outer signal, in face of an approaching train after intimation has been received that such train has entered the block-section, is prohibited, unless—

(i) the weather is clear;

(ii) the time allowed for the run of the train is more than twenty minutes;

(iii) the Station Master has personally satisfied himself that the Outer signal is clearly showing "danger" in the direction of the approaching train; and

(iv) if the train has arrived at the Outer signal, the Station Master has personally satisfied himself that the train has been brought to a dead stand at that signal.

Obstruction outside the Outer signal.

118. Obstructing the line outside the Outer signal is prohibited unless the line has been blocked back.

CHAPTER VII.

THE LINE CLEAR AND CAUTION MESSAGE SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Line Clear and Caution Message system.

19. Where trains are worked on the Line Clear and Caution Message system, no train shall be allowed to leave a station, unless—

(a) permission to approach has been obtained by telegram from the station ahead, and

(b) the Engine Driver has been given a written authority to proceed, certifying that the line on which he has to travel is either—

(i) absolutely clear of trains; or

(ii) occupied only by trains running in the same direction at time intervals.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

120. Such permission to approach shall not be given, unless, either—

(1) the line on which the train is to travel is absolutely clear of trains and all other known obstructions up to the Outer signal, and the whole of the last preceding train has passed inside the facing points or has arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand, or

(2) the line, outside the facing points, on which the train is to travel, is occuppied only by a train running in advance in the same direction, at an adequate interval of time, and a line has been prepared in the station for the reception of the train running in advance.

Nature of the authority to proceed.

121. (1) In case (1) of rule 120, the authority to proceed referred to in rule 119 shall be a Line Clear Certificate stating that the line is clear.

(2) In case (2) of rule 120, the said authority to proceed shall be a Caution Certificate stating—

(a) that the line is occupied only by a train running in advance in the same direction at a stated interval of time; and

(b) the time of the departure of the said train, and the place at which it will next stop.

Restrictions on grant of authority to proceed.

122. An authority to proceed shall not be granted at any station in case (2) of rule 120—

(a) if the train which is to follow a train running in advance is to be allowed to run at more than thirty miles an hour, or

(b) if the distance to the station ahead is less than five miles, or

(c) except in accordance with special instructions, unless the train running in advance has left the station at least fifteen minutes previously, or at such greater interval as may enable the said train at its booked speed to reach the next station at least fifteen minutes before the following train at its booked speed can do so.

Delivery of authority to proceed to Engine Driver or Guard.

123. (1) Every authority to proceed shall be delivered by the Station Master, or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf under special instructions,—

(a) to the Engine Driver, if the train runs through the station without stopping, or

(b) to the Guard in charge of the train, if the train stops at the station.

(2) When an autohrity to proceed is delivered to the Engine Driver under clause (1) (a) of this rule, a duplicate shall be given to the said Guard.

(3) When an authority to proceed is delivered to the said Guard under clause (1) (b) of this rule, it must be either—

(i) handed personally by the Guard to the Engine Driver, or

(ii) countersigned by the Guard, and then handed to the Engine driver either by the Station Master or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions.

(4) An authority to proceed shall not be handed to the Engine Driver under sub-rule (3)—

(i) until the train is nearly ready to start, or

(ii) if the train is waiting to pass another train—until the whole of the latter train has come in and is clear of the running road for the former train.

Responsibilities as to proper preparation of authority to proceed.

124. (1) When an authority to proceed is delivered to the Engine Driver under clause (1) (a) of rule 123, the Station Master must see—

(a) that it is properly filled up,

(b) that the date and time of the receipt of the line-clear or caution telegram upon which it is based are noted thereon,

(c) that it applies to the particular train to which such telegram refers, and

(d) that it is signed in full and in ink.

(2) When an authority to proceed is delivered to the Guard in charge of the train under clause (1) (b) of rule 123, he must, before it is handed to the Engine Driver, satisfy himself on the several points mentioned in sub-rule (1) of this rule.

(3) Whether the train stops or runs through a station, the Engine Driver must satisfy himself, so far as he may be able to do so, on the several points mentioned in sub-rule (1) of this rule, and if he finds that any of them are not complied with, he must not proceed with his train until the mistake or the omission is rectified.

Obstruction in face of approaching train followed by another train.

125. Obstructing the line outside the facing points in face of an approaching train followed by another train for which a permission to approach has been given, is prohibited.

Obstruction when approaching train is not followed by another train.

126. At a station where an approaching train is not being followed by another train, shunting shall not be carried on except—

(a) in accordance with rule 117; or

(b) where the special instructions referred to in rule 110 are obeyed, and the necessary signals are kept "on," then in accordance with rules 112 and 113.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE FOLLOWING TRAINS SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Following Trains system.

127. Where trains are worked on the Following Trains system, they may be despatched from one station to the next, following each other in succession in the same direction on the same line at such intervals of time as may be prescribed by special instructions, until it has been mutually arranged by telegraph between the Station Masters at either end of the section that such succession is to cease.

Introduction of the Following Trains system.

128. The Following Trains system may, notwithstanding anything contained in rule 91, be introduced in case of emergency when specially ordered by the authorized officer.

Conditions precedent to working of trains on the Following Trains system.

129. Trains shall not be worked on the Following Trains system unless the Station Master of the station ahead has telegraphed his readiness to receive the trains, and has given his assurance that no train will be allowed to leave his station for the station from which the Following Trains are to be despatched until the latter have all arrived at his station and until he has received permission to despatch trains in the opposite direction.

Conditions to be observed in working trains.

130. When the Following Trains system is adopted, the following conditions must be observed, namely,—

(a) no train shall be allowed to start until the Engine Driver has been given a written authority to proceed and a written acknowledgment thereof has been obtained from him, the train being stopped for the purpose, if not booked to stop;

(b) the authority to proceed shall state the time of the actual departure of the preceding train, the place at which it is next to stop, and the speed at which it is to run;

(c) the Engine Driver and Guard of each preceding train must have been informed of the fact that a train will follow, and of the probable period which will elapse before the following train will be allowed to start;

(d) a train shall not be allowed to follow another from a station unless there has elapsed since the departure of the previous train, an interval of not less than fifteen minutes, or such shorter interval (if any) as may be fixed by special instructions;

(e) all the trains shall be timed to run at the same speed, and such speed shall not exceed fifteen miles an hour, except under special instructions;

(f) no shunting shall be carried on between the Outer signal and the facing points while following trains are approaching;

(g) the actual time of the departure of each train must at once be intimated by telegraph to the station ahead, and the actual time of arrival of each train must at once be intimated to the station in rear; and

(h) the number of following trains running at the same time between any two stations shall not be more than one for each three miles of station interval; and, unless permitted by special instructions, shall never exceed four, whatever may be the length of the station interval.

Report of orders and special instructions.

131. When any order is given under rule 128, and when any special instructions are issued under rule 130, the same must immediately be reported by telegram to the Government Inspector.

Application of certain rules.

132. Rules 123 to 125 shall apply to working on the Following Trains system.

Cessation of working on the Following Trains system.

133. When it is intended that no more following trains shall be despatched in the same direction, the Station Master shall intimate such intention by telegraph to the station ahead, after which no more trains in either direction may be despatched between the two stations until the last train has arrived at the station ahead and the line has been cleared between the two stations.

CHAPTER IX.

THE TRAIN-STAFF AND TICKET SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Train-staff and Ticket system.

134. Where trains are worked between two stations on Train-staff and Ticket system,—

(a) a single Train-staff must be kept at one of such stations, and

(b) no train shall be permitted to start from either of such stations to the other unless the said Train-staff is at the stations from which the train starts and has either been handed to or shown to the Engine Driver by the Station Master when giving such permission.

System where applicable.

135. Trains may be worked on the Train-staff and Ticket system only when the line is single and only between such stations as have been declared by special instructions to be staff-stations.

General conditions.

136. Trains shall not be allowed to follow one another in the same direction between staff-stations, unless the Engine Driver has been properly warned of the time of departure of the preceding train and of the place at which it will next stop, and

(1) in the case of a passenger train to follow a goods train, or a goods train to follow a slow passenger train, an interval of fifteen minutes (or, if the distance to the next station in advance exceeds ten miles, such longer interval as is prescribed by special instructions) has elapsed since the departure of the preceding train, and

(2) in any other case, either—

(i) it has been ascertained that the preceding train has arrived at the next station in advance, or

(ii) an interval of ten minutes has elapsed since the departure of the preceding train.

137. No train shall be started from a station unless the Engine Driver has in his possession to be carried with him on the journey, either the Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket, for the section of the line over which the train is about to travel.

Engine Driver to have staff or ticket.

138. The Train-staff or Train-staff Ticket shall be delivered to the Engine Driver by the Station Master or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions.

Staff or ticket by whom to be delivered to Engine Driver.

139. (1) When no other train is intended to follow before the Train-staff will be required for a train running in the opposite direction, then, subject to the provisions of sub-rule (3), the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Engine Driver.

Staff or ticket when to be delivered to Engine Driver.

(2) When other trains are intended to follow before the Train-staff can be returned, then subject to the provisions of sub-rule (3), a Train-staff Ticket, indicating that the Train-staff is following, shall be delivered to the Driver of each train except the last; and the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Driver of the last train.

(3) When a train is assisted by a second engine in the rear, a Train-staff Ticket shall be delivered to the Driver of the front engine and the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Driver of the rear engine:

Provided that, if both the engines attached to the train are to travel over the entire length of line to which the Train-staff applies, and the train is to be followed by other trains, a Train-staff Ticket shall be delivered to the Driver of each of the engines attached to the first-mentioned train.

(4) When a train is assisted by a second engine in the front, the Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket, as the case may be, must be delivered to the Driver of the leading engine.

(5) When a ballast train has to stop between stations, the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Engine Driver.

(6) The Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket shall not be delivered to the Driver of any train until the train is ready to start.

(7) The Engine Driver shall not accept a Train-staff Ticket unless he sees the Train-staff at the same time in the possession of the person who delivers the ticket to him.

140. When the Train-staff is delivered to the Driver of a train, he shall place it in a conspicuous place provided for the purpose on the engine.

Staff to be kept on engine.

141. When the Train-staff has been taken away from a station by the Driver of a train, no other train shall be started from that station to follow the first-mentioned train until the Staff has been returned to the station.

Trains not to be started until staff returned.

142. (1) Upon the arrival of a train at the station to which the Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket extends, the Engine Driver must immediately give the Staff or Ticket to the Station Master, or to some railway servant appointed by special instructions to receive it.

Staff or ticket to be given up, and ticket to be cancelled, on arrival of train.

(2) The person to whom any such ticket is so delivered must immediately cancel the same.

143. (1) If an engine which carries the Train-staff breaks down between two stations, the Fireman must take the Staff to the staff-station in the direction whence assistance can best be obtained, in order that the Staff may be available at the station for delivery to the Driver of the assisting engine.

Procedure when engine is disabled.

(2) If an engine which carries a Train-staff Ticket breaks down between two stations, assistance must ordinarily be obtained only from the station at which the Train-staff has been left. But if assistance can more readily be obtained from another station in the opposite direction, immediate steps must be taken to have the Staff transferred to the other end of the section.

(3) Whenever an engine has broken down between two stations, the Fireman must accompany the assisting engine to the spot.

144. Train-staff Tickets must be kept in a ticket-box provided for the purpose and fastened by an inside spring, the key to open the box being the Staff to which the tickets apply.

Tickets how kept.

Train-staff how kept.

145. The Train-staff, when at a station, shall not be left in the box, but must be kept by the Station Master in safe custody.

Distinguishing marks on staff tickets and boxes.

146. (1) Each Train-staff must have shown upon it the name of the staff-station at each end of the portion of line to which it applies.

(2) The Train-staffs and Train-staff Tickets and boxes for the different portions of the line must be distinguished by different colours.

(3) "Up" and "down" Train-staff Tickets must also have distinguishing marks.

Form of ticket.

147. Every Train-staff Ticket shall be in the following form :—

148. The Station Master must keep a record in a book of each Train-staff Ticket issued, showing the number of each ticket and the particular train for which it was issued.

CHAPTER X.

THE PILOT GUARD SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Pilot Guard system.

149. Where trains are worked on the Pilot Guard system,—

(a) a railway servant (hereinafter called a Pilot Guard) must be specially deputed to pilot trains, and

(b) no train shall be allowed to leave a station except under the personal authority of the Pilot Guard.

System where applicable.

150. Trains may be worked on the Pilot Guard system—

(a) on short branch lines having a single line of rails, or

(b) on lines to which the application of the system is authorised by special instructions.

General conditions.

151. Trains shall not be allowed to follow one another in the same direction between stations, except under the conditions prescribed in rule 136.

Pilot Guard's dress or badge.

152. The Pilot Guard must be distinguished by a red dress or badge.

Pilot Guard to accompany train or give authority to proceed.

153. (1) No train shall be started from a station unless the Engine Driver sees that it is accompanied by, or that the authority to proceed is given personally by, the Pilot Guard wearing the dress or badge prescribed by rule 152.

(2) The Pilot Guard must accompany every train:

Provided that, when it is necessary to start two or more trains from one end of the line before a train has to be started from the other end, the Pilot Guard shall accompany only the last of such trains and shall personally give the authority to proceed for the preceding trains.

(3) When accompanying a train, the Pilot Guard must ride on the foot-plate of the engine.

Pilot Guard's tickets.

154. (1) When the Pilot Guard does not accompany a train, he shall deliver to the Guard in charge (or, if there be no Guard in charge, to the Engine Driver) a Pilot Guard's ticket (on a printed form, where such are provided), properly filled up and signed, as the authority to proceed.

(2) Every such ticket shall apply only to the single journey to the station named on it.

(3) If the train is in charge of a Guard, he shall, before the train is started, deliver the ticket to the Engine Driver.

(4) Immediately on the arrival of the train, the Engine Driver shall deliver the ticket to the Station Master, who shall at once cancel it.

CHAPTER XI.

THE ONE ENGINE ONLY SYSTEM.

Essentials of the One engine only system.

155. Where trains are worked on the One engine only system, only one engine in steam, or two or more engines coupled together, shall be allowed on the line at one and the same time.

Application of the One engine only system.

156. Trains may be worked on the One engine only system, only on short branch railways having a single line of rails.

Procedure in case of accident.

157. (1) If a train becomes disabled and requires assistance, or if an accident occurs which renders it impossible for the engine (or, if two or more engines are coupled together, for either or both of such engines) to proceed, the Guard in charge of the train must instruct the Engine Driver to keep the engine stationary until his return, and must then proceed to the station from which assistance can best be obtained, and must inform the Station Master there of the circumstances.

(2) Such Station Master may then allow another engine to enter the line.

(3) Such other engine must be accompanied by the Guard in charge of the disabled train, who must explain to the Engine Driver where, and under what circumstances, the disabled train is situated.

(4) Such Guard shall be responsible for the safe and proper working of the line until each engine has left it and it is again clear.

(5) If there be no Guard in charge of the disabled train, the Fireman, or, if necessary, the Engine Driver, must perform the duties imposed by this rule on the Guard.

CHAPTER XII.

USE OF ELECTRICAL INSTRUMENTS ON DOUBLE LINES.

General Provisions.

Means of working.

158. Trains may be worked by means of—

(a) electric block instruments, or

(b) electric speaking instruments.

Provision of instruments.

159. (1) Electric speaking instruments must be provided at every station except class D stations.

(3) The electric block instruments (where provided) and electric speaking instruments at any station must be of a type approved by the Government Inspector.

Authority to proceed.

160. The Engine Driver shall not take his train from a station unless he has been given an authority to proceed by the taking "off" of the last Stop signal of the station.

Caution order.

161. On a double line, whenever, in consequence of the line being under repair or for any other reason, it becomes necessary to advise an Engine Driver to reduce speed or take special precautions, a caution order defining the place or places at which such precautions are necessary shall be handed to him at the stopping station immediately short of the place where special precautions are needed.

STATIONS AT WHICH ELECTRIC BLOCK INSTRUMENTS ARE PROVIDED.

Signalling of trains.

162. Every running train must, in its progress from station to station, be signalled on the electric block instruments.

Certificate of competency.

163. No person shall operate the block instruments until he has passed a satisfactory examination, and unless he holds a certificate of competency granted by a railway servant appointed in this behalf by the Railway Administration.

Bell Code.

164. Except under approved special instructions, the following uniform Bell Code shall be used, and a copy thereof shall be hung up in each station above the block instruments :—

7	TESTING SIGNAL ...	●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●	Sixteen ...	Sixteen.

Acknowledgment of signals.

165. (1) Each signal received must be acknowledged by the sending of its authorised acknowledgment.

(2) No signal shall be acknowledged until it is clearly understood.

(3) A signal shall not be considered to be complete until it is acknowledged.

(4) Should the station to which a signal is sent not reply, the signal must be repeated at intervals of not less than twenty seconds until the reply is received.

Train Register book.

166. (1) A Train Register book shall be kept by the Station Master or under his orders.

(2) The person who keeps the said book shall enter therein—

(a) immediately after acknowledgment, all signals (except Testing signals) received or sent on the block instruments, and the times of receipt and despatch; and

(b) every instance of a train being shunted at a station for another train to pass.

(3) The times entered in the book must be the actual times, except that any fraction of a minute must be counted as one minute.

(4) All entries in the book must be made in ink.

(5) No erasure shall be made in the book; but if any entry is found to be incorrect a line must be drawn lightly through it, so that it may be read at any time, and the correct entry must be made above it.

(6) The person who keeps the book shall be responsible for all entries made therein and for correctly filling in each column thereof.

The Attention signal.

167. (1) The Attention signal must be given when it is necessary to direct attention to the block instrument.

(2) When the Attention signal is sent before the despatch of the Is Line Clear signal, it shall not be given until the Train out of Section signal has been received for the last preceding train.

The Is Line Clear signal when to be sent.

168. In order to ascertain whether the station in advance is in a position to give a permission to approach to the station in rear, and in order to describe the train, the Is Line Clear signal (as in the Bell Code, according to the description of train) must be sent to the station in advance.

Acceptance of the Is Line Clear signal, and sending of a Line Clear signal.

169. (1) If, on the receipt of an Is Line Clear signal, the conditions under which a permission to approach can be given are complied with, the station in advance must accept the signal by sending the signal prescribed by special instructions to indicate Line Clear on the particular block instruments in use.

(2) Except in case of failure of the block instruments, a train shall not be allowed to leave a station unless the instrument for the section into which it is about to proceed shows Line Clear.

(3) When Line Clear is so shown, the semaphore signals applying to the train may be taken "off" to allow the train to proceed.

Refusal of the Is Line Clear signal, and sending of the Obstruction Danger signal.

170. (1) If, by reason of the line being blocked by the presence of a train in the section, or for any other reason, the station in advance is unable to accept the Is Line Clear signal, such station must refuse it by sending the Obstruction Danger signal.

(2) If the station in advance does not accept the Is Line Clear signal, the train must be stopped at the station and shall not be allowed to leave it until a fresh Is Line Clear signal has been given to and accepted by the station in advance.

The Train Entering Section signal.

171. (1) On the departure of a train from a station, the Train Entering Section signal must be sent to the station in advance, and must be duly acknowledged.

(2) When so acknowledged, the section shall be considered to be blocked against any other train following.

The Train out of Section or Obstruction Removed signal.

172. (1) On the arrival of a train, or on the removal of the cause which blocked the section, the Train out of Section or Obstruction Removed signal must be given by the station in advance.

(2) Before the Train out of Section signal is given, the Station Master must—

(a) satisfy himself that the train has arrived complete; and

(b) satisfy himself that the conditions under which permission to approach can be given are complied with.

The Cancelling signal.

173. (1) The Cancelling signal cancels the last signal given from the station from which it is sent.

(2) Where an Is Line Clear signal has been forwarded, and it is afterwards found that the train to which it referred has to be detained for shunting or other purposes at, or has returned to, the station from which that signal was sent, the Cancelling signal must be sent to the station in advance, so that the previous signal may be cancelled.

The Testing signal.

174. The Testing signal shall be used only for the purpose of testing the instruments.

Failure of block instruments.

175. (1) If the block instruments or their electric connections should fail, permission to approach must be obtained through the electric speaking instruments.

(2) When permission to approach has been so obtained, an entry to that effect must be made in the Train Register book, and the train may then be allowed to proceed.

STATIONS AT WHICH ELECTRIC BLOCK INSTRUMENTS ARE NOT PROVIDED.

Transmission of signals.

176. The signals referred to in rules 164, 165 and 168 to 173 (both inclusive), or such modifications thereof as may be prescribed by special instructions, shall be transmitted, as occasion may require, on the electric speaking instruments.

Forms for messages.

177. (1) All messages despatched in connection with the working of trains shall be written on forms specially provided for the purpose by the Railway Administration.

(2) Such forms shall be bound up in books and kept at each station by the Station Master or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions.

Distinction of messages.

178. (1) Every message despatched in connection with the working of a train must distinctly describe the train to which it relates.

(2) For every train a separate inquiry and reply must be sent.

Writing and signing of messages.

179. (1) All messages despatched in connection with the working of trains shall be written up in ink or with some other indelible substance, and shall be signed by the person authorised to despatch or issue the same.

(2) No message shall be written out, either in full or in part, or signed, until necessary.

Completion of messages.

180. No part of any message shall be despatched or acted upon until the whole message has been written out, except in view to the prevention of an accident or in some other case of emergency.

Preservation of messages.

181. Messages shall be destroyed at such time after issue as may be prescribed by special instructions:

Provided that no message shall be destroyed in less than a fortnight after issue.

16. (1) Save as otherwise provided by clause (4) of this rule and subject to any exceptions from time to time notified by the Railway Administration, dangerous goods shall not be accepted for carriage unless the consignor has given a written declaration that they have been packed,—

(a) if they are explosives to which the rules for the time being in force under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, apply, in accordance with those rules; and

IV of 1884.

(b) in any other case, in accordance with the rules contained in Appendix A to these rules.

(2) Kerosine oil shall not be accepted for carriage unless its flashing point is declared by the consignor on the consignment note. The flashing point as so declared, must be entered on the invoice and on the railway receipt.

(3) No goods of any of the kinds marked C in rule 14 shall be brought on the railway premises for carriage until the officials have intimated that they are ready to receive them.

(4) Nothing in the rules contained in Appendix A or in Appendix B shall apply to the packing or transport of capped safety cartridge cases, if otherwise empty, and nothing in those rules shall apply to medical stores consigned from a Government depot, or to explosives consigned by the Ordnance Department, respectively, notwithstanding that such stores are dangerous goods within the meaning of rule 14:

Provided that the officer in charge of the depot, or such officer as the Director General of Ordnance may by general or special order empower in this behalf, has given a written declaration of the contents of the packages and certified on the consignment note that they have been packed in accordance with the regulations of the Medical or Ordnance Department, as the case may be, for the time being in force relating to the packing of dangerous goods.

Special vans for dangerous goods.

17. (1) Subject to any exceptions from time to time notified by the Railway Administration, dangerous goods of the kinds marked respectively B, C and D in rule 14 may be carried only in vans specially constructed for the carriage of dangerous goods:

Provided that Lee-Metford, Martini-Henri and Snider ammunition may, when such vans are not available, be carried in ordinary covered wagons.

(2) When any dangerous goods are to be carried in such vans as aforesaid, whether in pursuance of clause (1) of this rule or not, the goods shall not be accepted for carriage unless sufficient notice to provide such vans has been given.

Prepayment of freight on dangerous or offensive goods.

18. Subject to any exceptions from time to time notified by the Railway Administration the freight on dangerous or offensive goods must be prepaid.

---

*"4. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "explosive"—

(a) means gun-powder, nitro-glycerine, dynamite, gun-cotton, blasting powders, fulminate of mercury or of other metals, coloured fires and every other substance, whether similar to those above mentioned or not, used or manufactured with a view to produce a practical effect by explosion, or a pyrotechnic effect; and

(b) includes fog-signals, fireworks, fuzes, rockets, percussion caps, detonators, cartridges, ammunition of all descriptions, and every adaptation or preparation of an explosive as above defined."

22. No railway servant shall take or leave any naked light or any unprotected lamp near any vehicle containing dangerous goods.

Trains by which vehicles loaded with explosives may be sent.

23. Except as provided in Appendix B, rule 6—VI (e), vehicles loaded with explosives shall be sent only with a goods train, and shall be placed in the rear of the train but not next the rear brake van:

Provided that vehicles loaded with ammunition or other explosives belonging to troops may be sent with the train by which the troops travel but must be placed next behind the front brake van.

Sending by passenger train of dangerous goods marked B.

24. One case containing dangerous goods of any of the kinds marked B in rule 14 may be sent by passenger train.

(4) All lights shall be kept away from carbide of calcium stacked as provided in sub-rule (3).

(5) If any carbide of calcium is wetted while in the possession of a railway for transport, it shall be destroyed by immersion in at least twenty times its bulk of water.

Note.—The fact of carbide of calcium having become wet will be indicated by the outward appearance of the drum or case and probably by a disagreeable odour, showing a leakage of gas.

Unclaimed dangerous goods.

25. If, upon the arrival of any dangerous goods at their destination, the consignee does not take delivery of and remove the same within the time notified by the Railway Administration, they may be kept in the vehicle in which they were carried until delivery is effected, or until they are disposed of under the provisions of section 56 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, or otherwise.

he shall be punished with fine which may extend to fifty rupees in addition to the forfeiture of any fare which he may have paid and of any pass or ticket which he may have obtained or purchased, and may be removed from the railway by any railway servant."

APPENDIX A.

[SEE RULES 14 AND 16.]

The packing of dangerous goods (other than explosives to which the rules for the time being in force under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, apply).

I.—GOODS MARKED A IN RULE 14.

(1) When not loaded in vans specially constructed for the carriage of dangerous goods, goods marked A in rule 14 must be securely packed, to prevent leaking, in strong tins or in bottles corked and sealed, and such tins or bottles must be enclosed in wooden cases. When bottles are used, they must be packed in straw or sawdust. Kerosine oil, however, having its flashing point at or above 76° Fahr., may be packed in sound iron or steel drums, or in tins without wooden cases, provided that in the latter case a layer of durma matting or other suitable dunnage is placed on the floor of the wagon and between each tier of tins.

(1A) The following special rules shall apply in the case of carbide of calcium :—

(a) The carbide of calcium must be contained in hermetically closed metal drums or cases sufficiently strong to remain in that condition through wear and tear of transport, so that the carbide of calcium cannot be affected by air or moisture.

(b) There must be no copper in the composition of any drum or case containing the carbide of calcium.

(c) No drum or case must contain a quantity exceeding two hundred and twenty-four pounds of carbide of calcium.

(d) The label on each hermetically closed metal drum or case containing the carbide of calcium must bear in conspicuous characters the words "Carbide of Calcium" "Dangerous if not kept dry, and with the following caution :—

"The contents of this drum (or case) are liable, if brought into contact with moisture, to give off a highly inflammable gas." The name and address of the sender should also be labelled on each drum or case.

II.—GOODS MARKED B IN RULE 14.

(2) Goods marked B in rule 14 must be well secured in stoneware jars or glass-stoppered bottles standing upright in cases with sloping covers :

Provided that—

(a) fluric acid must be put into leaden or gutta-percha bottles,

(b) solution of ammonia must be put into metal bottles with caps soldered on, and

(c) sulphuric acid shall not be put into jars with cork or wooden stoppers. Concentrated sulphuric acid (i. e., of a specific gravity not less than 1·84 which must be certified in writing by the consignor) may be packed in strong hermetically sealed iron or steel drums which must be in good condition and free from rust.

(3) Bottles containing bromine, muriatic acid, nitric acid, aquafortis or solution of ammonia must be only three-fourths full, to allow for expansion of vapour.

(4) In the case of boxes containing any of the three mineral acids, viz., Hydrochloric, Sulphuric, and Nitric, the inside packing must be of ashes free from cinders or of chalk, sand, or dry earth. In other cases the inside packing must be of straw, chaff or sawdust, mixed with coal, wood-ashes chalk or sand.

(5) Only one kind of the goods marked B in rule 14, and no other goods of any kind, may be put into one case.

(6) The weight of each case shall not exceed two maunds :

Provided that a case containing sulphuric acid may be packed up to a maximum weight of two-and-a-half maunds. In the case of concentrated sulphuric acid packed in accordance with rule (2) (c), the limit of the weight of a package is five maunds.

III.—GOODS MARKED C IN RULE 14.

(7) (1) Goods marked C in rule 14 which are not explosives to which the rules for the time being in force under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, apply, must be packed in strong dust-tight wooden cases having a metal lining, the contents being branded, painted or labelled on the outside in legibly printed or written characters.

IV of 1884.

(2) No such case shall contain more than one pound, and no box or package shall contain more than ten such cases.

Note.—This restriction will not apply to matches.

(3) The outer wooden cases used for the carriage of matches shall be of the following thickness of wood—gross weight of case with contents not exceeding 4 maunds in weight, ½ inch thick throughout; gross weight of case with contents exceeding 4 maunds, ⅞ inch thick throughout.

"Matches, safety," may, however, be carried in the tins in which they are imported, provided that such tins are strong enough as outer packages, that they do not exceed a limit in size of 2′ ×1′×1′, weighing approximately 13½ seers, and do not contain more than 120 packets of "matches, safety."

Note.—Matches which ignite by simple friction and Bengal lights (Pyrotechnic matches) which while not ordinarily igniting by simple friction are capable of doing so under chemical decomposition and are liable to spontaneous combustion, should be considered as coming within the class "matches, non-safety," while those which require to be rubbed on the prepared surface of the box which contains them to be ignited should be considered as coming within the class "matches, safety."

IV.—GOODS MARKED D IN RULE 14.

(8) Goods marked D in rule 14 must be packed in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for goods marked B in that rule:

Provided that—

(a) Spirits of wine, methylated or rectified, must be packed either in corked and capsuled bottles or in corked and capped drums securely packed or in strongly made casks securely closed so as to prevent all possibility of leakage,

(b) turpentine may be carried either in sound iron or steel drums or tins properly soldered, or in corked and capsuled bottles or tins being securely packed in wooden cases,

(c) any other goods marked D in rule 14 may be packed either in stoneware jars or glass-stoppered bottles or in vessels of metal (such as tin or copper) provided with screw stoppers or corked and with caps covering their mouths soldered on, and

(d) different kinds of the goods marked D in rule 14 may be put into one case, but no goods of the kinds marked, respectively, A, B and C in that rule may be put into the same case with them.

V.—GOODS MARKED E IN RULE 14.

(9) (1) Goods marked E in rule 14 will be accepted for carriage by railways under the following conditions:—

I.—By Passenger train.

(i) In drums or receptacles of not more than four gallons capacity up to a limit of twelve gallons in one train.

(ii) The drums or receptacles containing the goods must be made of tinned or galvanized sheet iron, steel or lead plate, and they must be packed in strong wooden cases, the thickness of the wood to be not less than half an inch; provided that wood cases shall not be necessary when the drums or receptacles are made of tinned or galvanized sheet iron or steel and have the following thickness of metal:—

	Not less than
(1) When the capacity does not exceed 2 gallons ...	25 B. W. G.
(2) When the capacity exceeds 2 gallons but does not exceed 4 gallons	22 B. W. G.

(iii) The drums or receptacles containing the goods must be fitted with well-made filling holes and well-fitting screw plugs or fitted with screw caps with metal air-tight undercap. They must also be gas-tight and so substantially constructed and secured as not to be liable, except under circumstances of gross negligence or extraordinary accident, to be broken or become defective, leaky or insecure in transit.

(iv) The nature of the contents and also the words "highly inflammable" must be distinctly marked on the drums or receptacles.

(v) A certificate must be handed in by the consignor to the effect that the air space of at least 1-10th of its capacity was left in each drum or receptacle at time of filling.

(vi) Drums or receptacles in a damaged condition must not be accepted.

(vii) The screw plugs or caps of empty drums or receptacles must be securely fastened.

(viii) The drums or receptacles must be carried in the rear brake-van, which should be well ventilated, and they must not be exposed to the sun or be brought into contact with naked lights. They must be placed as far away as possible from the other packages in the brake-van.

II.—By Goods train.

(i) In drums or receptacles of not more than ten gallons capacity.

(ii) The drums or receptacles containing the goods must be made of tinned or galvanized sheet iron, steel or lead plate, and they must be packed in strong wooden cases, the thickness of the wood to be not less than half an inch; provided that wood cases shall not be necessary when the drums or receptacles are made of tinned or galvanized sheet iron or steel and have the following thickness of metal:—

	Not less than
(1) When the capacity does not exceed 2 gallons ...	25 B. W. G.
(2) When the capacity exceeds 2 gallons but does not exceed 4 gallons	22 B. W. G.
(3) When the capacity exceeds 4 gallons... ...	16 B. W. G.

(iii) The drums or receptacles containing the goods must be fitted with well-made filling holes and well-fitting screw plugs or fitted with screw caps with metal air-tight undercap. They must also be gas-tight and so substantially constructed and secured as not to be liable, except under circumstances of gross negligence or extraordinary accident, to be broken or become defective, leaky or insecure in transit.

(iv) The nature of the contents and also the words "highly inflammable" must be distinctly marked on the drums or receptacles.

(v) A certificate must be handed in by the consignor to the effect that an air space of at least 1-10th of its capacity was left in each drum or receptacle at time of filling.

(vi) Drums or receptacles in a damaged condition must not be accepted.

(vii) The screw plugs or caps of empty drums or receptacles must be securely fastened.

(viii) The drums or receptacles may be carried in ordinary iron wagons, provided the wagons are well ventilated. They may, at the option of the Railwas Administration, be loaded in vehicles with other goods of a non-explosive or non-dangerous nature.

(ix) The drums or receptacles containing these goods must not be allowed to stand in the sun.

(x) Lamps or naked lights must not be allowed in, or brought near vehicles loaded with drums or receptacles containing the goods.

(2) The chief danger to be apprehended is from leakage, as the vapour of these goods is heavier than air and is inflammable. The vapour is also explosive when mixed with certain proportions of air in a confined space.

(3) Tanks of motor cars or motor cycles tendered for carriage by railway, must be empty, thoroughly clean and free from vapour before the vehicles are accepted.

VI.—GOODS MARKED G IN RULE 14.

(10) (1) These gases must be packed in cylinders.

(2) Cylinders must be made of wrought iron or mild steel of the best quality, containing not more than 0·25 per cent of carbon thoroughly annealed after manufacture and 99 per cent of iron, of sufficient strength and efficiently tested, and must not exceed 8 feet in length and 10 inches in diameter.

(3) Cylinders must be separately and securely packed in a strong wooden case, or in a covering made of closely plaited 1 inch (circumference) hemp or coir, except that several small cylinders not exceeding 18 inches in length and 4 inches in diameter may be packed in one box, provided each cylinder is contained in a separate compartment or is separately encased in closely plaited 1 inch (circumference) hemp or coir. Each box must not contain more than 25 cylinders and the gross weight of each box and contents must not exceed 3½ maunds.

(6) Cylinders must be carefully handled, and must not be exposed to the rays of the sun, nor to the heat of a fire, stove or other source of heat.

(7) No consignment of goods marked G shall be accepted for carriage by rail unless the consignor has signed a certificate in the following form :—

FORM OF CERTIFICATE.

Certified that the cylinder or cylinders containing.....tendered by $\frac{\text{me}}{\text{us}}$ as per Forwarding Order No.....of this date to the.....Railway for despatch to.....station $\frac{\text{has}}{\text{have}}$ been packed and tested in accordance, and that the cylinder or cylinders $\frac{\text{complies}}{\text{comply}}$ in every respect, with the rules promulgated under the Railway Board's circular No. R. T. 173, dated the 30th August 1905, to regulate the packing and carriage by railway in India of.....

$\frac{\text{I}}{\text{We}}$ also certify that the consignment complies with the conditions that the cylinder or cylinders must be of wrought iron or mild steel of the best quality, containing not more than 0·25 per centum of carbon thoroughly annealed after manufacture and 99 per centum of iron of sufficient strength and efficiently tested.

Exception.—Compressed carbonic acid gas may be allowed, as an exception to the other compressed gases, to be carried under the more liberal rules for the conveyance of articles in class A of Appendix A, Part II, of the open line General Rules, and it may also be carried in the rear brake-van of passenger trains subject to a limit of two cylinders per van.

APPENDIX B.

[SEE CHAPTER III, RULES 16 AND 26.]

Notification by the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), No. 5528, dated the 11th October 1901.

RULES NOW IN FORCE UNDER THE INDIAN EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1884 (IV OF 1884), AND AFFECTING RAILWAYS.

PRELIMINARY.

1. For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely :—

Class 1—Gunpowder,
" 2—Nitrate-mixture,
" 3—Nitro-compound,
" 4—Chlorate-mixture,
" 5—Fulminate,
" 6—Ammunition,
" 7—Firework,

and when an explosive falls within the descriptions of more than one class, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls.

CLASS 1.—GUNPOWDER CLASS.

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—NITRATE-MIXTURE CLASS.

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation, other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate-mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Chilworth special powder,	Ripp-Lene,
Fortis explosive,	Safety blasting powder,

Westfallite,

and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3.—NITRO-COMPOUND CLASS.

The term "nitro-compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties, or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Amberite No. 1,	Dynamite,
Ballistite,	Gelatine Dynamite,
Blasting Gelatine,	Gelignite,
Carbonite,	Lithofracteur,
Cordite,	Nitro-glycerine,

Stonite,

and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists, either wholly or partly, of nitro-glycerine or some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Amberite No. 2,	Nitrated gun-cotton,
Ammonite,	Picrates,*
Bellite,	Picric acid,*
Coopal's powder	Picric powder,
Cotton gunpowder,	Roburite,
E. C. powder,	Sawdust and gun-cotton powder,
Gun-cotton ordinarily so called,	Schultz's powder,

Tonite (or cotton-powder),

and any nitro-compound as before defined which is not comprised in the 1st division.

CLASS 4.—CHLORATE-MIXTURE CLASS.

The term "chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder,
Brain's blasting powder,

and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

* NOTE.—(a) Picric acid mixed with not less than half its own weight of water shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive.

(b) Picric acid which does not fall within the exemption (a) when the quantity does not exceed two thousand pounds in any one ship, boat, carriage, building or place, shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive; provided that such picric acid is so kept and conveyed as not to be liable, whether under the action of fire or otherwise, to come in contact with any substance specified in the schedule hereto, or with any fire or light capable of igniting such picric acid.

Provided also that such picric acid when dry is so packed in a substantial barrel or case that the contents cannot escape; and that no metal other than aluminium, or an alloy containing not less than ninety per centum of aluminium, is used in the construction of any package containing such picric acid, and that each barrel or case is legibly marked "Picric Acid."

Picric acid when not subject to the above exemptions must be packed and marked as laid down in rule 2 of these rules.

Picrates and mixture of picric acid with any other substance (for whatever purpose used or manufactured) shall be deemed to be explosive subject to the following exceptions:—

(a) A picrate mixed with not less than half its own weight of water shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive.

(b) Picric acid thoroughly mixed with not less than three times its own weight of—

(i) anhydrous sulphate of soda,

(ii) crystallized sulphate of soda, when packed in hermetically closed packages, or

(iii) potash alum,

shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder,	Hochstadter's blasting charges.
Erhardt's powder,	Reichen's blasting charges,
Reveley's powder,	Teutonite,

Chlorated gun-cotton,

and any chlorate-mixture as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 5.—FULMINATE CLASS.

The term "fulminate" any chemical compound or mechanical mixture whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

The fulminate class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphuret with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

CLASS 6.—AMMUNITION CLASS.

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small-arms, cannon, or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion cap, a detonator, a fog signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war-rocket, or other contrivance other than a firewoork.

The term "percussion cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive classes in such quantity, that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small-arms of which the case can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges. The term also includes rifle-calibre machine-gun cartridges if they are of the above description, whether they are for use with machine-guns having chambers identical with those of rifles or with machine-guns which have special chambers.

Schedule.

Any of the following metals or metallic oxides, namely, lead, oxide of lead, oxide of iron, potash, baryta, lime, soda, oxide of zinc, oxide of copper; and any compound of such metal or oxide (other than a metallic sulphate); or any chlorate, nitrate, or other oxidizing agent; or any other substance declared by a Notification of the Government of India to be capable of forming with picric acid a dangerous compound:

Provided that this schedule shall not be deemed to include any metal, or oxide unavoidably formed on any metal used in the construction of any ship, boat, or carriage, or contained in any paint, where the packages containing picric acid are protected from direct contact with such metal or paint.

The maximum diameter at which a small-arm or machine-gun cartridge can be accepted as "safety" is one inch.

The ammunition class has three divisions:

Division 1 comprises exclusively—

Safety cartridges,
Safety fuzes for blasting,
Railway fog signals,
Percussion caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition, as before defined, which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,
Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,
War-rockets,
which do contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition as before defined, which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Detonators,
Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,
which do not contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—FIREWORK CLASS.

The firework class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises firework compositions, that is to say, any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature, which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any star and any coloured fire composition, subject to the proviso hereinafter set forth.

Division 2 comprises manufactured fireworks, that is to say, any explosive of any of the foregoing classes and firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, toy cap or amorce, serpent rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article specially adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals or sound signals:

Provided that a substantially constructed and hermetically closed metal case, containing not more than 1 lb. of coloured fire composition of such a nature as not to be liable to spontaneous ignition, shall be deemed to be a "manufactured firework."

TRANSPORT.

No money orders will be received by the undersigned except from outside the Province.

No. 3.—Much inconvenience is caused in this office by subscribers not giving their full and correct addresses, and writing illegibly on the money order coupons, which are unfit for record.

No. 4.—Communications on post-cards or on paper less than half a sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention.

No. 5.—An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatching of Gazette copies forwarded through post. No responsibility will be accepted when copies miscarry, or are not delivered to addressees, and such losses will not be replaced by duplicate copies.

It is therefore requested that, when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

RESOLUTION.—In their letter No. 958 R. T., dated the 9th November 1903, the Government of India in the Public Works Department expressed the opinion that the recent advance in signalling and block-working on Railways in India necessiated a revision of Part I of the General Rules for working open lines of railway, promulgated with their circular No. 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895. This, it was considered, should be undertaken by a Committee specially selected and appointed for the purpose. In this view and in order to assist in the consideration of the matter, Local Governments, Administrations, Officers in charge of Railways, and Railway Administrations were consulted and their opinion invited as to the need for reform. The opinions expressed were later circulated for the information of Local Governments, Administrations, Officers in charge of Railways and Railway Administrations, under Government of India, Public Works Department, letter No. 580 R. T., dated the 24th June 1904, with the intimation that it had been decided to entrust the revision of the rules to a Committee composed of officers from the Traffic, Locomotive, and Engineering Departments and a Signal Engineer.

2. The Committee duly considered and framed a set of rules so as to meet the many varying needs of the railways in India, from those of fast and heavy traffic, to those of very light traffic worked by daylight only. This draft was further circulated for information, under Government of India, Public Works Department, letter No. 1045 R. T., dated the 10th November 1904, and taken into consideration by the Government of India in the Public Works and Legislative Departments. A further revised draft was circulated under Railway Board's letter No. R. T. 89, dated the 5th May 1905, and subsequently placed before the Indian Railway Conference Association for their consideration and recommendations.

3. The recommendations of the Conference having been considered by the Railway Board and by the Government of India in the Legislative Departments, a complete and revised set of General Rules has now been framed.

4. Part II of the General Rules, promulgated with the Government of India, Public Works Department, circular No. 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895, has, however, not been revised, but the opportunity has been taken to reprint it with such amendments to date as have been issued from time to time.

5. In exercise of the powers conferred by the notification of the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry, No. 801, dated the 24th March 1905, read in the preamble above, the Railway Board sanction, under section 47, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), and in supersession of the rules annexed to the Government of India, Public Works Department, circulars Nos. 17 R., dated the 21st August 1880, 3 Railway, dated the 19th April 1892, and 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895, and of all other rules made in this behalf, the adoption by the Administrations of all lines of railway in British India administered by the Government and for the time being used for the public carriage of passengers, animals, or goods, of the accompanying General Rules, and direct that they shall be brought into force on the 1st January 1907.

6. The Railway Board desire that the said rules may be brought to the notice of the Administrations of the several Railways not administered by the Government and that the Agents and Managers of those Railways may be invited to submit a formal application for the adoption of the rules, with such modifications (if any) as may be considered necessary in each case.

ORDER.—Ordered that this circular, with its enclosures, be published under a notification in the Gazette of India as required by section 47, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), and that a copy thereof be kept open for inspection at railway stations as directed by sub-section (6) of the same section; also that a copy of this circular and of its enclosures be communicated to the Governments, Administrations, and Officers, noted in the margin, for information.

Class B stations—where permission to approach may be given for a train before the line has been cleared for the reception of the train within the station section or within the station limits, as the case may be;

Class C stations—block-huts, at which no trains are booked to stop; and Class D stations—stopping-places or flag stations, which are situated between two consecutive stations of Class A, Class B or Class C, and do not form the boundary of any block-section.

CHAPTER II.

SIGNALS.

A.—General Provisions.

General use of signals.

3. The signals prescribed in these rules shall be used for controlling the movement of trains in all cases in which exceptions are not allowed by approved special instructions.

Kinds of signals.

4. The signals to be used for controlling the movement of trains shall be—fixed signals, hand signals, and detonating signals.

Use of night signals by day.

5. The signals prescribed in these rules for use by night shall also be used by day in tunnels and in thick or foggy weather.

B.—Fixed signals.

Use of semaphore Stop signals and Warning signals.

6. Unless approved special instructions are issued to the contrary, all railways shall be equipped with semaphore signals which shall be either Stop signals or Warning signals.

Description of Stop signals, and their indications.

7. (1) When a semaphore signal is used as a Stop signal, the arm shall be square-ended and the signal shall be arranged to give two indications, namely, "Stop" and "Proceed," either by the position of the arm or by the showing of a light.

(2) The horizontal position of the arm, or, at night, the showing of a red light, thus—constitutes the "on" or "danger" position, and signifies "Stop dead, and do not pass till the arm is lowered or (at night) till the light is changed to green."

(3) The inclined position of the arm, lowered to an angle of from 45° to 60° below the horizontal, or, at night, the showing of a green light, thus—constitutes the "off" position, and signifies "Proceed."

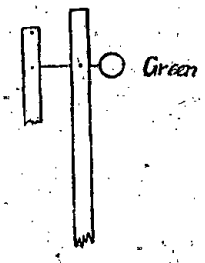
(4) If allowed by approved special instructions, the arm, when "off," may be vertical, thus—



Description of Warning signals, and their indications.

8. (1) Warning signals (or Warners) are signals intended to warn Engine Drivers of the condition of the block-section ahead.

(2) Except under approved special instructions, the use of Warning signals is confined to interlocked stations.

(3) When a semaphore signal is used as a Warning signal, the arm shall be fish-tailed and it shall be arranged to give two indications, namely, "Proceed with caution" and "All right."

(4) The horizontal position of the fish-tailed arm, or the showing at night of two lights, one at the root of the arm and red, and the other six to seven feet above it and green, constitutes the "Proceed with caution" position, and signifies "Pass by without stopping, but with caution, and be prepared to stop at the next Stop signal or where required."

(5) The inclined position of the arm lowered to an angle of from 45° to 60° below the horizontal, or the showing at night of two lights, one at the root of the arm and green, and the other six to seven feet above it and also green, constitutes the "All right" or "off" position, and signifies "Proceed: the next block-section ahead is clear."

Placing of Warning signals.

9. (1) A Warner may be placed either—

(a) on a post by itself, at an adequate distance outside the Home signal, or
(b) on the same post as, but six to seven feet below the arm of, the Outer signal, or
(c) on the same post as, but six to seven feet below the last Stop signal of a station.

(2) When the warner is placed below a Stop signal, the variable light of the Stop signal shall take the place of the fixed green light of the Warner, and the mechanical arrangements must be such that the Warner cannot be taken "off" while the Stop signal above it is "on."

Significance of various combinations of arms or lights.

10. The significance of the various combinations of arms or lights described in rules 7, 8 and 9 is as follows:—

Indication	Meaning	Explanation
(a) Square-ended arm "off" single green light.	Proceed ...	.....
(b) Square-ended arm "on" single red light.	Danger ...	Stop dead, and do not pass till the arm is lowered or (at night) till the light is changed to green.
(c) Upper (square) arm "on," lower (fish-tailed) arm horizontal; red over red.	Danger ...	Stop, and do not pass till the upper arm is lowered or (at night) till the upper light is changed to green.
(d) Upper (square) arm "off," lower (fish-tailed) arm horizontal; green over red.	Proceed with caution.	Proceed cautiously, and be prepared to stop at the next Stop signal or where required.
(e) Upper (square) arm "off," lower (fish-tailed) arm "off," green over green.	All right ...	Proceed.
(f) Single (fish-tailed) arm horizontal; green over red.	Proceed with caution.	Proceed cautiously, and be prepared to stop at the next Stop signal or where required.
(g) Single (fish-tailed) arm "off"; green over green.	All right ...	Proceed.
Explanation.—The exhibition of a red over green light, or the corresponding position of the arms by day, or the absence of one or both lights, shows that the signal is out of order and should be treated as a danger signal. The Engine-Driver must stop at such signal and ascertain, if possible, the cause. He may then proceed cautiously, being guided by the signals in advance, and must immediately on arrival at the station report the circumstances to the Station Master.

Kinds of Stop signals for approaching trains.

11. (1) The Stop signals which control the movement of trains approaching a station are of four kinds, namely, Outer Home, Main and Track (or Routing) signals.

(2) The Outer signal is a signal fixed at an adequate distance outside the point up to which the line may be obstructed after permission to approach has been sent to the station in rear, or at an adequate distance outside the place where a train usually comes to a stand in accordance with the system of working.

(3) The Home signal is the first Stop signal of a station at which an Outer signal is not provided, and the second Stop signal of a station at which an Outer signal is provided.

(4) The Main signal is a signal fixed within station limits, generally near the centre of a station. It may, under approved special instructions, be called the Home signal. It is ordinarily provided with two semaphore arms only, one on either side of the post, in which case the left-hand arm only is applicable to approaching trains. No other arrangement of arms may be used without the sanction of the Government Inspector.

(5) The Track or Routing signal is a special bracketted signal used to indicate to an Engine Driver which of two or more diverging tracks is made for him when the Home signal is, in consequence of its position, inconvenient for that purpose.

Kinds of Stop signals for departing trains.

12. (1) The Stop signals which control the movement of trains leaving a station are of two kinds, namely, Starting signals and Advanced Starting signals.

(2) Where there is only one Starting signal, it is called the Starting signal or Starter.

(3) Where there are two Starting signals, the outermost is the last Stop signal of a station and is called the Advanced Starting signal or Advanced Starter, while the other is called the Starting signal or Starter.

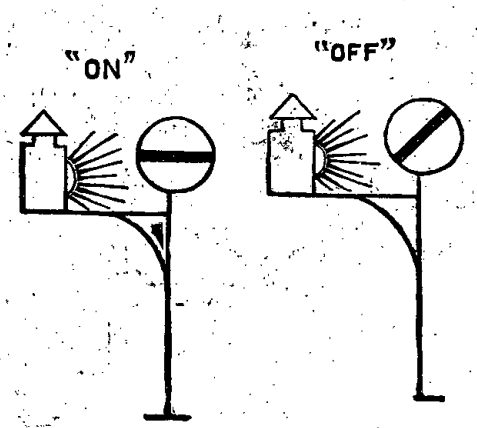
(4) The Starting signal, where only one such signal is provided, or the Advanced Starting signal, where two Starting signals are provided, must be fixed at the limit beyond which no train may pass unless the Engine Driver is given the authority to proceed which is required by the system of working, and must be fixed outside all connections on the line to which it refers.

(5) Where an Advanced Starting signal is provided, the Starting signal must be placed so as to protect the first facing or fouling point on the line to which it refers.

Description of the Outer Repeater.

13. (1) The Outer Repeater is an indicator fixed at an adequate distance outside the Outer signal for the purpose of advising the Engine Driver whether the Outer signal is "off" or "on."

(2) An Outer Repeater may take the form of a white disc showing a black horizontal bar (signifying "Caution") when the Outer signal is "on" and a black diagonal bar (signifying "Proceed") when the Outer signal is "off," thus—



(3) If used at night, an Outer Repeater must be so illuminated as to make its indications clearly visible.

Description of Shunting signals and Calling-on signals.

14. Shunting signals and Calling-on signals are short auxiliary arms and auxiliary lights placed below the arms of Starters or Advanced Starters and Home signals, respectively; and when "off," authorise an Engine Driver to draw ahead although the arm above is "on."

Use of Siding, Miniature or Dwarf, and Disc signals.

15. Siding, Miniature or Dwarf, and Disc signals are used to control shunting operations in sidings, the movements of trains between sidings and main lines, or between one main line and another. In the case of Siding, Miniature or Dwarf signals the "on" or "danger" position is shown in the day time by a short arm in the horizontal position, and at night by a red light. The "off" or "proceed" position is shown in the day time by the arm being lowered and at night by a green light.

In the case of Disc signals the "on" or "danger" position is shown in the day time by a red disc and at night by a red light.

The "proceed" or "off" position is shown in the day time by the disc being turned "off" and at night by a green light.

Explanation.—Point Indicators are not signals, but are appliances fitted to, and working with, points, to indicate by day or by night the position in which the points are set.

Co-acting signals.

16. (1) Co-acting signals are duplicate signals fixed vertically below ordinary signals, and are provided where, in consequence of the great height of the signal post, or of there being an overbridge or other obstacle, the main arm or light is not in view of the Engine Driver during the whole time that he is approaching it.

(2) Co-acting signals must be fitted at such height that either the main arm or light or the co-acting arm or light may always be visible.

Description of Banner Flag.

17. A Banner Flag is a temporary fixed danger signal consisting of a red cloth supported at each end on a post and stretched across the line to which it refers.

Normal position of fixed signals.

18. (1) The normal position of every fixed signal, except Calling-on signals, shall be "danger."

(2) Every fixed signal shall be so constructed that, in case of failure of any part of its connections, it shall remain at, or return to, its normal position.

Position of signal arms.

19. Signal arms must be placed on the left-hand side of the post as seen by the Driver of any approaching train.

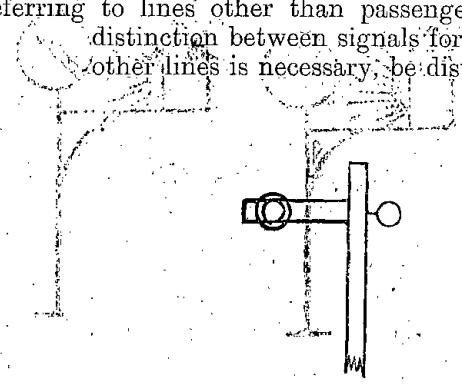
Painting of signal arms.

20. (1) Signal arms must be painted red with a white bar on the side facing trains to which they refer, and white with a black bar on the other side.

(2) On Warning signal arms the said bars must be parallel with the notching.

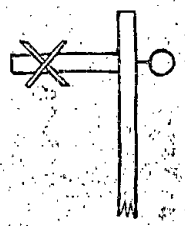
Rings for signal arms.

21. Signal arms referring to lines other than passenger lines must, at places where distinction between signals for passenger lines and signals for other lines is necessary, be distinguished by rings, thus—



22. When semaphore signals are not in use, the arms must remain fixed in the "on" position, and must be distinguished by having two crossed bars on them, thus—

Signals out of use.



23. Fixed signals shall be fixed on the side of the line on which they can be seen by Drivers of approaching trains, but the left-hand side of the track is to be preferred unless the sighting is greatly interfered with.

Position of fixed signals.

24. Unless otherwise permitted by approved special instructions,—

Bracket-posts and signal posts when to be used.

(a) where two or more lines diverge, the signals must be fixed on a bracket-post; and

(b) where two or more lines converge, the signals must be fixed on separate posts or, where this is no practicable, then on a bracket-post:

Provided that, where the number of signals is considerable, they may be fixed on separate posts or dolls carried on a Signal-bridge provided for the purpose.

25. Not more than one signal referring to trains moving in the same direction (whether on the same track or on separate tracks) shall be placed on the same post, unless—

Placing of more than one signal on the same post.

(a) there be only two signals on the post and the lower signal is a Warner fixed from six to seven feet below the other signal, or

(b) the lower signal is a Co-acting signal or Calling-on signal fixed at least fifteen feet below the next signal, or

(c) the sanction of the Government Inspector has been obtained.

26. (1) In the case of all bracket or bridge signals, the left-hand signal shall be read as referring to the left-hand road, and the second signal from the left shall be read as referring to the next road from the left, and so on.

Relation of signals to particular roads.

(2) Where, with the sanction of the Government Inspector under rule 25, clause (c), two or more signals are placed on the same post, the top arm shall be read as referring to the left-hand diverging road, and the second arm shall be read as referring to the next road from the left, and so on.

27. Signals on brackets and bridges shall be distinguished as much as possible by grouping and by making the more important signals higher than the less important signals.

Distinction between signals.

28. (1) Every fixed signal, the light of which cannot be seen from the point from which the signal is worked, must be provided with a back-light or tell-tale, by which the Station Master may see whether the light is burning or not.

Black-lights.

(2) Back-lights of signals must show a small white light when "on," and no light at all in any other position.

(3) When a Warner is used by itself, its fixed green light must show a white back-light.

C.—Hand Signals

29. A Hand signal shall be made—

Hand signals how made.

by day, by showing a flag or hand, and, by night by showing a light.

Stop signal how given.

30. The Stop signal shall be given —

by day,—

(a) by showing a red flag, thus—

or

(b) in the absence of flags, by raising both arms with the hands above the head, thus—

and, by night,—

(i) by showing a red light; or

(ii) in the absence of a red light, by violently waving a white light.

"Proceed with caution" signal when used and how given.

31. The "Proceed with caution" signal must be used when it is intended that a train should proceed slowly, and shall be given—

by day,—

(a) by waving a green flag vertically, thus—

or

(b) in the absence of flags, by waving one arm in a similar manner, thus—

and,

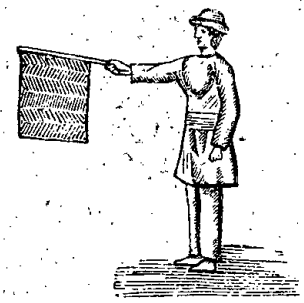
by night, by similarly waving a green light.

Proceed signal how given.

32. The Proceed signal shall be given—

by day,—

(a) by holding a green flag steadily, thus—



or

(b) in the absence of flags, by holding out one arm steadily, thus—

and, by night, by holding a green light steadily

Signals for shunting.

33. In shunting operations, signals shall be given as follows:—

(1) to move away from the person signalling, a green flag or green light moved slowly up and down.

(2) to move towards the person signalling, a green flag or green light moved from side to side across the body.

(3) to slow down, the above signals to be displayed slower and slower until the Danger signal is given.

D.—Detonating Signals.

Detonating signals defined.

34. "Detonating" signals (otherwise known as "Fog" signals) are appliances placed on the rails so as to explode with a loud report when an engine passes over them, for the purpose of attracting the attention of Engine Drivers.

Stocks of detonators.

35. (1) All Station Masters, Guards, Engine Drivers, Gangers and Gatemen, and all other railway servants on whom this duty is laid by the Railway Administration, must keep a stock of detonators.

(2) Each Railway Administration shall be responsible for the supply, renewal, periodical testing and safe custody of such detonators, and for ensuring that their use is properly understood.

Placing of detonators in thick or foggy weather.

36. In thick or foggy weather, whenever it is necessary to indicate to the Driver of an approaching train the locality of a signal, two detonators must be placed on the line, by a railway servant appointed by the Station Master in this behalf, about ten yards apart and at least one hundred yards outside the outermost signal of the station.

Placing of detonators in case of obstruction.

37. (1) Whenever, in consequence of an obstruction of a line, it is necessary for a railway servant to show hand danger signals at some place short of such obstruction, he shall put on the line one detonator, halfway out to such place, and three detonators, about ten yards apart, at such place.

(2) If the said railway servant is recalled before the obstruction is removed, he must leave down three detonators and must on his way back pick up the intermediate detonator.

Placing of detonators on a mixed gauge.

38. In all cases where the use of detonators is necessary under these rules, on a mixed gauge, detonators must be placed on one rail of each gauge, or on the rail common to both.

Securing of detonators on the line.

39. Detonators must be placed on the line with the label or brand upwards, and must be secured by bending the clasp round the upper flange of the rail.

Renewal of detonators on the line.

40. Every railway servant placing detonators on the line must see that they are, when necessary, renewed immediately after a train has passed over them.

E.—Signals at Stations.

Obligation to provide fixed signals at stations.

41. The fixed signals prescribed in this sub-chapter shall be provided at every station except—

(a) stations between which trains are worked on the One engine only system mentioned in Chapter XI, and (b) stations which are exempted from this rule by approved special instructions.

Inspection of fixed signals.

42. Fixed signals shall not be brought into use until they have been passed by the Government Inspector as being sufficient to secure the safe working of trains.

Minimum equipment of fixed signals.

43. The minimum equipment of fixed signals to be provided for each direction shall be as follows:—

(a) at a Class A station—
a Warning signal,
a Home signal, and
a Starting signal;

(b) at a Class B station—
an Outer signal, and
a Home signal; and

(c) at a Class C station—
a Warning signal, and a Home signal.

Additional fixed signals at Class B stations.

44. Besides the minimum equipment prescribed in rule 43, the following fixed signals must be provided at Class B stations, namely—

(a) on a double line—a Starting signal for each direction;

(b) on both a double and a single line—if trains run through at high speed without stopping, a Warning signal, to be fixed below the arm of the Outer signal; and

(c) on a single line worked on the Absolute Block system—if the obstructing of the line outside the facing points in the direction of an approaching train is permitted under rule 110, a Shunting Board (bearing the words "shunting limit" on the side which faces the station, and fitted with a lamp showing a white light in both directions to mark its position by night) or an Advanced Starter, to be fixed at a distance not exceeding two hundred yards from the facing points, to mark the extreme limit up to which such obstructing may be permitted.

Exceptions to rules 43 and 44.

45. Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 43 or rule 44,—

(a) if the station is already provided with an Outer signal and a Main signal, the latter may remain in use instead of a Home signal, until the station is interlocked, or until the Government Inspector orders otherwise. At such stations on a double line, trains shall be worked in accordance with approved special instructions;

(b) if the station has only one pair of points on the main line, signals shall be erected, and the station shall be worked, in accordance with approved special instructions;

(c) on any railway where traffic is light and speeds are slow, all signals, except one Stop signal at each station for each direction, may, under the special sanction of the Government Inspector, be dispensed with, the said Stop signal being placed at such point within or outside the station-yard as he may approve, and trains being worked in accordance with approved special instructions; and

(d) on any railway having very light traffic worked by day only, all or any signals may, with the special sanction of the Government Inspector, be dispensed with, trains being worked in accordance with approved special instructions.

Additional fixed signals at stations generally.

46. In addition to the equipment prescribed in rules 43 and 44, such other fixed signals (if any) must be provided at every station as may be necessary for the safe working of trains.

Signals at Class D Stations.

47. At a Class D station, a train may be stopped either by hand signals or by a fixed Stop signal for each direction.

F.—Signals at Gates.

Signals at gates.

48. Unless exempted under approved special instructions, every gate which closes across the line at a level crossing must, except when interlocked with station signals, be provided with semaphore signals fixed at an adequate distance from the gate and showing Stop signals both up and down the line when the gates are open for the passage of road traffic.

G.—Working of Fixed Signals.

Fixed signals generally.

49. (1) Subject to the provisions of Rule 18, fixed signals must always be kept "on" (that is, at "danger") except when taken "off" (that is, lowered) to allow a train to pass.

(2) No fixed signal shall be taken "off" without the permission of the Station Master.

(3) The Station Master shall not give permission to take signals "off" to admit a train until—

(a) all facing points over which the train will pass are correctly set and secured,

(b) all trailing points over which the train will pass are correctly set, and

(c) the line over which the train is to pass is clear and free from obstructions.

(4) Except in cases of emergency, a signal which has been taken "off" for the passage of a train shall not be placed "on" until the whole of the train which it controls has passed it or, in the case of a Main signal, has arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand.

(5) At stations on a single line, except under special instructions where the interlocking or the lay-out of the yard renders a contrary procedure safe, when two or more trains are approaching simultaneously from any direction, the signals for one train only at a time may be taken "off," all other signals being kept "on" until the train for which the signals have been taken "off" has come to a stand at the station or has cleared the station.

Home signals.

50. (1) When a train is approaching a Home signal otherwise than at a terminal station, the signal shall not be taken "off" until the train has first been brought to a stand outside the signal unless—

(a) (on a double line) the line is clear for an adequate distance beyond the Starting signal; or

(b) (on a single line) the line is clear for an adequate distance beyond the trailing points, or up to the farthest Outer signal, whichever distance is less, or if, allowed by approved special instructions, for an adequate distance beyond the place at which the train is required to come to a stand.

(2) The adequate distance referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be fixed by special instructions, but shall never be less than two hundred yards without the sanction of the Government Inspector.

The Outer signal.

51. (1) The Outer signal shall never be taken "off" to admit a train which has not been brought to a stand outside it, unless the line on which the train is to be received in the station is clear, in the case of a double line, up to the Starting signal, and, in the case of a single line, for an adequate distance beyond the first facing points.

(2) When a train which is booked to run through has to be stopped out of course at a station where Warners are not provided, the Outer signal shall not be taken "off" until the train has been brought to a stand outside it.

(3) The Warner shall never be taken "off" for a train that is booked to stop, or for a train that has to be stopped out of course.

Calling-on signal.

52. A Calling-on signal referring to a running train shall not be placed to "off" until the train has been brought to a stand at the signal below which the Calling-on signal is fixed.

Shunting.

53. (1) The Outer, Home and Main signals and the outermost Starting signal of a station shall not be taken "off" for shunting purposes.

(2) Starting signals, where Advanced Starting signals are provided, must be taken "off" for shunting purposes, except where the arrangement of the interlocking interferes with this practice, in which case Shunting arms must be provided.

H.—Defective Signals.

Duties of Station Master.

54. As soon as the Station Master becomes aware that any signal has become defective or has ceased to work properly, he shall—

(a) take measures, either by disconnecting the wire or by other means, to place the signal "on" if it is not already in that position;

(b) depute one or more competent railway servants, with such hand signals and detonators as may be required, to give signals at the place where the defective signal is situated, until the Station Master is satisfied that such signal has been put into proper working order;

(c) if possible, advise the station in rear in order that the Drivers of all approaching trains may be warned; and

(d) report the occurrence to the person who is responsible for the up-keep of the signal.

Use of other signals.

55. (1) If a Warner is out of order, it must be kept in the horizontal position, and Engine Drivers will work to the other signals.

(2) If a Warner on a post by itself is out of order and cannot be kept in the horizontal position, a red hand signal must be shown at the foot of the signal post, and by night the fixed green light must be extinguished; and trains, after having first been brought to a stand, may then be hand-signalled past.

(3) If a Home or Main signal, or a Starter or Advanced Starter, is out of order, the railway servant stationed at the signal must show hand signals in accordance with instructions from the Station Master.

(4) If the Outer signal is out of order, the railway servant stationed at it—

(a) must repeat by hand signal the indication given by the Home signal, or

(b) If the Home signal is also out of order, must repeat the indication given by the hand signal at the Home signal.

Intimation to station when defects remedied.

56. As soon as a defective signal has been put into good working order, the Station Master must intimate the fact to the station which was advised of its being defective.

CHAPTER III.

WORKING OF TRAINS GENERALLY.

Standard time.

57. The working of trains between stations shall be regulated by the standard time prescribed by the Governor-General in Council, which must be sent daily to all the principal stations on the railway.

Adherence to advertised time.

58. No passenger train or mixed train shall be despatched from a station before the advertised time.

Notice of running.

59. No train shall be allowed to run unless previous notice has been given, when practicable, to all stations concerned.

Permission to approach and authority to proceed.

60. (1) No person other than the Station Master may ask for or give permission to approach or give authority to proceed.

(2) An authority to proceed given to a running train shall lapse as soon as the last vehicle of the train has passed—

(a) on a double line, inside the Home signal; or

(b) on a single line,—

(i) inside the Home signal, or

(ii) where there is no Home signal, inside the facing points.

Pushing engine.

61. (1) No engine shall be allowed, outside station limits, to push any train, except in accordance with special instructions and at a speed not exceeding fifteen miles an hour.

(2) Sub-rule (1) shall not apply to an engine assisting in rear of a train.

Engine running tender foremost.

62. (1) A passenger train or a mixed train shall not be drawn outside station limits by an engine running tender foremost, except—

(a) under a written order issued by the authorised officer, or

(b) in a case of unavoidable necessity, to be established by the Engine Driver.

(2) When any such train is so drawn, the speed shall not exceed fifteen miles an hour, or such higher speed, not exceeding twenty-five miles an hour, as may be authorised by approved special instructions.

Guards and brake-vans.

63. (1) Except under special instructions, no engine with vehicles attached shall be despatched from any station without one or more Guards and one or more brake-vans or hand-braked vehicles.

(2) Every Guard must, except under special circumstances, ride in his own brake-van or braked vehicle.

(3) Unless it be otherwise directed by special instructions, one brake-van must be attached to the rear of the train:

Provided that reserved carriages or other vehicles may, under special instructions, be placed in rear of such van.

Means of communication with passengers.

64. No passenger train or mixed train shall be despatched from any station unless it be provided with means by which a Guard can communicate with, or get access to, every passenger carriage in the train.

Explanation.—A goods vehicle in which passengers are carried is not a "passenger carriage" within the meaning of this rule.

Loading.

IX of 1890.

65. (1) No wagon or truck shall be so loaded as to exceed the maximum gross load on the axles fixed under section 53, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, or such less load (if any) as may have been prescribed by the Railway Administration.

(2) Except under approved special instructions, no vehicles shall be so loaded as to exceed the maximum moving dimensions prescribed from time to time by the Railway Board.

Couplings.

66. No vehicle that is not furnished with screw couplings or with a central buffer coupling of approved pattern shall be attached to a passenger or mixed train.

Dangerous vehicles.

67. (1) No vehicle which has been off the line shall be allowed to run between stations until it has been examined and passed by a competent Carriage and Wagon Examiner:

Provided that, in case of a derailment between stations, the Engine Driver may, if he considers it safe to do so, take slowly to the next station a vehicle that has been off the line.

(2) If a guard or Station Master has reason to apprehend danger from the condition of any vehicle on a train before it can be inspected by a Carriage and Wagon Examiner, the Engine Driver shall be consulted, and, if he so requires, the vehicle shall be detached from the train.

Travelling cranes.

68. When attaching a travelling crane to a train, the Guard in charge of the train must see that the jib is properly lowered and secured, and that the cane is, if practicable, so placed that the jib will point towards the rear.

Dummy truck.

69. When the jib of a travelling crane projects beyond its truck, or when the load in a truck projects to an unsafe extent beyond the end of the truck, an additional truck shall be attached, to act as a dummy.

Private engines and vehicles.

70. No engine or other vehicle, the property of a private owner, shall be allowed to enter upon the railway, except in accordance with special instructions.

Train-lights.

71. At night, and in thick or foggy weather,—

(1) no train shall be worked outside station-limits unless it has—

(a) the head-lights prescribed by the Railway Administration; and

(b) in the case of an engine with vehicles attached, at least one red tail-light and two side-lights showing red towards the rear and white towards the engine; and

(c) in the case of a single engine without vehicles attached, at least one red tail-light; and

(d) in the case of two or more engines coupled together without vehicles attached, at least one red tail-light affixed to the rear engine;

Exception.—Where trains may run in the same direction on parallel lines the side-lights may be arranged in accordance with special instructions.

(2) no engine shall be employed in shunting within station limits or in a siding unless it has the head-lights and tail-lights prescribed by the Railway Administration; and

(3) when a train has been shunted for a following train to pass, the tail-light and side-lights must be dealt with in accordance with instructions given by the Railway Administration.

72. In order to indicate by day to the staff that a train is complete, the last vehicle must be distinguished by affixing to the rear of it either a tail-board, a tail-lamp, a red flag or such other device as may be authorised by special instructions.

Tail-board or tail-lamp.

73. Every train must be run on each section of the line within the limits of speed sanctioned for that section by special instructions.

Limits of speed generally.

NOTE.—The sectional speed sanctioned shall be shown in the Working Time-table, a copy of which shall be supplied on issue to the Government Inspector.

74. No train shall be run through facing points at a speed exceeding ten miles an hour, or such lower rate as may be prescribed by special instructions:

Limit of speed through facing points.

Provided that, if the points are interlocked with a fixed signal, or are locked in a manner approved by the Government Inspector, trains may run over them at such speed as may be approved by the Government Inspector.

75. Where there are points in the main line at a place which is not a station, provision for the protection of such points, by signals or otherwise, and for working them, shall be made in order to secure the safe working of trains to the satisfaction of the Government Inspector.

Protection and working of points.

76. When a train is to run, without stopping, through any station that is not interlocked, the Station Master of that station, or some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions, must proceed to the facing points and satisfy himself that all facing points over which the train will pass are properly set and locked.

Care of facing points when train runs through station without stopping.

77. A ballast train may be worked only with the permission of the Station Master on each side and in accordance with special instructions.

Working of ballast trains.

78. Before a ballast train is moved, the Engine Driver must give two clear whistles at an interval of half a minute, as a warning to the coolies that the train is about to move.

Warning before moving a ballast train.

79. When a ballast train with coolies is stabled at a station for the night, it must be protected in the following manner:—

Protection of ballast train when stabled.

(1) the Guard in charge of the train must see that all necessary points connected with the siding on which the train is stabled are correctly set against the train, and must then inform the Station Master, and, until the train is ready to start,—

(a) if the station is not interlocked—must padlock all necessary points connected with the siding on which the train is stabled and keep the keys in his possession; or

(b) if the station is interlocked—must tie a red flag on the lever-handle working the points; and

(2) when under clause 1 (b) a red flag has been affixed, the Station Master must take steps to ensure that the lever is not worked until the said Guard has removed the flag.

80. Shunting operations shall be controlled by Semaphore signals, Shunting signals, Siding signals, Miniature signals, Dwarf signals, Disc signals or Hand signals, or by verbal directions, as occasion may require.

Control of shunting.

81. No vehicle shall be moved so as to foul or obstruct any running road unless the previous sanction of the Station Master has been obtained.

Moving of vehicles so as to obstruct running road.

82. When any vehicle is being shunted on a steep gradient, the railway servant in charge of the operation must see that a sufficient number of brakes are put on, that sprags or hand-scotches are used when necessary, and that all necessary precautions are taken to prevent the vehicle getting out of control.

Shunting on steep gradient.

83. Loose shunting of, or against, vehicles containing passengers, explosives or live-stock is prohibited.

Loose shunting.

84. Where there is a double line, every train must, unless special instructions otherwise provide, be run on the left-hand line;

Double lines.

Provided that, if one of the lines should be blocked so as to necessitate single-line working, such special instructions as may be necessary shall immediately be issued for establishing single-line working.

Working in case of accident or failure of electric connections.

85. In case of accident to the line or to any train, or of failure or interruption of electric connections, trains must be worked between stations in accordance with special instructions.

TRAINS STOPPED BETWEEN STATIONS BY ACCIDENT, FAILURE OR OBSTRUCTION.

Train stopped between stations.

86. When a train is stopped between stations, the Guard in charge of the train must, unless the stoppage will only be one for a few minutes, immediately ascertain the cause; and, if the stoppage is other than incidental or authorised, and if he finds that through accident or for any other reason the train cannot proceed, the following action shall be taken, namely:—

(1) the said Guard must immediately either himself go back or send a qualified person back, to protect the train;

(2) the person so going back to protect the train must plainly show his hand Danger signal to stop any approaching train, and in addition to his hand signals must take detonators (to be used by day as well as by night), and must place them upon the line on which the stoppage has occurred, as follows, namely:—

(a) one detonator, three-eighths of a mile from his train, to be placed on the way out; and

(b) three detonators, ten yards apart, not less than half a mile from his train, or at such distance as has been fixed by special instructions;

and must also continue to show his hand Danger signal, to stop any approaching train, until he is recalled;

(3) when such person is recalled, he must leave down three detonators, and must on his way back pick up the intermediate detonator;

(4) the Engine Driver must at once show a Danger signal to the front, and must proceed to protect the train in front in the manner prescribed in clauses (2) and (3), either by going himself or by sending his Fireman or some other qualified person;

(5) if the stoppage has occurred on a double line, the Danger signal hereinbefore referred to must be shown on both lines; but, if it be subsequently found that the unoccupied line is not obstructed, the said Danger signal may be removed.

Sending advice of accident or breakdown.

87. If the engine is for any reason unable to proceed, the Guard in charge of the train shall send advice to the nearest station, stating the nature and cause of the accident, and, if assistance has been asked for, he shall not allow the engine or any portion of his train to be moved until such assistance arrives, provided that if the train is subsequently able to move, it may do so at walking pace, but not unless a man has been sent with hand signals and detonators to protect the train, such man keeping at least a quarter of a mile in advance of the train, the other end of the train being protected in a similar manner.

Light engine stopped on line.

88. If any light engine should, while on the line outside station limits, be unable to proceed, the Engine Driver must see that the precautions prescribed by rule 86 are taken for the protection of the engine, both in front and rear, employing the Fireman or some other competent person to assist him.

Train parting.

89. (1) If any portion of a train should, while in motion, become detached,—

(a) the Engine Driver must use his judgment to keep the front portion in motion if possible until the rear portion has been brought to a stand, so as to avoid the chance of a collision between the two portions, and

(b) the Guard or Guards in the rear portion must promptly apply their brakes and do all they can to prevent a collision with the front portion.

(2) As soon as the rear portion of the train has been brought to a stand, the Guard in charge of the train must protect that portion, in accordance with rule 86, both in front and rear.

Portion of train left on line.

90. (1) When a train, stopped between stations, has to be divided in consequence of an accident or the inability of the engine to take the whole train forward, the Guard in charge of the train must, before uncoupling, put down the brakes, and must, if necessary, otherwise carefully secure the rear portion of the train to ensure its remaining stationary.

(2) If the engine is capable of proceeding either with or without vehicles, the said Guard shall give permission to the Engine Driver to uncouple and proceed to the next station, and may, if he thinks fit, give him written instructions to return on the same line.

(3) When the said Guard has taken action under sub-rule (2), he must immediately take steps to protect the rear portion of his train in accordance with rule 86.

(4) At night, or in thick or foggy weather as soon as the engine, whether with or without vehicles, is drawn forward, the said Guard must see that a white light is shown on the front vehicle of the rear portion of the train.

(5) When the front portion of the train is taken forward, the Fireman, or, if there are two Guards with the train, the second Guard must, if it is practicable and safe to do so, ride upon the last vehicle of the said front portion of the train until it reaches the next station; but no tail-lamp or tail-board shall be placed on it.

(6) When, under the written instructions referred to in sub-rule (2), the engine is to be brought back, the Guard in charge of the train must, until the arrival of the engine, continue to take the precautions prescribed in rule 86, for the protection in rear of the portion of the train left on the line, and shall not permit a following train to move any of the vehicles under his charge.

(7) The Engine Driver shall not bring his train back on the same line unless he has received written instructions, under sub-rule (2), from the Guard in charge of the train to do so.

(8) If there is a double line, the Engine Driver may, under instructions from the Station Master, take the train back on the proper line according to the system of working until he can cross on to the line on which he has left the rest of his train, and may then proceed by that line; and, after attaching the engine, must work the train to the station to which he is directed.

(9) When moving in the wrong direction on a double line under the written instructions referred to in sub-rule (2), the Engine Driver must proceed cautiously, travel at reduced speed, and make frequent use of the engine whistle.

CHAPTER IV.

SYSTEMS OF WORKING.

Systems of working.

91. (1) All trains working between stations must be worked on one or other of the following systems, namely:—

(a) Absolute Block;

(b) Section Clear;

(c) Line Clear and Caution Message;

(d) Following Trains;

(e) Train-staff and Ticket;

(f) Pilot Guard; or

(g) One engine only.

(2) The Absolute Block system alone shall be used on every railway except any railway or portion of a railway on which the Railway Board may expressly sanction the use of any other system mentioned in sub-rule (1).

CHAPTER V.

THE ABSOLUTE BLOCK SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Absolute Block system.

92. (1) Where trains are worked on the Absolute Block system,—

(a) no train shall be allowed to leave a station unless permission to approach has been received from the station ahead, and

(b) such permission shall not be given unless the line is clear, not only up to the first Stop signal at the station at which such permission is given, but also for an adequate distance beyond it.

(2) The distance referred to in clause (1) (b) shall not be less than one quarter of a mile, unless otherwise directed by special instructions.

Class A Stations—Double lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

93. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has arrived,

(b) all signals have been put back to "on" behind the said train,

(c) the line on which it is intended to receive the incoming train is clear up to the Starting signal, and

(d) all points have been correctly set for the admission of the train on the said line.

Obstruction when train is approaching.

94. When permission to approach has been given, no obstruction shall be permitted outside the Home signal, or, on the line on which it is intended to admit the train, up to the Starting signal.

Obstruction outside Home signal, when block-section is clear.

95. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the Home signal, the line must be blocked back.

Obstruction outside last Stop signal, when block-section is clear.

96. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the last Stop signal,—

(a) either a shunting-arm (which may for this purpose be provided on the post of the last Stop signal) must be taken "off," or a written shunting order must be given to the Engine Driver, and

(b) the line must be blocked forward.

Obstruction when block-section is occupied by train travelling away from the station.

97. If the block-section is occupied by a train travelling in the section away from the station at which shunting operations have to be performed, such shunting shall be permitted only under either of the conditions prescribed in clause (a) of rule 96; and, as soon as intimation has been received that the train has arrived at the station ahead, the line must be blocked forward, if it is still obstructed by the shunting.

Thick or foggy weather.

98. In thick or foggy weather, a train waiting for an authority to proceed shall not be allowed to draw out to a Starting signal in an advanced position, or up to an Advanced Starting signal.

Class A Stations—Single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

99. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has arrived,

(b) all signals have been put back to "on" behind the said train,

(c) the line on which it is intended to receive the incoming train is clear up to the Starting signal, and

(d) all points have been correctly set for the admission of the train on the said line.

Obstruction when train is approaching.

100. When permission to approach has been given, no obstruction shall be permitted outside the Home signal, or, on the line on which it is intended to admit the train, up to the Starting signal which controls the train.

Shunting.

101. The block-section shall not be obstructed for shunting purposes, unless—

(a) the Station Master has received a permission to approach from the Station Master at the opposite end of the section, or

(b) the section has been blocked back, or is occupied by a train travelling away from the station at which the shunting is to be performed, and

(c) the Engine Driver or other person in charge of the shunting operations has received distinct orders from the Station Master to shunt in a manner directed by special instructions.

Thick or foggy weather.

102. In thick or foggy weather, a train waiting for an authority to proceed shall not be allowed to draw out to a Starting signal in an advanced position, or up to an Advanced Starting signal.

Class B Stations—Double lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

103. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has passed inside the Home signal,

(b) the Home and Outer signals have been put back to "on" behind the said train, and

(c) the line is clear up to the Home signal.

Obstruction when train is approaching.

104. When permission to approach has been given, no obstruction of the line outside the Home signal shall be permitted; but shunting between the Home signal and the last Stop signal of the station may go on continuously, provided the necessary signals are kept "on."

Obstruction outside Home signal, when block-section is clear.

105. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the Home signal, the line must be blocked back.

Obstruction outside last Stop signal, when block-section is clear.

106. If, when the block-section is clear, it becomes necessary to obstruct the line outside the last Stop signal,—

(a) either a shunting-arm (which may for this purpose be provided on the post of the last Stop signal) must be taken "off," or a written shunting order must be given to the Engine Driver, and

(b) the line must be blocked forward.

Obstruction when block-section is occupied by train travelling away from the station.

107. If the block-section is occupied by a train travelling in the section away from the station at which shunting operations have to be performed, such shunting shall be permitted only under either of the conditions prescribed in clause (a) of rule 106; and, as soon as intimation has been received that the train has arrived at the station ahead, the line must be blocked forward, if it is still obstructed by the shunting.

Thick or foggy weather.

108. In thick or foggy weather a train waiting for an authority to proceed shall not be allowed to draw out to a Starting signal in an advanced position, or up to an Advanced Starting signal.

Class B Stations—Single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

109. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has passed within the Home signal, or in the case of a Main signal, has arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand,

(b) the Home (or Main) signal has been put "on;" and

(c) the line is clear—

(i) to the Shunting Board or Advanced Starter (if any), at that end of the station nearest the expected train, or,

(ii) to the Home signal, if there is no Shunting Board or Advanced Starter, or

(iii) to the facing points, if there is no Shunting Board or Advanced Starter and no Home signal.

Obstruction in the face of an approaching train.

110. Obstructing the line, outside the facing points, in the direction of an approaching train whether a Shunting Board or an Advanced Starter is provided or not, shall be permitted only under special instructions which take into consideration the speed, weight and brake-power of trains, the gradients, the position of the Outer signal and the distance from which that signal can be seen by the Driver of an approaching train.

Obstruction within station section.

111. If the special instructions referred to in rule 110 are obeyed, and if the necessary signals are kept "on," shunting may be carried on continuously either—

(a) between the Shunting Boards or Advanced Starters (if any), or

(b) between the Home signals, if there are no Shunting Boards or Advanced Starters, or

(c) between the outermost facing points, if there are no Home or Starting signals or Shunting Boards.

Obstruction outside station-section.

112. Obstructing the line between the station section and the outer signal shall not be permitted unless a railway servant specially appointed in this behalf by the Station Master is in charge of the operation, and unless—

(a) the block section into which the shunting is to take place is clear of an approaching train ; or

(b) if an approaching train has arrived at the Outer signal, the Station Master has personally satisfied himself that the train has been brought to a dead stand at that signal :

Provided that the line may not be obstructed under clause (b) in thick or foggy weather, or in any case, unless authorised by special instructions.

Obstruction outside the Outer signal.

113. Obstructing the line outside the Outer signal is prohibited unless the line has been blocked back.

Class C. Stations.—Double and single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

114. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has passed at least a quarter of a mile beyond the Home signal and is continuing its journey, and

(b) the Home and Warning signals have been put back to the "on" position.

CHAPTER VI.

THE SECTION CLEAR SYSTEM.

Essentials and application of the Section Clear system.

115. (1) Where trains are worked on the Section Clear system,—

(a) no train shall be allowed to leave a station unless permission to approach has been received from the station ahead, and

(b) such permission shall not be given unless the line is clear up to the first Stop signal of that station.

(2) The said system is applicable only to Class B stations; and to single lines only, unless otherwise authorised by approved special instructions.

Class B Stations—Single lines.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

116. The line shall not be considered clear, and permission to approach shall not be given, unless—

(a) the whole of the last preceding train has either passed inside the facing points or arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand,

(b) the Outer signal has been put back to "on" behind the said train, and

(c) the line is clear up to the Outer signal.

Obstruction between the Outer signals.

117. (1) Shunting shall not be carried on between the Outer signals, unless—

(a) the said signals are kept "on"; and

(b) after permission to approach has been given for a train, the line between the facing points and the Outer signal, in the direction from which the train will approach, is cleared not less than fifteen minutes before the expected arrival of the train, and is kept clear until the train has arrived or until it has been brought to a stand at the Outer signal.

(2) Subject to the provisions of clause (b) of sub-rule (1), obstructing the line between the facing points and the Outer signal, in face of an approaching train after intimation has been received that such train has entered the block-section, is prohibited, unless—

(i) the weather is clear;

(ii) the time allowed for the run of the train is more than twenty minutes;

(iii) the Station Master has personally satisfied himself that the Outer signal is clearly showing "danger" in the direction of the approaching train; and

(iv) if the train has arrived at the Outer signal, the Station Master has personally satisfied himself that the train has been brought to a dead stand at that signal.

Obstruction outside the Outer signal.

118. Obstructing the line outside the Outer signal is prohibited unless the line has been blocked back.

CHAPTER VII.

THE LINE CLEAR AND CAUTION MESSAGE SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Line Clear and Caution Message system.

19. Where trains are worked on the Line Clear and Caution Message system, no train shall be allowed to leave a station, unless—

(a) permission to approach has been obtained by telegram from the station ahead, and

(b) the Engine Driver has been given a written authority to proceed, certifying that the line on which he has to travel is either—

(i) absolutely clear of trains; or

(ii) occupied only by trains running in the same direction at time intervals.

Conditions under which permission to approach may be given.

120. Such permission to approach shall not be given, unless, either—

(1) the line on which the train is to travel is absolutely clear of trains and all other known obstructions up to the Outer signal, and the whole of the last preceding train has passed inside the facing points or has arrived at the place at which trains usually come to a stand, or

(2) the line, outside the facing points, on which the train is to travel, is occuppied only by a train running in advance in the same direction, at an adequate interval of time, and a line has been prepared in the station for the reception of the train running in advance.

Nature of the authority to proceed.

121. (1) In case (1) of rule 120, the authority to proceed referred to in rule 119 shall be a Line Clear Certificate stating that the line is clear.

(2) In case (2) of rule 120, the said authority to proceed shall be a Caution Certificate stating—

(a) that the line is occupied only by a train running in advance in the same direction at a stated interval of time; and

(b) the time of the departure of the said train, and the place at which it will next stop.

Restrictions on grant of authority to proceed.

122. An authority to proceed shall not be granted at any station in case (2) of rule 120—

(a) if the train which is to follow a train running in advance is to be allowed to run at more than thirty miles an hour, or

(b) if the distance to the station ahead is less than five miles, or

(c) except in accordance with special instructions, unless the train running in advance has left the station at least fifteen minutes previously, or at such greater interval as may enable the said train at its booked speed to reach the next station at least fifteen minutes before the following train at its booked speed can do so.

Delivery of authority to proceed to Engine Driver or Guard.

123. (1) Every authority to proceed shall be delivered by the Station Master, or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf under special instructions,—

(a) to the Engine Driver, if the train runs through the station without stopping, or

(b) to the Guard in charge of the train, if the train stops at the station.

(2) When an autohrity to proceed is delivered to the Engine Driver under clause (1) (a) of this rule, a duplicate shall be given to the said Guard.

(3) When an authority to proceed is delivered to the said Guard under clause (1) (b) of this rule, it must be either—

(i) handed personally by the Guard to the Engine Driver, or

(ii) countersigned by the Guard, and then handed to the Engine driver either by the Station Master or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions.

(4) An authority to proceed shall not be handed to the Engine Driver under sub-rule (3)—

(i) until the train is nearly ready to start, or

(ii) if the train is waiting to pass another train—until the whole of the latter train has come in and is clear of the running road for the former train.

Responsibilities as to proper preparation of authority to proceed.

124. (1) When an authority to proceed is delivered to the Engine Driver under clause (1) (a) of rule 123, the Station Master must see—

(a) that it is properly filled up,

(b) that the date and time of the receipt of the line-clear or caution telegram upon which it is based are noted thereon,

(c) that it applies to the particular train to which such telegram refers, and

(d) that it is signed in full and in ink.

(2) When an authority to proceed is delivered to the Guard in charge of the train under clause (1) (b) of rule 123, he must, before it is handed to the Engine Driver, satisfy himself on the several points mentioned in sub-rule (1) of this rule.

(3) Whether the train stops or runs through a station, the Engine Driver must satisfy himself, so far as he may be able to do so, on the several points mentioned in sub-rule (1) of this rule, and if he finds that any of them are not complied with, he must not proceed with his train until the mistake or the omission is rectified.

Obstruction in face of approaching train followed by another train.

125. Obstructing the line outside the facing points in face of an approaching train followed by another train for which a permission to approach has been given, is prohibited.

Obstruction when approaching train is not followed by another train.

126. At a station where an approaching train is not being followed by another train, shunting shall not be carried on except—

(a) in accordance with rule 117; or

(b) where the special instructions referred to in rule 110 are obeyed, and the necessary signals are kept "on," then in accordance with rules 112 and 113.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE FOLLOWING TRAINS SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Following Trains system.

127. Where trains are worked on the Following Trains system, they may be despatched from one station to the next, following each other in succession in the same direction on the same line at such intervals of time as may be prescribed by special instructions, until it has been mutually arranged by telegraph between the Station Masters at either end of the section that such succession is to cease.

Introduction of the Following Trains system.

128. The Following Trains system may, notwithstanding anything contained in rule 91, be introduced in case of emergency when specially ordered by the authorized officer.

Conditions precedent to working of trains on the Following Trains system.

129. Trains shall not be worked on the Following Trains system unless the Station Master of the station ahead has telegraphed his readiness to receive the trains, and has given his assurance that no train will be allowed to leave his station for the station from which the Following Trains are to be despatched until the latter have all arrived at his station and until he has received permission to despatch trains in the opposite direction.

Conditions to be observed in working trains.

130. When the Following Trains system is adopted, the following conditions must be observed, namely,—

(a) no train shall be allowed to start until the Engine Driver has been given a written authority to proceed and a written acknowledgment thereof has been obtained from him, the train being stopped for the purpose, if not booked to stop;

(b) the authority to proceed shall state the time of the actual departure of the preceding train, the place at which it is next to stop, and the speed at which it is to run;

(c) the Engine Driver and Guard of each preceding train must have been informed of the fact that a train will follow, and of the probable period which will elapse before the following train will be allowed to start;

(d) a train shall not be allowed to follow another from a station unless there has elapsed since the departure of the previous train, an interval of not less than fifteen minutes, or such shorter interval (if any) as may be fixed by special instructions;

(e) all the trains shall be timed to run at the same speed, and such speed shall not exceed fifteen miles an hour, except under special instructions;

(f) no shunting shall be carried on between the Outer signal and the facing points while following trains are approaching;

(g) the actual time of the departure of each train must at once be intimated by telegraph to the station ahead, and the actual time of arrival of each train must at once be intimated to the station in rear; and

(h) the number of following trains running at the same time between any two stations shall not be more than one for each three miles of station interval; and, unless permitted by special instructions, shall never exceed four, whatever may be the length of the station interval.

Report of orders and special instructions.

131. When any order is given under rule 128, and when any special instructions are issued under rule 130, the same must immediately be reported by telegram to the Government Inspector.

Application of certain rules.

132. Rules 123 to 125 shall apply to working on the Following Trains system.

Cessation of working on the Following Trains system.

133. When it is intended that no more following trains shall be despatched in the same direction, the Station Master shall intimate such intention by telegraph to the station ahead, after which no more trains in either direction may be despatched between the two stations until the last train has arrived at the station ahead and the line has been cleared between the two stations.

CHAPTER IX.

THE TRAIN-STAFF AND TICKET SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Train-staff and Ticket system.

134. Where trains are worked between two stations on Train-staff and Ticket system,—

(a) a single Train-staff must be kept at one of such stations, and

(b) no train shall be permitted to start from either of such stations to the other unless the said Train-staff is at the stations from which the train starts and has either been handed to or shown to the Engine Driver by the Station Master when giving such permission.

System where applicable.

135. Trains may be worked on the Train-staff and Ticket system only when the line is single and only between such stations as have been declared by special instructions to be staff-stations.

General conditions.

136. Trains shall not be allowed to follow one another in the same direction between staff-stations, unless the Engine Driver has been properly warned of the time of departure of the preceding train and of the place at which it will next stop, and

(1) in the case of a passenger train to follow a goods train, or a goods train to follow a slow passenger train, an interval of fifteen minutes (or, if the distance to the next station in advance exceeds ten miles, such longer interval as is prescribed by special instructions) has elapsed since the departure of the preceding train, and

(2) in any other case, either—

(i) it has been ascertained that the preceding train has arrived at the next station in advance; or

(ii) an interval of ten minutes has elapsed since the departure of the preceding train.

137. No train shall be started from a station unless the Engine Driver has in his possession to be carried with him on the journey, either the Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket, for the section of the line over which the train is about to travel.

Engine Driver to have staff or ticket.

138. The Train-staff or Train-staff Ticket shall be delivered to the Engine Driver by the Station Master or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions.

Staff or ticket by whom to be delivered to Engine Driver.

139. (1) When no other train is intended to follow before the Train-staff will be required for a train running in the opposite direction, then, subject to the provisions of sub-rule (3), the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Engine Driver.

Staff or ticket when to be delivered to Engine Driver.

(2) When other trains are intended to follow before the Train-staff can be returned, then subject to the provisions of sub-rule (3), a Train-staff Ticket, indicating that the Train-staff is following, shall be delivered to the Driver of each train except the last; and the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Driver of the last train.

(3) When a train is assisted by a second engine in the rear, a Train-staff Ticket shall be delivered to the Driver of the front engine and the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Driver of the rear engine:

Provided that, if both the engines attached to the train are to travel over the entire length of line to which the Train-staff applies, and the train is to be followed by other trains, a Train-staff Ticket shall be delivered to the Driver of each of the engines attached to the first-mentioned train.

(4) When a train is assisted by a second engine in the front, the Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket, as the case may be, must be delivered to the Driver of the leading engine.

(5) When a ballast train has to stop between stations, the Train-staff shall be delivered to the Engine Driver.

(6) The Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket shall not be delivered to the Driver of any train until the train is ready to start.

(7) The Engine Driver shall not accept a Train-staff Ticket unless he sees the Train-staff at the same time in the possession of the person who delivers the ticket to him.

140. When the Train-staff is delivered to the Driver of a train, he shall place it in a conspicuous place provided for the purpose on the engine.

Staff to be kept on engine.

141. When the Train-staff has been taken away from a station by the Driver of a train, no other train shall be started from that station to follow the first-mentioned train until the Staff has been returned to the station.

Trains not to be started until staff returned.

142. (1) Upon the arrival of a train at the station to which the Train-staff or a Train-staff Ticket extends, the Engine Driver must immediately give the Staff or Ticket to the Station Master, or to some railway servant appointed by special instructions to receive it.

Staff or ticket to be given up, and ticket to be cancelled, on arrival of train.

(2) The person to whom any such ticket is so delivered must immediately cancel the same.

143. (1) If an engine which carries the Train-staff breaks down between two stations, the Fireman must take the Staff to the staff-station in the direction whence assistance can best be obtained, in order that the Staff may be available at the station for delivery to the Driver of the assisting engine.

Procedure when engine is disabled.

(2) If an engine which carries a Train-staff Ticket breaks down between two stations, assistance must ordinarily be obtained only from the station at which the Train-staff has been left. But if assistance can more readily be obtained from another station in the opposite direction, immediate steps must be taken to have the Staff transferred to the other end of the section.

(3) Whenever an engine has broken down between two stations, the Fireman must accompany the assisting engine to the spot.

144. Train-staff Tickets must be kept in a ticket-box provided for the purpose and fastened by an inside spring, the key to open the box being the Staff to which the tickets apply.

Tickets how kept.

Train-staff how kept.

145. The Train-staff, when at a station, shall not be left in the box, but must be kept by the Station Master in safe custody.

Distinguishing marks on staff tickets and boxes.

146. (1) Each Train-staff must have shown upon it the name of the staff-station at each end of the portion of line to which it applies.

(2) The Train-staffs and Train-staff Tickets and boxes for the different portions of the line must be distinguished by different colours.

(3) "Up" and "down" Train-staff Tickets must also have distinguishing marks.

Form of ticket.

147. Every Train-staff Ticket shall be in the following form :—

Ticket No..... .....Railway.

TRAIN-STAFF TICKET.

(Back of ticket.)

The Engine Driver shall not accept this Ticket unless he sees the Train-staff for the portion of line which he is about to enter.

This ticket is to be given up by the Engine Driver immediately on arrival to the Station Master or other person authorised to receive it, and such person must immediately cancel it.

Record of tickets issued.

148. The Station Master must keep a record in a book of each Train-staff Ticket issued, showing the number of each ticket and the particular train for which it was issued.

CHAPTER X.

THE PILOT GUARD SYSTEM.

Essentials of the Pilot Guard system.

149. Where trains are worked on the Pilot Guard system,—

(a) a railway servant (hereinafter called a Pilot Guard) must be specially deputed to pilot trains, and

(b) no train shall be allowed to leave a station except under the personal authority of the Pilot Guard.

System where applicable.

150. Trains may be worked on the Pilot Guard system—

(a) on short branch lines having a single line of rails, or

(b) on lines to which the application of the system is authorised by special instructions.

General conditions.

151. Trains shall not be allowed to follow one another in the same direction between stations, except under the conditions prescribed in rule 136.

Pilot Guard's dress or badge.

152. The Pilot Guard must be distinguished by a red dress or badge.

Pilot Guard to accompany train or give authority to proceed.

153. (1) No train shall be started from a station unless the Engine Driver sees that it is accompanied by, or that the authority to proceed is given personally by, the Pilot Guard wearing the dress or badge prescribed by rule 152.

(2) The Pilot Guard must accompany every train:

Provided that, when it is necessary to start two or more trains from one end of the line before a train has to be started from the other end, the Pilot Guard shall accompany only the last of such trains and shall personally give the authority to proceed for the preceding trains.

(3) When accompanying a train, the Pilot Guard must ride on the foot-plate of the engine.

Pilot Guard's tickets.

154. (1) When the Pilot Guard does not accompany a train, he shall deliver to the Guard in charge (or, if there be no Guard in charge, to the Engine Driver) a Pilot Guard's ticket (on a printed form, where such are provided), properly filled up and signed, as the authority to proceed.

(2) Every such ticket shall apply only to the single journey to the station named on it.

(3) If the train is in charge of a Guard, he shall, before the train is started, deliver the ticket to the Engine Driver.

(4) Immediately on the arrival of the train, the Engine Driver shall deliver the ticket to the Station Master, who shall at once cancel it.

CHAPTER XI.

THE ONE ENGINE ONLY SYSTEM.

Essentials of the One engine only system.

155. Where trains are worked on the One engine only system, only one engine in steam, or two or more engines coupled together, shall be allowed on the line at one and the same time.

Application of the One engine only system.

156. Trains may be worked on the One engine only system, only on short branch railways having a single line of rails.

Procedure in case of accident.

157. (1) If a train becomes disabled and requires assistance, or if an accident occurs which renders it impossible for the engine (or, if two or more engines are coupled together, for either or both of such engines) to proceed, the Guard in charge of the train must instruct the Engine Driver to keep the engine stationary until his return, and must then proceed to the station from which assistance can best be obtained, and must inform the Station Master there of the circumstances.

(2) Such Station Master may then allow another engine to enter the line.

(3) Such other engine must be accompanied by the Guard in charge of the disabled train, who must explain to the Engine Driver where, and under what circumstances, the disabled train is situated.

(4) Such Guard shall be responsible for the safe and proper working of the line until each engine has left it and it is again clear.

(5) If there be no Guard in charge of the disabled train, the Fireman, or, if necessary, the Engine Driver, must perform the duties imposed by this rule on the Guard.

CHAPTER XII.

USE OF ELECTRICAL INSTRUMENTS ON DOUBLE LINES.

General Provisions.

Means of working.

158. Trains may be worked by means of—

(a) electric block instruments, or

(b) electric speaking instruments.

Provision of instruments.

159. (1) Electric speaking instruments must be provided at every station except class D stations.

(3) The electric block instruments (where provided) and electric speaking instruments at any station must be of a type approved by the Government Inspector.

Authority to proceed.

160. The Engine Driver shall not take his train from a station unless he has been given an authority to proceed by the taking "off" of the last Stop signal of the station.

Caution order.

161. On a double line, whenever, in consequence of the line being under repair or for any other reason, it becomes necessary to advise an Engine Driver to reduce speed or take special precautions, a caution order defining the place or places at which such precautions are necessary shall be handed to him at the stopping station immediately short of the place where special precautions are needed.

STATIONS AT WHICH ELECTRIC BLOCK INSTRUMENTS ARE PROVIDED.

Signalling of trains.

162. Every running train must, in its progress from station to station, be signalled on the electric block instruments.

Certificate of competency.

163. No person shall operate the block instruments until he has passed a satisfactory examination, and unless he holds a certificate of competency granted by a railway servant appointed in this behalf by the Railway Administration.

Bell Code.

164. Except under approved special instructions, the following uniform Bell Code shall be used, and a copy thereof shall be hung up in each station above the block instruments :—

7	TESTING SIGNAL	●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●●	Sixteen ...	Sixteen.

Acknowledgment of signals.

165. (1) Each signal received must be acknowledged by the sending of its authorised acknowledgment.

(2) No signal shall be acknowledged until it is clearly understood.

(3) A signal shall not be considered to be complete until it is acknowledged.

(4) Should the station to which a signal is sent not reply, the signal must be repeated at intervals of not less than twenty seconds until the reply is received.

Train Register book.

166. (1) A Train Register book shall be kept by the Station Master or under his orders.

(2) The person who keeps the said book shall enter therein—

(a) immediately after acknowledgment, all signals (except Testing signals) received or sent on the block instruments, and the times of receipt and despatch; and

(b) every instance of a train being shunted at a station for another train to pass.

(3) The times entered in the book must be the actual times, except that any fraction of a minute must be counted as one minute.

(4) All entries in the book must be made in ink.

(5) No erasure shall be made in the book; but if any entry is found to be incorrect a line must be drawn lightly through it, so that it may be read at any time, and the correct entry must be made above it.

(6) The person who keeps the book shall be responsible for all entries made therein and for correctly filling in each column thereof.

The Attention signal.

167. (1) The Attention signal must be given when it is necessary to direct attention to the block instrument.

(2) When the Attention signal is sent before the despatch of the Is Line Clear signal, it shall not be given until the Train out of Section signal has been received for the last preceding train.

The Is Line Clear signal when to be sent.

168. In order to ascertain whether the station in advance is in a position to give a permission to approach to the station in rear, and in order to describe the train, the Is Line Clear signal (as in the Bell Code, according to the description of train) must be sent to the station in advance.

Acceptance of the Is Line Clear signal, and sending of a Line Clear signal.

169. (1) If, on the receipt of an Is Line Clear signal, the conditions under which a permission to approach can be given are complied with, the station in advance must accept the signal by sending the signal prescribed by special instructions to indicate Line Clear on the particular block instruments in use.

(2) Except in case of failure of the block instruments, a train shall not be allowed to leave a station unless the instrument for the section into which it is about to proceed shows Line Clear.

(3) When Line Clear is so shown, the semaphore signals applying to the train may be taken "off" to allow the train to proceed.

Refusal of the Is Line Clear signal, and sending of the Obstruction Danger signal.

170. (1) If, by reason of the line being blocked by the presence of a train in the section, or for any other reason, the station in advance is unable to accept the Is Line Clear signal, such station must refuse it by sending the Obstruction Danger signal.

(2) If the station in advance does not accept the Is Line Clear signal, the train must be stopped at the station and shall not be allowed to leave it until a fresh Is Line Clear signal has been given to and accepted by the station in advance.

The Train Entering Section signal.

171. (1) On the departure of a train from a station, the Train Entering Section signal must be sent to the station in advance, and must be duly acknowledged.

(2) When so acknowledged, the section shall be considered to be blocked against any other train following.

The Train out of Section or Obstruction Removed signal.

172. (1) On the arrival of a train, or on the removal of the cause which blocked the section, the Train out of Section or Obstruction Removed signal must be given by the station in advance.

(2) Before the Train out of Section signal is given, the Station Master must—

(a) satisfy himself that the train has arrived complete; and

(b) satisfy himself that the conditions under which permission to approach can be given are complied with.

The Cancelling signal.

173. (1) The Cancelling signal cancels the last signal given from the station from which it is sent.

(2) Where an Is Line Clear signal has been forwarded, and it is afterwards found that the train to which it referred has to be detained for shunting or other purposes at, or has returned to, the station from which that signal was sent, the Cancelling signal must be sent to the station in advance, so that the previous signal may be cancelled.

The Testing signal.

174. The Testing signal shall be used only for the purpose of testing the instruments.

Failure of block instruments.

175. (1) If the block instruments or their electric connections should fail, permission to approach must be obtained through the electric speaking instruments.

(2) When permission to approach has been so obtained, an entry to that effect must be made in the Train Register book, and the train may then be allowed to proceed.

STATIONS AT WHICH ELECTRIC BLOCK INSTRUMENTS ARE NOT PROVIDED.

ransmission of signals.

176. The signals referred to in rules 164, 165 and 168 to 173 (both inclusive), or such modifications thereof as may be prescribed by special instructions, shall be transmitted, as occasion may require, on the electric speaking instruments.

Forms for messages.

177. (1) All messages despatched in connection with the working of trains shall be written on forms specially provided for the purpose by the Railway Administration.

(2) Such forms shall be bound up in books and kept at each station by the Station Master or by some railway servant appointed in this behalf by special instructions.

Distinction of messages.

178. (1) Every message despatched in connection with the working of a train must distinctly describe the train to which it relates.

(2) For every train a separate inquiry and reply must be sent.

Writing and signing of messages.

179. (1) All messages despatched in connection with the working of trains shall be written up in ink or with some other indelible substance, and shall be signed by the person authorised to despatch or issue the same.

(2) No message shall be written out, either in full or in part, or signed, until necessary.

Completion of messages.

180. No part of any message shall be despatched or acted upon until the whole message has been written out, except in view to the prevention of an accident or in some other case of emergency.

Preservation of messages.

181. Messages shall be destroyed at such time after issue as may be prescribed by special instructions:

Provided that no message shall be destroyed in less than a fortnight after issue.

314. The Driver of a running train shall not pass a Stop signal that refers to him when it is "on" or defective,—

(a) unless he has, at a previous station, received notice in writing specifying that the signal is out of order, and unless he is also signalled past by a man standing at the signal; or

(b) unless, after coming to a stand, he either is given written permission to proceed from the Station Master, or is called on by a Calling-on signal, or is piloted past the defective signal by a railway servant authorised in this behalf who shall travel on the engine.

Explanation.—If an Engine Driver has not received a notice in writing that the Stop signal is defective, he must stop, and shall pay no heed to any other signal (whether a hand signal or not) that may be shown, until he is allowed to proceed under one of the authorities mentioned above.

(b) if it is day, and he has not a clear view of the road, or if it is night, or if the weather is thick or foggy—proceed very cautiously on hand signals given by the Guard in charge of the train (or the Fireman, if there is no Guard), who must walk ahead of the engine for this purpose; and

(c) if, within a distance of one mile from the point where the explosion occurred, he meets no further detonators and sees no signals—resume ordinary speed.

317. (1) If there is no fixed signal at a place where a fixed signal is ordinarily shown, or if a fixed signal is imperfectly show, the Engine Driver must act as if a Danger signal were shown.

(2) The exhibition of a red over green light, or the corresponding positions of the arms by day, or the absence of one or both lights, shows that the signal is out of order, and should be treated as a Danger signal. The Engine Driver must stop at such signal and ascertain if possible the cause. He may then proceed cautiously, being guided by the signals in advance, and must immediately on arrival at the station report the circumstances to the Station Master.

Precautions when view of signal is obstructed.

318. If, in consequence of a fog or storm or for any other reason, the view of signals is obstructed, the Engine Driver must take every possible precaution, especially when approaching a station or junction so as to have the train well under control.

(3) No goods of any of the kinds marked C in rule 14 shall be brought on the railway premises for carriage until the officials have intimated that they are ready to receive them.

(4) Nothing in the rules contained in Appendix A or in Appendix B shall apply to the packing or transport of capped safety cartridge cases, if otherwise empty, and nothing in those rules shall apply to medical stores consigned from a Government depot, or to explosives consigned by the Ordnance Department, respectively, notwithstanding that such stores are dangerous goods within the meaning of rule 14:

Provided that the officer in charge of the depot, or such officer as the Director General of Ordnance may by general or special order empower in this behalf, has given a written declaration of the contents of the packages and certified on the consignment note that they have been packed in accordance with the regulations of the Medical or Ordnance Department, as the case may be, for the time being in force relating to the packing of dangerous goods.

Special vans for dangerous goods.

APPENDIX A.

[SEE RULES 14 AND 16.]

The packing of dangerous goods (other than explosives to which the rules for the time being in force under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, apply).

I.—GOODS MARKED A IN RULE 14.

(1) When not loaded in vans specially constructed for the carriage of dangerous goods, goods marked A in rule 14 must be securely packed, to prevent leaking, in strong tins or in bottles corked and sealed, and such tins or bottles must be enclosed in wooden cases. When bottles are used, they must be packed in straw or sawdust. Kerosine oil, however, having its flashing point at or above 76° Fahr., may be packed in sound iron or steel drums, or in tins without wooden cases, provided that in the latter case a layer of durma matting or other suitable dunnage is placed on the floor of the wagon and between each tier of tins.

(1A) The following special rules shall apply in the case of carbide of calcium :—

(a) The carbide of calcium must be contained in hermetically closed metal drums or cases sufficiently strong to remain in that condition through wear and tear of transport, so that the carbide of calcium cannot be affected by air or moisture.

(b) There must be no copper in the composition of any drum or case containing the carbide of calcium.

(c) No drum or case must contain a quantity exceeding two hundred and twenty-four pounds of carbide of calcium.

(d) The label on each hermetically closed metal drum or case containing the carbide of calcium must bear in conspicuous characters the words "Carbide of Calcium" "Dangerous if not kept dry, and with the following caution :—

"The contents of this drum (or case) are liable, if brought into contact with moisture, to give off a highly inflammable gas." The name and address of the sender should also be labelled on each drum or case.

II.—GOODS MARKED B IN RULE 14.

(2) Goods marked B in rule 14 must be well secured in stoneware jars or glass-stoppered bottles standing upright in cases with sloping covers :

Provided that—

(a) fluric acid must be put into leaden or gutta-percha bottles,

(b) solution of ammonia must be put into metal bottles with caps soldered on, and

(c) sulphuric acid shall not be put into jars with cork or wooden stoppers. Concentrated sulphuric acid (i. e., of a specific gravity not less than 1·84 which must be certified in writing by the consignor) may be packed in strong hermetically sealed iron or steel drums which must be in good condition and free from rust.

(3) Bottles containing bromine, muriatic acid, nitric acid, aquafortis or solution of ammonia must be only three-fourths full, to allow for expansion of vapour.

(4) In the case of boxes containing any of the three mineral acids, viz., Hydrochloric, Sulphuric, and Nitric, the inside packing must be of ashes free from cinders or of chalk, sand, or dry earth. In other cases the inside packing must be of straw, chaff or sawdust, mixed with coal, wood-ashes chalk or sand.

(5) Only one kind of the goods marked B in rule 14, and no other goods of any kind, may be put into one case.

(6) The weight of each case shall not exceed two maunds :

Provided that a case containing sulphuric acid may be packed up to a maximum weight of two-and-a-half maunds. In the case of concentrated sulphuric acid packed in accordance with rule (2) (c), the limit of the weight of a package is five maunds.

III.—GOODS MARKED C IN RULE 14.

(7) (1) Goods marked C in rule 14 which are not explosives to which the rules for the time being in force under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, apply, must be packed in strong dust-tight wooden cases having a metal lining, the contents being branded, painted or labelled on the outside in legibly printed or written characters.

IV of 1884.

(2) No such case shall contain more than one pound, and no box or package shall contain more than ten such cases.

Note.—This restriction will not apply to matches.

(3) The outer wooden cases used for the carriage of matches shall be of the following thickness of wood—gross weight of case with contents not exceeding 4 maunds in weight, ½ inch thick throughout; gross weight of case with contents exceeding 4 maunds, ⅞ inch thick throughout.

"Matches, safety," may, however, be carried in the tins in which they are imported, provided that such tins are strong enough as outer packages, that they do not exceed a limit in size of 2′ ×1′×1′, weighing approximately 13½ seers, and do not contain more than 120 packets of "matches, safety."

Note.—Matches which ignite by simple friction and Bengal lights (Pyrotechnic matches) which while not ordinarily igniting by simple friction are capable of doing so under chemical decomposition and are liable to spontaneous combustion, should be considered as coming within the class "matches, non-safety," while those which require to be rubbed on the prepared surface of the box which contains them to be ignited should be considered as coming within the class "matches, safety."

IV.—GOODS MARKED D IN RULE 14.

(8) Goods marked D in rule 14 must be packed in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for goods marked B in that rule:

Provided that—

(a) Spirits of wine, methylated or rectified, must be packed either in corked and capsuled bottles or in corked and capped drums securely packed or in strongly made casks securely closed so as to prevent all possibility of leakage,

(9) (1) Goods marked E in rule 14 will be accepted for carriage by railways under the following conditions:—

I.—By Passenger train.

(i) In drums or receptacles of not more than four gallons capacity up to a limit of twelve gallons in one train.

(ii) The drums or receptacles containing the goods must be made of tinned or galvanized sheet iron, steel or lead plate, and they must be packed in strong wooden cases, the thickness of the wood to be not less than half an inch; provided that wood cases shall not be necessary when the drums or receptacles are made of tinned or galvanized sheet iron or steel and have the following thickness of metal:—

	Not less than
(1) When the capacity does not exceed 2 gallons ...	25 B. W. G.
(2) When the capacity exceeds 2 gallons but does not exceed 4 gallons	22 B. W. G.

(iii) The drums or receptacles containing the goods must be fitted with well-made filling holes and well-fitting screw plugs or fitted with screw caps with metal air-tight undercap. They must also be gas-tight and so substantially constructed and secured as not to be liable, except under circumstances of gross negligence or extraordinary accident, to be broken or become defective, leaky or insecure in transit.

(iv) The nature of the contents and also the words "highly inflammable" must be distinctly marked on the drums or receptacles.

(v) A certificate must be handed in by the consignor to the effect that the air space of at least 1-10th of its capacity was left in each drum or receptacle at time of filling.

(vi) Drums or receptacles in a damaged condition must not be accepted.

(vii) The screw plugs or caps of empty drums or receptacles must be securely fastened.

(viii) The drums or receptacles must be carried in the rear brake-van, which should be well ventilated, and they must not be exposed to the sun or be brought into contact with naked lights. They must be placed as far away as possible from the other packages in the brake-van.

II.—By Goods train.

(i) In drums or receptacles of not more than ten gallons capacity.

(ii) The drums or receptacles containing the goods must be made of tinned or galvanized sheet iron, steel or lead plate, and they must be packed in strong wooden cases, the thickness of the wood to be not less than half an inch; provided that wood cases shall not be necessary when the drums or receptacles are made of tinned or galvanized sheet iron or steel and have the following thickness of metal:—

	Not less than
(1) When the capacity does not exceed 2 gallons ...	25 B. W. G.
(2) When the capacity exceeds 2 gallons but does not exceed 4 gallons	22 B. W. G.
(3) When the capacity exceeds 4 gallons... ...	16 B. W. G.

(iii) The drums or receptacles containing the goods must be fitted with well-made filling holes and well-fitting screw plugs or fitted with screw caps with metal air-tight undercap. They must also be gas-tight and so substantially constructed and secured as not to be liable, except under circumstances of gross negligence or extraordinary accident, to be broken or become defective, leaky or insecure in transit.

(iv) The nature of the contents and also the words "highly inflammable" must be distinctly marked on the drums or receptacles.

(v) A certificate must be handed in by the consignor to the effect that an air space of at least 1-10th of its capacity was left in each drum or receptacle at time of filling.

(vi) Drums or receptacles in a damaged condition must not be accepted.

(vii) The screw plugs or caps of empty drums or receptacles must be securely fastened.

(viii) The drums or receptacles may be carried in ordinary iron wagons, provided the wagons are well ventilated. They may, at the option of the Railwas Administration, be loaded in vehicles with other goods of a non-explosive or non-dangerous nature.

(ix) The drums or receptacles containing these goods must not be allowed to stand in the sun.

(x) Lamps or naked lights must not be allowed in, or brought near vehicles loaded with drums or receptacles containing the goods.

(2) The chief danger to be apprehended is from leakage, as the vapour of these goods is heavier than air and is inflammable. The vapour is also explosive when mixed with certain proportions of air in a confined space.

(3) Tanks of motor cars or motor cycles tendered for carriage by railway, must be empty, thoroughly clean and free from vapour before the vehicles are accepted.

VI.—GOODS MARKED G IN RULE 14.

(10) (1) These gases must be packed in cylinders.

(2) Cylinders must be made of wrought iron or mild steel of the best quality, containing not more than 0·25 per cent of carbon thoroughly annealed after manufacture and 99 per cent of iron, of sufficient strength and efficiently tested, and must not exceed 8 feet in length and 10 inches in diameter.

(3) Cylinders must be separately and securely packed in a strong wooden case, or in a covering made of closely plaited 1 inch (circumference) hemp or coir, except that several small cylinders not exceeding 18 inches in length and 4 inches in diameter may be packed in one box, provided each cylinder is contained in a separate compartment or is separately encased in closely plaited 1 inch (circumference) hemp or coir. Each box must not contain more than 25 cylinders and the gross weight of each box and contents must not exceed 3½ maunds.

(4) Cylinders containing Atmospheric Air, Coal Gas, Hydrogen or Oxygen, must not be charged to a greater pressure than 1,800 lbs. per square inch.

(5) No cylinder may contain per pound of water capacity, more than ⅔lb. of Carbon Dioxide (Carbon Acid Gas); ½lb. of Anhydrous Ammonia, ¾ lb. of Nitrous Oxide; or 1¼lbs. of Sulphur Dioxide (Sulphurous Acid Gas), respectively.

(6) Cylinders must be carefully handled, and must not be exposed to the rays of the sun, nor to the heat of a fire, stove or other source of heat.

(7) No consignment of goods marked G shall be accepted for carriage by rail unless the consignor has signed a certificate in the following form :—

FORM OF CERTIFICATE.

Certified that the cylinder or cylinders containing.....tendered by $\frac{\text{me}}{\text{us}}$ as per Forwarding Order No .....of this date to the.....Railway for despatch to.....station $\frac{\text{has}}{\text{have}}$ been packed and tested in accordance, and that the cylinder or cylinders $\frac{\text{complies}}{\text{comply}}$ in every respect, with the rules promulgated under the Railway Board's circular No. R. T. 173, dated the 30th August 1905, to regulate the packing and carriage by railway in India of.....

$\frac{\text{I}}{\text{We}}$ also certify that the consignment complies with the conditions that the cylinder or cylinders must be of wrought iron or mild steel of the best quality, containing not more than 0·25 per centum of carbon thoroughly annealed after manufacture and 99 per centum of iron of sufficient strength and efficiently tested.

,, 7—Firework,

and when an explosive falls within the descriptions of more than one class, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls.

CLASS 1.—GUNPOWDER CLASS.

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—NITRATE-MIXTURE CLASS.

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation, other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate-mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Chilworth special powder,	Ripp-Lene,
Fortis explosive,	Safety blasting powder,

Westfallite,

and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3.—NITRO-COMPOUND CLASS.

The term "nitro-compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties, or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Amberite No. 1,	Dynamite,
Ballistite,	Gelatine Dynamite,
Blasting Gelatine,	Gelignite,
Carbonite,	Lithofracteur,
Cordite,	Nitro-glycerine,

CLASS 4.—CHLORATE-MIXTURE CLASS.

The term "chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder,

and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

* NOTE.—(a) Picric acid mixed with not less than half its own weight of water shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive.

(b) Picric acid which does not fall within the exemption (a) when the quantity does not exceed two thousand pounds in any one ship, boat, carriage, building or place, shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive; provided that such picric acid is so kept and conveyed as not to be liable, whether under the action of fire or otherwise, to come in contact with any substance specified in the schedule hereto, or with any fire or light capable of igniting such picric acid.

Provided also that such picric acid when dry is so packed in a substantial barrel or case that the contents cannot escape; and that no metal other than aluminium, or an alloy containing not less than ninety per centum of aluminium, is used in the construction of any package containing such picric acid, and that each barrel or case is legibly marked "Picric Acid."

Picric acid when not subject to the above exemptions must be packed and marked as laid down in rule 2 of these rules.

Picrates and mixture of picric acid with any other substance (for whatever purpose used or manufactured) shall be deemed to be explosive subject to the following exceptions:—

(a) A picrate mixed with not less than half its own weight of water shall be exempt from being deemed to be an explosive.

(b) Picric acid thoroughly mixed with not less than three times its own weight of—

(i) anhydrous sulphate of soda,

(ii) crystallized sulphate of soda, when packed in hermetically closed packages, or

Reveley's powder,	Teutonite,

Chlorated gun-cotton,

and any chlorate-mixture as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 5.—FULMINATE CLASS.

The term "fulminate" any chemical compound or mechanical mixture whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

The fulminate class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphuret with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

CLASS 6.—AMMUNITION CLASS.

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small-arms, cannon, or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion cap, a detonator, a fog signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war-rocket, or other contrivance other than a firewoork.

The term "percussion cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive classes in such quantity, that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small-arms of which the case can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges. The term also includes rifle-calibre machine-gun cartridges if they are of the above description, whether they are for use with machine-guns having chambers identical with those of rifles or with machine-guns which have special chambers.

Schedule.

Any of the following metals or metallic oxides, namely, lead, oxide of lead, oxide of iron, potash, baryta, lime, soda, oxide of zinc, oxide of copper; and any compound of such metal or oxide (other than a metallic sulphate); or any chlorate, nitrate, or other oxidizing agent; or any other substance declared by a Notification of the Government of India to be capable of forming with picric acid a dangerous compound:

Provided that this schedule shall not be deemed to include any metal, or oxide unavoidably formed on any metal used in the construction of any ship, boat, or carriage, or contained in any paint, where the packages containing picric acid are protected from direct contact with such metal or paint.

The maximum diameter at which a small-arm or machine-gun cartridge can be accepted as "safety" is one inch.

The ammunition class has three divisions:

Division 1 comprises exclusively—

Safety cartridges,
Safety fuzes for blasting,
Railway fog signals,
Percussion caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition, as before defined, which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,
Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,

which do contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition as before defined, which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Detonators,
Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,

which do not contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—FIREWORK CLASS.

The firework class has two divisions:

Division 1 comprises firework compositions, that is to say, any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature, which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any star and any coloured fire composition, subject to the proviso hereinafter set forth.

Division 2 comprises manufactured fireworks, that is to say, any explosive of any of the foregoing classes and firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, toy cap or amorce, serpent rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article specially adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals or sound signals:

Provided that a substantially constructed and hermetically closed metal case, containing not more than 1 lb. of coloured fire composition of such a nature as not to be liable to spontaneous ignition, shall be deemed to be a "manufactured firework."

TRANSPORT.

(A).—PACKING.

2. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the packing of explosives for conveyance:—

(1) Unless the context otherwise requires,—

the expression "outer package" means a box, barrel, case or cylinder, of wood, metal or other solid material, of such strength, construction and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, nor become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape;

the expression "inner package" means a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent any explosive from escaping;

the expression "authorised explosive" means exclusively an explosive included in a List of Authorised Explosives prepared by the Chief Inspector of Explosives with the Government of India, and published annually in the Gazette of India, and in force for the time being;

the expression "propellant" means an authorised explosive of Class 3, adapted and intended exclusively for use as a propelling charge in cannon or small arms; and the expression "special authority" means a written authority granted by the Chief Inspector of Explosives, to which may be attached such conditions as may, in the opinion of the Chief Inspector of Explosives, be necessary to meet the special requirements of the case.

(2) The interior of every package shall be free from grit and otherwise clean.

(3) Save as hereinafter provided, there shall not be any iron or steel in the construction of any package unless the same is covered with suitable material so as effectually to prevent the exposure of such iron or steel.

(4) Every package when actually used for the packing of one explosive shall not be used for the packing of any other explosive or any other article or substance:

Provided that this rule shall not prevent the packing of inner packages containing a propellant in an outer package with inner packages containing gunpowder or another propellant:

Provided also that this rule shall not prevent the packing of any article which is not of an inflammable or explosive nature, or liable to cause fire or explosion, in the same package as an explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) Class.

3. Whoever commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the packing of explosives for conveyance shall be punishable with fine which may extend to Rs. 1,000.*

(B).—MODE OF CONVEYANCE.

4. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives:—

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed from place to place unless packed in the manner provided for in the foregoing rules.

II.—There shall not be conveyed in any carriage or vessel which is being used for the conveyance of an explosive, any explosive of a different class and division, of whatsoever nature, which contains its own means of ignition, unless it is sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

III.—Except in the case of small consignment carried by railway, which may be unloaded at any time, explosives shall be loaded or unloaded only between sunrise and sunset. For the purposes of this rule no consignment of more than half a wagon-load booked to one station shall be deemed to be a small consignment.

IV.—Whilst the explosive is being loaded on or unloaded out of any carriage or vessel, no fire or artificial light, nor any article which is liable to cause or communicate fire or explosion [such as charcoal, lucifer-matches, articles for striking a light, petroleum to which the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), or any other Act for time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies, or any spirit or oil or substance that gives forth an inflammable vapour at a temperature below 100° Fahrenheit] shall be, or shall be allowed to be, brought, had or used dangerously near to such carriage, ship, or boat, and no smoking shall be allowed in, on, or dangerously near to, the same:

Provided that when the use of a light for the purposes of such loading or unloading is unavoidable, a lamp of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger from fire or explosion may be used; and no person, while handling any explosive (except an explosive of division 1, class 6, if packed in accordance with the packing rules), shall wear boots or shoes with iron or steel nails, heels or tips.

*Rules regarding search for, and detention of, explosives contravening regulations, have been issued by the Local Governments.

V.—In the loading or unloading of any explosive, the casks and packages containing the same shall be passed from hand to hand and not rolled upon the ground; they shall not be thrown or dropped down, but shall be carefully deposited and stowed.

VI.—The explosive shall not be conveyed except in the interior of a carriage so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or in the hold of a ship or boat having a close deck so closed, as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without. If the explosive cannot be so secured, it shall be completely covered with painted cloth, tarpaulin, or other suitable material so as to effectually protect it against communication of fire.

VII.—There shall not be any iron or steel in the interior of the portion of the carriage or vessel with which the case containing the explosive is or may come in contact, unless the same is effectually covered with leather, wood, cloth, or other suitable material.

VIII.—In the stowing of the explosive, due precautions shall be taken by means of a partition or otherwise, and by careful stowing to secure such explosive from being brought into contact with, or endangered by, any other article or substance conveyed in such carriage or vessel which is liable to cause fire or explosion; and if the explosive is dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from coming into contact with such explosive.

IX.—The amount of the explosives conveyed in any one carriage or vessel at any one time shall not exceed 2,000 lbs. unless the carriage be so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or the vessel have a close deck so closed, as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without, in which case the amount of the explosives conveyed shall not exceed the following:—

	Tons
In any one carriage on a railway	10
In any one other carriage	2
In any one vessel	20

Note.—This rule shall, in the case of dynamite conveyed by railway, be read subject to paragraph XII of Rule 6.

X.—Nothing in the foregoing rules (except Rule I) shall apply to any explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class:

Provided that all due precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents.

5. * * * *

III. No explosive belonging to class I (gunpowder class), class 2 (nitrate mixture class), class 3 (nitro-compound class), class 4 (chlorate mixture class), or class 5 (fulminate class), shall be carried otherwise than by rail, across any railway bridge over which reasonable facilities for the conveyance thereof by rail are afforded by the railway administration:

Provided that this prohibition shall not apply in respect of quantities of explosives of class 1 (gunpowder class) or class 3 (nitro-compound class) not exceeding 5 lbs. in weight.

6. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives by public railway:—

I.—No person shall send for carriage upon any railway and consignment of an explosive, unless he has given to the officer in charge of the railway station previous notice in writing which, at the option of the Railway Administration, may extend to 48 hours, of his intention to send such consignment, and stating the true name, description, quantity, and mode of packing of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and unless he has had an intimation in writing from an authorised officer of the railway that such consignment will be received.

II.—No explosive which a Railway Administration shall, by any notice or regulation for the time being in force, notify that they will not receive, shall be brought, sent, or forwarded to, or upon any railway of the said Railway Administration.

III.—Consignments of explosives shall be sent to the forwarding station and shall be received by the railway servants only at such times, between the sunrise and sunset, as the Railway Administration may appoint; and every package containing any explosive proposed to be conveyed on any railway shall immediately on arrival at the station be unloaded and placed in a safe place under the special direction of the officer in charge of the station.

All gunpowder under despatch, or receipt by a Government arsenal, depot, or factory, shall be loaded or unloaded in the railway vans by Government servants employed in such arsenal, depot or factory. In each van used by the railway for the transport of gunpowder the packages of gunpowder shall be secured in such a way as to prevent concussion when the train is in motion.

IV. An explosive shall be removed by the consignee from the receiving station during the twelve hours of daylight after arrival: if this condition is not strictly complied with, the Railway Administration may return the consignment to the consignor at his risk and expense. And such packages shall in the meanwhile be kept as far away from the station buildings as possible, in the wagon they were conveyed in, or, if unloaded, shall be completely covered with tarpaulins or other suitable material, and, if necessary, shall be protected by a police guard.

V.—The Railway Administration may refuse to receive any packages which they suspect to contain any explosive packed or sent in contravention of these regulations. And in case any package, which the Railway Administration suspect, shall be upon any railway, the Railway Administration may open, or required to be opened, such package, to ascertain the fact, at the risk and expense of the consignor, and may return the explosive contained in the package to the consignor at his risk and expense, keeping the packages, pending such return, in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule.

VI.—Subject to the exception provided for in clause (e), no explosive shall be conveyed by passenger train except of the kinds and in the manner hereinafter specified in this rule.

(a) Safety cartridges and percussion caps and safety fuze (for blasting), also fog signals for railway use which may be conveyed in ordinary wagons or carriages.

(b) Explosives of 3rd (nitro-compound) class, which may be carried in the form of cartridges up to the limit of 5 lbs.

Provided that no detonators are carried in the same compartment.

(c) Detonators packed according to the proviso to Rule 2 (III) (e) may be carried to the number of 200:

Provided that in no case the amount of fulminate of mercurry in the package or packages containing the detonators exceeds in the aggregate 3 oz. (a certificate to this effect being given by the company, firm, or person tendering the detonators for transport or by its or his agent):

Provided also that no other explosive is carried in the same compartment.

(d) Sporting gunpowder or non-safety cartridges packed in double cases as before provided, so long as the gunpowder is contained in one-pound tin canisters packed in a stout wooden case with an outer covering of tin or zinc completely spark-proof, or in metal-lined cases of a pattern approved by the Railway Administration. But no outer case shall contain more than 25 lbs. of gunpowder, and the total consignment of gunpowder or non-safety cartridges by one train shall not exceed 80 lbs.

(e) Explosives may be carried by mixed trains on any line on which goods trains are not running, subject to the conditions that they are loaded in properly constructed powder vans; that not more than one powder van containing explosives is forwarded at any one time by a mixed train; that there are not less than three vehicles between the powder van and either the engine or the passenger coaches; that the powder van is close coupled to the adjoining vehicles; and that directly a powder van containing explosives arrives at a section on which goods trains are running, it is detached from the mixed train.

VII.—Not more than five carriages containing explosives shall be loaded or unloaded at any railway station, or be conveyed by any one train at any one time; and the quantity of explosive to be contained in any one carriage shall not exceed two-thirds of the normal load, unless the carriages shall be specially built and approved of by the Government of India for the conveyance of explosives. But nothing in this clause shall be held to apply to separate consignments of safety cartridges for small-arms.

VIII.—There shall not be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive any lucifer or other matches, fuzes, pipelights, acids, naphtha, paraf-fine, petroleum to which the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), or any other Act for the time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies, or any other volatile spirit substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or communicate fire or explosion.

IX.—The consignor shall attach to the consignment note a certificate or (provided the original is produced for verification) copy of a certificate, signed by an officer authorised by the Local Government in this behalf, that the explosive, if it is an explosive of class 3 or 4, is of the standard purity; and further in the case of dynamite, and all nitro-glycerine compounds, that there are no signs of exuded nitro-glycerine or of liquefaction. The consignor shall also certify that the explosive has been packed in accordance with the packing rules in force in England or in British India.

X.—In the case of explosives under clauses 3 and 4 the outer packages shall be marked with the date of the manufacture of the explosives. The above-mentioned certificate shall contain sufficient information to admit of all packages being easily recognized.

XI.—The certificate referred to in Rule IX shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made between the 15th October and 31st March, but any Railway Administration which accepts dynamite and other nitro-glycerine compounds for transport may demand a fresh certificate for these explosives if presented for conveyance between 1st April and 15th October (both inclusive).

XII.—Packages containing dynamite and other blasting explosives of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class, or explosives of the 4th (chlorate-mixture), 5th (fulminate) classes or of the first division of the 7th (firework) class shall be stowed in one layer only and secured so as to prevent movement during transit, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 3 tons.

Provided that, if the packages of explosive are in rectangular form and are properly secured so as to prevent movement during transit, they may be stowed in any number of layers not exceeding five, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 5 tons.

XIII.—No explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class, or of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 7th (firework) class shall be carried in the same train with any explosive not of the class and division to which it belongs, unless it be sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

XIV.—Wagons used for the carriage of explosive shall be examined to see that they are sparkproof, and have been cleaned out before they are loaded. Hair, cloth, hides, or other suitable materials shall be spread on the floor of the wagon and between each layer of packages, except when the packages are covered with gunny or felt, or contain safety cartridges for small-arms packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes.

XV.—Wagons containing explosives shall be loaded and unloaded on sidings distant as far as possible from the station buildings.

XVI.—Packages containing explosives other than those referred to in Rule 6 (XII) shall not be stowed in more than three layers one above the other. But if the packages are in rectangular form and of uniform size (provided they are double packages, and are so secured as to prevent movement during transit) they may be packed in five layers one above the other. But in the case of safety cartridges for small-arms packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes, there is no restriction. Subject to the provisions of Rule 4 (III), the loading and unloading of explosives when once begun shall be diligently proceeded with until the same is completed.

XVII.—When the train is being marshalled wagons loaded with explosives may be shunted by a locomotive, if they are separated from the engine by not less than three wagons containing no explosive nor easily inflammable substance. This precaution is not necessary with wagons specially constructed for the carriage of explosives. Postage is not charged for places within the Mysore Province. All subscriptions and advertisement charges are payable in advance.

No. 2.—It is hereby notified that, as Government Treasuries in Mysore are authorized to receive and credit Gazette subscriptions as well as publication charges remitted by Courts, and other private parties, all such moneys should be sent to Treasuries and only Treasury receipts forwarded to this office. No money orders will be received by the undersigned except from outside the Province.

No. 3.—Much inconvenience is caused in this office by subscribers not giving their full and correct addresses, and writing illegibly on the money order coupons, which are unfit for record.

No. 4.—Communications on post-cards or on paper less than half a sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention.

No. 5.—An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatching of Gazette copies forwarded through post. No responsibility will be accepted when copies miscarry, or are not delivered to addressees, and such losses will not be replaced by duplicate copies.

No. 6.—Complaints regarding non-receipts of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

No. 7.—Copy is sometimes sent to the Press late on Wednesday evening for publication in the next day's Gazette. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. It is therefore notified that all matter intended for publication in Parts II, III and IV should reach this office not later than Tuesday evening, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

No. 8.—It is requested that Departments will refrain from sending to the Press any matter for publication as extremely urgent, later than 12 noon on Tuesdays, when such matter can without inconvenience be held over for the next week's Gazette.

No. 9.—Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting, causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. It is therefore requested that, when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

Statement of Objects and Reasons.

Under clause (1), (b) of Section 40 of the Mysore Stamp Regulation, II of 1900, the penalty which the Deputy Commissioner shall demand for unstamped or insufficiently stamped documents is "five rupees, or, if he thinks fit, ten times the amount of the proper duty or of the deficient portion thereof." This gives no discretion to the Deputy Commissioner to levy a penalty of less than ten times the amount of the proper duty or of the deficiency, where such amount is in excess of five rupees. To take an example, in the case of an unstamped document which should have been written on a ten rupees stamp paper, the Deputy Commissioner must levy a penalty of either Rs. 5 or Rs. 100; that is to say, if the Deputy Commissioner considers a penalty of Rs. 5 to be insufficient in the circumstances of the case, he has no option but to levy a penalty of Rs. 100, and cannot demand any smaller sum. The hardship caused by this was brought to notice at the last meeting of the Representative Assembly (General Subject No. 24). It is proposed to remedy this by inserting the words "an amount not exceeding" before the words "ten times the amount" in the said sub-section, vide clause 7 of the Draft Regulation. It may be remarked that this amendment has already been made by Act XV of 1904 in the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, on which the Mysore Stamp Regulation is based.

2. The opportunity is also taken to introduce certain other amendments which have been made in the British Indian Act, by Acts XV of 1904 and V of 1906, so as to bring the Mysore Stamp Law into conformity with the Stamp Law of British India. Some of the amendments, e.g., those relating to fire insurance and sea-insurance may not be of much consequence as far as Mysore is concerned; but since Regulation, II of 1900, does contain certain provisions in respect of such matters, it is considered desirable to include in the Draft Regulation the amendments relating to these provisions also. The more important of the amendments are explained below.

3. Clauses 1(a) and 3.—Clause 1(a) defines the expression "marketable security." This definition is necessary in connection with the new Section 23 A—vide clause 3—by which it is proposed to levy a fixed fee of eight annas only instead of the fees prescribed in Article 6 of Schedule I, when the security deposited by way of equitable mortgage is marketable.

4. Clause 1 (c) suggests an addition to the definition of "Settlement" with the object of preventing the evasion of stamp duty imposed on settlements which it is now possible to effect by the simple expedient of first making an oral disposition of the property to be settled and then recording the terms of the disposition in a declaration of trust in which the settler and the trustees join. Such an instrument is only chargeable with a stamp duty of Rs. 15 under Article 62 instead of with the heavier duty imposed by Article 56. The proposed addition to the definition will have the effect of requiring such instruments in future to be stamped as settlements.

5. Clauses 4 and 9.—Under Section 26 of the Regulation where the value of the subject matter of an instrument is unknown or indeterminate, the contracting parties may use their discretion as to the value of the stamp to be affixed to the instrument but no sum can be recovered under it in excess of the amount covered by the duty actually paid. An exception is, however, made in the case of mining leases in which a royalty or share of the produce is reserved as rent. The value of the share or royalty is necessarily indeterminate in the majority of such cases, and it is, therefore, provided that, if the lease be stamped on an assumed valuation of Rs. 20,000 a year, the sum actually due under the lease may be recovered, whatever the amount may be. This provision is considered unsuitable in the case of mining leases granted by the Government; for the natural tendency of Revenue Officers is to safeguard the interests of the Government by valuing the royalty at the figure just referred to in every case. The stamp-duty, ordinarily payable on this valuation, is Rs. 200; and this constitutes a heavy burden in the case of small and unproductive mines. It is proposed, therefore, by clause 4 of the Draft Regulation, to expand the section so as to provide that, where a mining lease is granted by the Government, the Deputy Commissioner may estimate the amount of royalty which he considers likely to be payable, and it will be sufficient if the lease is stamped in accordance with his estimate. Clause 9 provides for the revision of the Deputy Commissioner's decision in such cases by the Chief Controlling Revenue authority.

6. Clauses 5 (b), 6 and 10 (7).—This is a group of clauses relating to the duty on fire and marine insurance policies. The present rates for fire insurance policies prescribed by Article 45 (B) of Schedule I are considered unequal and unduly high. It is accordingly proposed in clause 10 (7) of the Draft Regulation to substitute, for the present rates which vary according to the amount or the period of the policy, a uniform duty of eight annas in respect of every fire insurance policy, when the sum insured is less than Rs. 5,000, of Re. 1 in other cases, and half these duties (in addition to the usual stamp duty of one anna for receipts given) on every payment of premium or consideration for any renewal of a contract of fire insurance. (Clause 6). Under this arrangement the liability to stamp the policies and receipts is imposed upon the companies which issue them [Clause 5 (b)]. Clause 10 (7) legalises an existing but unauthorised practice of dividing the stamp duty payable on marine insurance policies between copies drawn in duplicate.

7. Clause 8 admits private banking firms to the benefit allowed by Section 51 of the Regulation in regard to the refund of the value of unused stamp papers.

8. Clause 10 (1).—In Article 6 of Schedule I, the term "Equitable mortgage" is not clear enough to comprehend all the transactions intended to be denoted by it. There appears to be some doubt as to whether pawns and pledges come under the article. Other defects and anomalies noticed in the same connection are (a) want of provision therein for the case where an equitable mortgage is executed to secure the repayment of a loan after more than one year, or (b) for the case where the advance secured is repayable on demand. It is proposed, in clause 10 (1), to amplify the article so as to define more clearly the nature of the transaction intended to be covered. Pawns and pledges are specifically mentioned and the reference to 'hypothecation' has been omitted; thus all transactions of the nature of hypothecation—i.e., where movable property is simply appropriated by way of security for the discharge of a debt or engagement without parting with its possession—are outside the scope of the article. It is proposed to impose the same duty on a document securing repayment after more than one year as that on a document securing repayment within one year; and documents securing repayment on demand are to be liable to the same duty as that on documents securing repayment after more than three months. Finally it is proposed to place all documents whether their execution is or is not simultaneous with the advances secured by them, on the same footing.

9. Clause 10 (5).—Stamp duties on certain mortgages of crops are reduced from four annas to two annas as well as the duty on mortgages of crops when the loan is repayble in more than twelve but not more than eighteen months.

10. The other amendments are purely consequential and require no explanation.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

CIRCULAR MEMORANDUM.

No. 3498-3506, dated 12—14*th September* 1907.

In accordance with the directions contained in para 2 of Government Proceedings No. Fl. 8288-97—L R. 21-06-5, dated 3rd May 1907, the Revenue Commissioner issues the following instructions :—

1. In order to secure uniformity of practice in the sorting and arrangement of records of all the District and Taluk Offices, the Deputy Commissioners are requested to permit the Inspector of Sorting Records to summon all the taluk record-keepers or other officials employed in the sorting of taluk records as well as Taluk Sheristadars, as far as possible, to the District head-quarters and to explain to them the rules and the method of sorting the records. The officials so summoned will also be made to undertake the sorting of a bundle or two of the records in the head-quarter Taluk Office under his immediate supervision, to see whether they have rightly understood the principles. The officials concerned need not be away from their taluk for more than a week.

2. As the sorting and arrangement of records is very important and to a certain extent difficult and as the work both in the district and the taluks is likely to be heavy till all the old records are sorted and destroyed, it is very necessary that especially the present batch of officials should be intelligent and capable. It will therefore be the duty of the Inspector to test the competency of these officials and report to the Deputy Commissioner the names of incompetent and ineligible men, so that they may be replaced without delay.

3. Before the Inspector leaves a district, he will submit through the Deputy Commissioner a report of the work done by him at each head-quarters of the district, together with a statement containing the names of the Taluk Sheristadars, record-keepers, etc., who attended to receive his instructions, with remarks as to their qualifications for the work, and will also offer any remarks or suggestions which he may wish to make for the consideration of the Revenue Commissioner.

4. The Inspector will prepare a programme of his visit to the different districts for this purpose, and after approval by the Revenue Commissioner, intimate the same to the Deputy Commissioners of Districts in order that timely notice might be given for the attendance of the required officials at the District Kasaba. This preliminary instruction and training of the record-keepers in all the districts by the Inspector is expected to be completed in the course of about two months.

5. The record-keepers and their assistants should each keep a diary in the appended form according to the instructions given therein. The District Sheristadar, Amildar and Taluk Sheristadar should see that they are correctly maintained and forward a monthly extract of the same direct to the Inspector, who will return the same with his remarks through the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Division Officer.

6. It is to be distinctly understood that the Taluk and District Sheristadars will be held primarily responsible for the proper supervision of the sorting work in the Taluk and District Offices respectively. The record-keepers should be made to submit in the form of a memo any difficulties or doubts which they may come across in sorting records and place it before their Sheristadars, who will note down their instructions thereon or refer the same to the Inspector for his instructions. These memos should be placed before the Inspector at the time of his next inspection for reference.

7. After the close of the preliminary instruction, the Inspector should begin the regular inspection of the records of every District, Sub-Division and Taluk Office and see whether the sorting work has been performed in accordance with the rules and instructions given from time to time and a fair and reasonable progress has been made in the work, and report the result of his inspections to the Revenue Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioners.

Diary of head record-keeper, assistant record-keeper or daftarband of the District or Taluk record-keeper or daftarband of District for the month of 190 .

						Here enter any new daftars or files received into the record room for being preserved.

N. B.—(1) Every record-keeper, Assistant record-keeper and daftarband should maintain a book in the above form, enter therein the work done by him each day till the end of the month and then prepare an abstract of the same and submit it before the 5th of the month following to the Inspector through the Taluk Amildar or Sheristadar. The original should be maintained in the office for inspection.

(2) The District and Taluk Sheristadars should verify every week and certify in the diary that the work as detailed has been done and the same has been duly checked and found correct.

(3) The Treasury Assistant Commissioner and Amildar should also inspect the work done and sign the diary together with their remarks. These remarks should be extracted and sent to the Inspector with the monthly abstracts.

(4) Only figures are to be entered in columns 1, 2, 3 and 4. In columns 5 and 6, in stating the nature of the work done, no elaborate details need be given. It is enough to enter that so many files or village or survey accounts of such and such year falling under A or B group with sub-heads the writing up of the diary should not occupy more than ten minutes a day.

(5) The above form should be adopted from the month of October 1907.

The following Circular in the matter of forming village roads, approved by Government in their Proceedings No. 64-72—L. B. 180-06-5, dated 3rd July 1907, is issued for the information and guidance of officers concerned :—

Circular No. 3543-50, dated 15—17*th September* 1907.

The attention of Deputy Commissioners of Districts is invited to this office Circular No. 6815-22, dated 22nd March 1905, requesting them to devote a para in their Annual Administration Reports to the number of village roads opened every year.

2. The information supplied under this head by the Deputy Commissioners is yet very meagre; and in the year 1904-05, the Deputy Commissioners of Bangalore, Tumkur, Mysore, Hassan and Kadur, and in the year 1905-06, the Deputy Commissioners of Bangalore, Hassan, Shimoga, Kadur and Chitaldrug did not supply the necessary information.

3. Constant complaints are being made by the members of the Representative Assembly, of the inconvenience caused to the people by the difficulty of communication between villages in rainy and cultivation season, and the Revenue Commissioner thinks that a great deal of work can be done every year, if only the local officers interest themselves personally in the matter and persuade the more well-to-do among the raiyat population to act in concert and to annually open a few roads and maintain them in good order. The success achieved will mostly depend on the sympathy and readiness to help which Amildars and Assistant Commissioners show whenever they see signs of a spirit for self-help and co-operation on the part of village population in matters of communal benefit.

4. As a first step in this direction, it is very necessary that the Amildars and the Deputy Amildars should be instructed to open a register in the accompanying form of roads and tunnels required. The register should be revised and added to from time to time and information should be given in the Jamabandi reports of each taluk, of the number of roads required for each taluk, the number and mileage of roads repaired and newly constructed, the number of tunnels required, the amount contributed by the District Boards and the interest taken in the work by the Amildar.

5. The Deputy Commissioners of Districts are also requested to devote their personal attention to the matter and examine the said registers during their tours and give full information of results achieved in their annual Administration Reports from the year 1907-08.

Form of Register of village roads to be kept in taluks, annual abstract of the same being sent to the Deputy Commissioner's office on 1st August of every year :—

1. Names of hobli and hobli shekdar.
2. Names of village and village patel.

4. Length of roads thus repaired and probable cost.
5. Description of new roads urgently needed.
6. Length of such roads and probable cost.
7. Description of roads newly constructed during the year.

11. Amount actually spent during the year for the construction of tunnels.
12. Remarks. (Here mention the names of officials and non-officials who took an interest in the work and achieved good results.)

Form of statement to be sent to the Revenue Commissioner with the Administration Report :—

2. Total length of village roads repaired during the year and estimated cost.
3. Number of villages in which the roads were repaired.
